Editor RECORD AND GUIDE:

The lien filed on Nov. 23d against me on building No. 529 5d avenue by Th. Spellman for the amount of $105 will be bonded to-day, and the same was very unjust, as he is not entitled to any money because he did not finish his work and I had to give the work out to another party.

REVIEW AND RECORD.

BROOKLYN, DECEMBER 1, 1894.

Notes Gathered Here and There.

Notice is given that the assessment for the cost and expense of constructing a sewer in map I, District No. 21, Monitor street, between Meeker avenue and Herbert street, has been completed by the Commissioner of City Works. The Commissioner will be in his office on the 11th day of December, at 11 A. M., to hear objections to said assessment.

Notice is given that the assessment for the cost and expense of constructing a sewer in map N, District No. 29, 49th street, between 5th and 6th avenues, has been completed by the Commissioner of City Works. The Commissioner will be in his office on the 10th day of December, at 11 A. M., to hear objections to said assessment.

Notice is given that the Common Council has declared, by resolution, its intention to repave McDonough street, now paved with cobblestone, between Reid and Patchen avenues, with asphalt. Objections must be filed with the Clerk of the Common Council on or before the 21st day of December.

The Common Council have passed a resolution changing the name of Waverly avenue, from Flabush avenue to East 19th street, in the 29th Ward, to Regent place.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen held on Monday, the question of extending the fire limits in the Twenty-fifth Ward, from the north side of Halsey street to the south side of Marion street, and from Patchen avenue to Broadway, was referred to the Fire Committee. The Committee on Grading and Paving reported favorably on paving Hart street, from Wyckoff to St. Nicholas avenue, at a cost of $4,200; Walton street, from Broadway to Wallabout street, to cost $13,000; and Madison street, from Lewis to Snuyvesant avenue, with asphalt; cost, $8,000. There was referred to the Committee on Grading and Paving a resolution of Alderman Clark to pave Snediker avenue, from Liberty to Dumont avenue, to cost $29,500.

A petition is being signed and will be presented to the Mayor and Commissioner of City Works protesting against the condition of Greene avenue, between Tompkins and Throop avenues. The petitioners state that the street and sidewalks are in such a condition, made so by the sewer contractors, as to make traffic nearly impossible, and that the safety to pedestrians is endangered. Bricks, they say, are piled up nine feet high on the sidewalks, excluding light and air from basements.

The Navy Yard authorities have received semi-official information that over half a million dollars is to be spent during the coming year in improvements. A new concrete quay wall 460 feet long is to be built at the foot of the main street. Whitney basin will also have 316 feet of cement wall. The new causeway, from the Cob dock to the north-eastern exit of the reservation, across the Wallabout channel, is to be 522 feet long and to be completed by November 1st, 1895. The top of the causeway is to be 41 feet wide, half to be devoted to a driveway. The walls will measure 1,045 lineal feet. Civil Engineer Asserson will probably be in charge of the work.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—It appears to be a steadily progressive market for Common Bricks, and another fractional gain in value has been made since our last report, with apparently much general strength prevailing. Up to $5.25 has been reached as a quotable basis, and it is now a pretty difficult matter to find anything in the way of Hudson River stock below $5, and everything selling about as quickly as it comes to hand, some receivers claiming that the market altogether is in better shape than it has been for two years. Low temperature and the Thanksgiving holiday have proven influences to somewhat curtail the actual consumption for the time being, but the market is to a large extent independent of that because demand is so largely from dealers who are accumulating stocks now as rapidly as possible, and those who have no sheds or storage facilities of similar character are piling stock up on pier with considerable freedom. A few large loads are tied up and covered, but it looks now as though that plan of carrying would not be adopted with any great freedom this season, as manufacturers do not consider it profitable and prefer to sell out now and take their barges home for winter quarters. Shipments from sources of supply will no doubt continue until the river freezes, but naturally in reduced quantity and irregular form, as a great many manufacturers have expressed a determination to forward only just so much stock as may be necessary to meet their obligations and, figuratively speaking, shut up shop, until spring when much better prices are calculated upon. Some demand for pales reported, but only really choice quality wanted.

GLASS.—The market for cylinder glass is still somewhat unsettled, and so far as the actual consumer is concerned little actual addition to demand takes place. Jobbers and other large dealers are, however, credited with display of much greater interest, and there is report that at the factories orders are now being booked with a freedom that is very gratifying, considering the season and general condition of trade, and the rates obtained were somewhat better than heretofore. Local prices remain steady, and the same tone will apply to imported stock, which is kept well in hand. There is, however, said to be occasional rate current when it becomes necessary to compete with Boston importers. Plate glass is held steadily in accord with the understanding at recent meeting of dealers and has fair average demand.

HARDWARE.—In common with most lines of manufactured goods the tone is slow for hardware at the moment, and not much improvement expected during the balance of the year. From salesmen who have been traveling, however, the impression is obtained that in the country as well as here the supply and assortment held by small dealers is light and poor, and especially with that apply to builders' specialties. That condition taken in conjunction with the prevailing idea of a building boom in the spring gives promise of good trade to come, and should metals happen to improve at the same time the market must be greatly stimulated. There seems little chance of getting rates below the level of late prevailing.

LATH.—It has been a small market because of the scant arrivals, but all the evidences go to show that with a very much larger offering demand would have been equal to the occasion and receivers are confident they could have established a still higher plane of value. The $2 rate was fixed easy enough upon the very first opportunity for tendering a supply and upon a large cargo at that, but now receivers commence to talk about getting 25¢ 50¢ more. There certainly appears to be a few eager buyers who wish they had not postponed investments until the eleventh hour.

LIME.—The market does not appear to get out of its difficulties, and the same old unsettled and slightly perplexing conditions are reported again this week. Same demand prevailed, a portion of it known to have been attracted by recent modification of cost, but the increased attention from buyers was probably fully offset, if not exceeded, by the arrivals, and with old accumulation still unsold there was an excess of supply over outlet that gave buyers a natural advantage. As a rule, however, the valuations are made at about 80¢, net cash or 85¢, less 5 per cent for common, and 85¢, net or 90¢, less 5 per cent on finishing. The present production of lime is very slow.

LUMBER.—Business in the way of distribution is of routine character and embraces nothing that can be called very important in the way of new deals, while even the deliveries on old contracts are likely, from this time forward, to show a falling off until the end of the year. A great many dealers, however, retain the hopeful feeling to which we have before referred, and the impression seems to be quite general that as incoming season opens up it will bring with it a development of trade in much healthier and more satisfactory shape than lumber dealers have for a long while experienced. The recovery of business must also start from a low level of cost, and no doubt have the effect to strengthen values all along the line.

Considerable stuff has been arriving of late from interior points in particular, having been urged along in anticipation of the closing of the State Canals, and is now in course of piling away. It is claimed that the stock carried into winter at this point is less than usual, but some of the yards show the bulk of storage room occupied, and apparently with a well assorted accumulation. Especially is that the case at situations contiguous to or within the suburban districts, where the most hopeful evidences of coming consumption for building purposes are shown, and will, in all probability, be further stimulated should the scheme for rapid transit assume more pronounced form.

The deal in wholesale lots in first hands grows steadily smaller. A great many of the traveling salesmen have disappeared this week, some because of desire to be at home for Thanksgiving holiday, but more directly under the influence of palpable lessening of demand, and for a while the resident agents will meet most of the calls made. These are likely to be for such supplies as can be brought in coastwise, or for car lots to meet unexpected wants of dealers, etc., who have not rounded up a full assortment this fall. The general export trade is a trifle slow and disappointing although considerable stuff is still going forward on old deals, namely to West Indies and Brazil.

Spence meets with very fair demand and reports upon character of market retains much the same cheerful tone, to which reference has before been made. Receivers think they could have disposed of a considerable larger quantity of random stock of desirable assortment had it been available, as a number of both local and out-of-town dealers manifested a desire to negotiate, and there were some specials presented for negotiation. The production, however, has now fallen to about the capacity of such steam mill, as run during the winter, manufacturers are indifferent about entering upon contracts and with a scarcity and higher cost for freight room, the value line stand up excellently. State and West Virginia product is well sustained in price and selling very well.

At the close we hear of quite a sharp demand for Eastern cut stock, and random has sold at $16 for 9, 10 and 12-inch, and narrower at $15, with buyers not all satisfied at that.

Hemlock in some instances is spoken of as though neglected, in others a very good average trade noted, and some buyers were a little anxious to get their supplies forward and piled before extreme cold weather, snow and ice put in an appearance. They have handled hemlock under such conditions and do not care to repeat the experience if it can be avoided. Prices are supported and tend to strengthen if anything, especially on assortments suited to this market.

Carolina pine is now reported as quite steady. It has found a fair general run of trade for some little time past, the manufacturing end of the market seems to have braced up a trifle, but with offerings under better control there is less cutting on price and special strength claimed for roofing on account of scarcity.

White pine has been coming in to quite a fair extent from purchases made and ordered forward before the close of navigation, and there is some further dealing in car lots of a sort of special character. The offerings are not particularly plentiful, as holders of really standard stuff feel little anxiety about placing it, and there seems to be less of the thin cut western urged for sale. Late advice from primal sources also carry an idea that there will be no unusual accumulation carried over this winter and with prospects for a good spring trade in the country, the feeling at primal markets is altogether pretty firm.

Yellow pine, without making any great showing of improvement at the moment, is most certainly looked upon in more or less hopeful light by a great many of the trade. They argue that the supplies and assortments in hands of consumers and dealers have been working steady into smaller body for the year past, that the chances for a renewal of consumption are particularly favorable for the class of wood, especially for assortments suited to warehouses, dock building and the car manufacturing trade, and that from present low value level there is bound to be a recovery. There is also a great deal of faith in the efficiency of the movement among manufacturers to control primal markets and put an end to suicidal competition.

Hardwoods do not present any particularly new point of special interest. There is some trading in car lots doing all the while, but business fluctuates from one seller to another just as their respective line of custom may happen to want stock. Except for such lines of stock as have become fancy through scarcity, the offerings are fair and as a rule available at former rates, with rather a tendency to stiffen somewhat, especially so where transportation charges have gone up. Some of the local accumulations are comparatively moderate because of the hand to mouth policy buyers have pursued in making investments, but on the other hand many houses have been picking up cheap lots all the season and have brought to gether a good general assortment.

Despatches received at the close state that twenty boat loads of lumber from Buffalo were caught by ice on the Erie Canal with poor chance of getting through to tidewater.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

STATE.

The Albany Argus reports as follows:

This is the last week for the receipt of lumber by canal, and some of the boats now on the way may not get through to tidewater. With the closing of the canal many of the firms will remove to winter offices down town, though there will be continued shipping from the district so long as the weather remains favorable. Trade conditions during the week favored more of a quiet order, though one or two concerns made big sales. Prices for white pine show no actual changes, though there is a feeling that better rates are almost certain to prevail in the spring, particularly for medium grades of sound common, which are getting scarce. The big demand for spruce has continued and stock is almost entirely out of market. Those dealers who have any on hand hold it at outside figures. The lightest stock in a good many years will be wintered.

THE WEST.

The Northwestern Lumberman as follows:

Mit operators and merchandisers of product are about ready to underscore the year's business. That it has been unsatisfactory is acknowledged. They cannot expect to change the general result before January 1st, though some modification for the better may be realized. What they now have to do is, if possible, to check the further slaughter of values, and hold what lumber they have on hand for prices that will yield more profit. The supply is not excessive in view of prospective demand. Money conditions are easy so that few financially sound concerns are obliged to sacrifice their stock in order to meet maturing obligations. Judging other market centres by Chicago, it can be safely said that holders of lumber, who have borrowed money at the banks, can keep it in order to carry their lumber if they so choose. It seems like folly, under such circumstances, to rush lumber into distribution at prices which yield no profit, when by holding on a couple of months the supply can be worked off in an active trade at advanced prices.

The fear is expressed among the white pine operators of the Northwest that the present low range of prices will be carried far into next year, and that as a consequence the remainder of this year's product will be dissipated in the winter and spring trade at little profit, if not positive loss. This should not be. Conditions do not justify it. The manufacturers who have sold a large portion of this season's output will, of course, profit little by a rising market until they begin to make contracts for the cut of next year. But many have considerable lumber on hand and unsold, which will be favorably affected by a winter rise in value.

At Chicago, a few cargoes have dropped in during the week, after struggling with head winds. One tow has been working down slowly from Lake Superior, and probably arrived late in the week. Several steam barges are out for loads. Few sailing vessels out have stripped and laid up for the winter. Some of the steam barges will continue to run to points on the east shore of the lake, while the weather will permit, as there are several millions of feet of lumber at Manistee, Luddington and possibly other points, that dealers desire to get forward before the close of navigation. The active season is practically closed, and the remainder will be devoted to getting in belated lumber.

THE week closes in the Stock Market with very heavy purchases for the short account, and inasmuch as the bear dreads favorable news as much as the bull dreads unfavorable news, these purchases are some indication of a condition of affairs which should be pleasant to commercial interests as a whole. The mere intimation that a bill to permit pooling among the railroads might be passed has caused a good deal of covering in railroad stocks and the somewhat better advices of the condition of trade which have appeared this week have given an impetus to the industrials and other classes of securities to advance. There is, too, a considerable and general buying movement in bonds in anticipation of the demand which should arise at the opening of next year because of the January disbursements. It is argued also, though perhaps with more confidence than the circumstances justify, that the new year will see the Government relieved of its embarrassments so far as the deficiency of revenue to meet requirements is concerned and, further, that the prospects for currency legislation are better than was anticipated when Congress met on Monday last. Reliable information from the Western and Middle States is to the effect that in the former business is much improved, and in the latter that it is very good for the time of year. So far as speculation is concerned, as that will be dominated by news from Congress, fluctuations in prices are likely to be sharp and of considerable extent.

THE efflux of gold from the Bank of England has had the effect of hardening discount rates, which, while still low as compared with normal rates, are more indicative of returning business activity than for some time. The company which has been formed to take over the remaining Baring assets has issued $5,000,000 4 per cent first debentures and $2,500,000 5 per cent second debentures, the proceeds of which are to be used in paying off the unpaid advances of the Bank of England to take up the remaining assets, which have a market value of $8,500,000. In addition, the Baring connections provide a guarantee fund of $2,500,000. This, with the private estates of the members of the firm, which were turned over at the time of the failure, and which are said to be worth another $2,500,000, makes a total of assets with an estimated face value of nearly double the preference shares. This no doubt amply secures these shares, and it may be taken that this unfortunate liquidation is at last placed where it can do no further mischief. As the assets are mainly South American securities, these have improved as a result of the confidence shown in them by the new company. The results of operating the English railroads for the second half of the year, so far as now ascertained, do not warrant the expectation of a general advance from present low dividend rates. The inflated condition of the Paris and Vienna markets is causing hesitation in other speculative centres. So far, the suspected markets have held their own, but as everyone knows that is not enough. If prices cannot advance they must inevitably fall, and there is no reason whatever why French and Austrian and Hungarian securities should follow the first course, and very good reasons to justify their taking the second. Advices from Vienna, it is true, indicate that measures have been successfully taken to prevent a crash, but with that fact established it would prove that a period of liquidation has begun, in which, of course, prices cannot fail to suffer. The conversion of the Indian 4 per cent rupee loan has been a great success. The government cotton report for the season of 1894 shows a decline in the area sown, and fair to satisfactory prospects for the crop throughout the peninsula. Deposits in the savings banks of France for the current year are expected to exceed withdrawals by $10,000,000, as against an opposite result of about $1,000,000 in 1893, showing that the confidence of depositors in these banks has completely returned. Net imports of gold into France for the first ten months of the year amounted to $12,000,000. From Germany reports come that business in the Rhenish-Wesphalian iron and steel districts is shrinking so that shutting down has begun and may go farther. The only line of the iron trade in which business continues in any way satisfactory is in the making of construction iron. The Rhenish silk trade is improving somewhat.

MR. CLEVELAND intimates that a bond issue will be resorted to by the Treasury whenever it is necessary "to maintain a sufficient gold reserve, and in abundant time to save the country and make good the financial declarations of our government." The events of the week seem to show that the declaration has had a very favorable influence upon business and upon the markets of the country, and has not fallen as flat as many other similar declarations from the same source, because business men hope Mr. Cleveland is now talking from the card. If, however, the Treasury is obliged to come into the market for gold at frequent intervals, it will be at an increasing cost. The way in which the syndicate that took the last issue of bonds was made up shows how difficult it is becoming to reach the gold in private hands in the country. The example set by the subscribers to the syndicate and the reward they have obtained for their foresight in providing themselves with gold is not likely to be lost on the rest of the community. The banks are exercising great care in the kind of money they pay out, keeping silver issues as much as possible in the hands of the public and retaining others in their own. In the fiscal year of 1893 this country exported $50,000,000, net, gold in excess of what it produced, and while for the fiscal year of 1891 the net exports were not more than ten or twelve per cent of the estimated production, they were much more than was warranted by the seen conditions of our foreign trade: on any sign of probable currency disturbance here gold would go out rapidly. Our Government, which a few years ago renewed maturing bonds at two per cent, sold the $50,000,000 issued last February at 117.223 for about $40,750,000, and at higher figures for the balance. Again last month it sold the whole issue at 117.077. If Congress fails to afford relief to the situation and the Government has to come again into the market, it will be more than ever on the buyers' terms. The possession of the gold in hand secured the last issue to the Stewart syndicate; on future occasions it will be more than ever necessary for the Secretary of the Treasury to deal only with those who will not draw on his department for the proper kind of currency to pay for the bonds. It is easy, therefore, to see whither we may drift and the duty that lies upon Congress to at once throw out the life-lines.

OF all the many decisions made in the courts in the last year on labor questions, that of Judge [Dallas, in the United States Circuit Court, at Philadelphia, is likely to be most acceptable to the community. It in a sense completes the rule laid down by Justice Harlan last summer, upholding the right of the workman to leave his employment at the moment of his own pleasure when not affected by contract obligation. Judge Dallas applies the same rule to the other side by holding that the employer, similarly unaffected, cannot be compelled to employ or retain in his employment any person whom he considers unfit from any cause for such employment. The case in which this decision was rendered was affected by circumstances which but for the good sense and independence of the court might have ended in the temporary establishment of a rule bearing unjustly on employers instead of the one that is so obviously the just and fair one, that of equal liberty to both parties. The case was brought by several of the Reading employees against the receivers of the property to prevent the dismissal of the complainants because they were members of a union, in defiance of a rule of the Reading service. In addition, one of the officials of the union in question and not a Reading employe at all became a petitioner. The Attorney General thought it not indelicate to tender the court his advice, and some attempt was made to set up the claim that the times permitted the discussion in court of socialistic problems. But the court was indifferent to these influences, remarking that its functions were limited to administering the will of the Legislature as embodied in the law. The union official was ruled out of court as having no standing in the case, and the petition of the Reading employees was dismissed. Even the petitioners are to be congratulated upon this outcome because what they sought—the invalidation of contracts requiring that employes should not be members of any trade union—as an infringement of the employer's powers and discretion could not have been maintained for any length of time and in the interval would have been productive of endless mischief.

WHENEVER the dividend on a railroad stock is passed or reduced, discussion is renewed upon the nature of the surplus which the companies as a rule carry in their accounts. To the constantly renewed multitude of unsophisticates it is, not unnaturally, a matter of surprise that this surplus cannot be drawn upon to meet deficiencies in dividend requirements in hard times such as these. They never seem to be able to learn what has been demonstrated so many times, that a railroad company's surplus is a provision for rainy days which is not available in time of need. The wisdom of providence is so evident that people, even those who never practice it in their own affairs, are apt to take it for granted that it is generally observed and especially and not unnaturally when any kind of arithmetical evidence such as can always be found in corporate reports is presented to them. It has been proved over and over again, however, that the moneys given as the surplus in those reports do not exist at all. They are simply a conventional form of representation of odds and ends of necessary expenditures which have not been carried under any of the classifications now in use, and which railroad managers are not unwilling in good times that investors shall accept as testimony to the superiority of their management and their care for the future. There are some few exceptions in which surplus earnings have been expended in good properties which have some tangible existence, though even those are rarely drawn upon to keep up dividends. These are not, however, sufficiently numerous to vary the general rule that the surplus in the accounts is a snare and a delusion to the investor and, like other humbugs, ought to be abolished. If the severe trials through which corporations are now going and the exposures to which they have been subjected bear their proper fruit, the form in which the financial condition of such corporations is presented to the public will be very much changed. It is not sufficient that these accumulating counterfeit presentments of values shall be written off at long intervals when public attention is centered upon their falsity, but that they shall not be permitted to accumulate at all. Each year's report should show clearly the disposition of each year's earnings, and if anything is carried forward, the actual form in which that is done should clearly appear.

The Reticent Public.

THE result of the invitation issued to our readers to come forward and make public whatever facts they possess concerning either the inefficiency or the corrupt administration of the Building Department, and thus substantiate the persistent derogatory rumors which have been in circulation for many years, makes plain one of two things. It shows either how unfounded the whispered condemnation of officials by the public is, or how utterly cowardly public conscience is. Our invitation called forth very few communications from builders, owners and architects, and our interviews, numerous as they were, were in the main of value only as excellent examples of the gentle art of saying nothing. Yet, for years past, the managers of this paper have been supplicated and spurred to "come out" and "show up the iniquities of the Building Department." The blackest kind of picture has been painted for us of the general character of the building inspectors. The lot have been roundly denounced to us as a pack of blackmailers and incompetents. Everybody connected with the building trades knows how common and how vehement the denunciation of the department has been; yet at a moment when the opportunity for free speech is a particularly inviting one, and when honest criticism would be of undoubted efficacy, what do we find? Not a single individual ready to even breathe suspicion publicly against the Department which has been so much denounced privately. Our interviews have been keyed to the strain of a love feast. The public has cooed with the accent of turtle-doves around Superintendent Brady and his cohort of assistants. There were indeed two individuals who were acrimonious enough to say that they did not consider the building law a perfect piece of legislation. One or two other gentlemen stringently criticized the building inspectors because they were not able to cover as much ground in a day as a Madison Square pedestrian.

Under these circumstances the Department is perfectly entitled to say that the public has, in general, nothing to urge against the character of its personnel or its administrative efficiency. Good citizens who confine their criticisms to whispered defamation of character are not worthy of any consideration. Indeed, the marked silence which our invitation and inquiries have defined raises the suspicion that those who have been busy denouncing the department have been covertly incriminating themselves. For it is hard to believe that anybody who has been really anxious and honestly ready to meet the requirements of the building law has paid blackmail to any official. Inspectors may be corrupt, just as policemen, bakers or bankers may be corrupt, but it strains one's credulity somewhat to be told that any official levies blackmail upon citizens who are determined to obey the laws. Good citizenship is not the condition under which blackmail can be said to flourish. Evil begins when the citizen desires an infraction of the law. We have not, for instance, the slightest idea that any of our large corporations that have erected office buildings according to the highest standard of the builder's art, and up to the full requirements of the building law, have ever been asked for tribute by any inspector. We don't believe that any first-class architect whose services have been commanded by the highest grade of clients has ever been to the expense of even a postage stamp in connection with any criminal wrong-doing at the Building Department. It is not to the interest of any man who desires a first-class structure to evade the building law, for the standard which the building law sets, though high, is probably under rather than above that standard that obtains in the practice of reputable architects. The only persons who would be advantaged by infringing the building law are the "skin" builders, and undoubtedly there are many of these in this city, ranging from out-and-out Buddensieks to less fragrant offenders, who seek petty economies at the expense of those to whom they intend to sell their speculations. This, we believe, is the corner from which the smell actually comes, and where the carrion is there will the ravens be gathered together. It is these evasions of the law which make blackmail possible in all the departments of the city government, and when we find, as the Lexow Committee has demonstrated, that all grades of citizens are busy buying petty illegal exemptions from officials, one may safely conclude that these bribers are not inactive in the building trades—and the briber, of course, begets the bribed.

Municipal Improvements.

THE CONDITION OF SOME OF THE IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENTS THE CITY HAS IN HAND.

The city has now authorized works of improvement to increase the facilities for travel and commerce and the occupation of lands within its limits that will in the total estimated cost foot up many millions of dollars. There are no less than three bridges in various stages, from the initiatory to the completed, in the hands of the city's engineers, also a very large expansion of the water service plant, considerable regulating and grading of new streets and laying sewers in the same, besides the speedway and other works now being carried out by the Department of Parks. The progress made on these works is of course of great interest to every citizen and particularly to those immediately affected, either in their personal comfort, their property or business by them. For this reason some facts which may serve to show the standing of quite a number of these works have been gathered and given below.

The College place improvement is on the eve of actual operations with the pick and shovel. All the preliminaries of condemning and assessing property have been gone through and on Tuesday last the Board of Aldermen passed the necessary ordinance to regulate and grade College place and Greenwich street to Dey street. The condemned buildings will be sold at auction on the 17th inst. Owners affected by this improvement tell us they have been called upon to pay the assessment although no work has yet been begun. This will put the matter into the Department of Public Works, whose first business will be to appoint a surveyor and order the preparation of the necessary maps, plans, etc. With the opening of the new year there ought to be workmen on the ground. In regard to the opening up of Elm street to Lafayette place, some progress in the observation of preliminary technicalities has been made, but the improvement is still very far from the physical influence of workmen and their tools. Notice has been given of the intention of the city to apply to the Supreme Court on the 14th inst. for the appointment of Commissioners of Estimate and Assessments, which is only satisfactory, inasmuch as a necessary step has been taken, but as everyone knows there is no possibility of estimating the time within which the estimate will be made and finally approved. The College place improvement is only in the satisfactory position it is because of the recent withdrawal of the opposition of property owners. But for this the matter would be still hung up in the Supreme Court.

The Engineer of the Department of Works has a number of important bridges in hand. The Harlem River Ship Canal Bridge at Kingsbridge is nearly completed. It has not yet been opened, but should be ready for travel between now and Christmas. The estimate for this work was $331,185.55 and there have already been paid out under certificate of the engineer something over $300,000. The piers for the bridge over the Harlem River at 3d avenue are now being built, a temporary structure having been erected to accommodate the travel. Work on the approaches has to await the obtaining of land, a matter that is now before a Commission of Appraisal. When it will be obtained it is of course impossible to say, but if it is got by April 1st the bridge will be completed and opened in 1896, perhaps, in the early part of that year, though not before. The estimate for this work is $1,110,919.70 and there has been paid to the contractor about $150,000 on a basis of 85 per cent. of the work done.

Folks across the river particularly will be pleased to learn that the Willis Avenue Bridge is being pushed as fast as possible by the Engineer of the Department of Works. Detailed plans and maps are now being made. Application has been made to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment for an appropriation so that contracts can be let. Maps of the lands required have been sent to the Corporation Counsel for the appointment of a Commission of Appraisal. The action was taken thus early in order to prevent, if possible, the delays from which the 3d avenue bridge is suffering or is threatened with. The general plan of the bridge has been approved by the Board of Street Opening and the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. These plans call for a steel bridge, 70 feet wide, across the Harlem River, with the expansion to the shore approaches to be built of masonry. The 1st avenue approach from 125th street to the river is to be partly of stone and partly of iron. On the other side of the river there is to be one through span viaduct to 133d street and Willis avenue, thence by a stone viaduct to 134th street and Willis avenue. The approaches, like the bridge itself, are all to be 70 feet wide. The total estimated cost is $2,000,000, $1,700,000 for the bridge and approaches and $300,000 for the land required, etc.

In connection with the water supply of the city, there is building a new high service works on 179th street between 10th avenue and the Harlem River most of which is under contract and some of which is underway. This will have a pumping capacity of about 28 millions of gallons and ought to be completed by the latter part of next year. It is intended to supplement the two high service plants now supplying the West side above 34th street and has become necessary by reason of the rapid development of that part of the city. Up in the country the Aqueduct Commission is building three new storage reservoirs; one to be completed in 1895, another in 1896, and the third at some time in the future that cannot now be fixed. The Department of Public Works is building one on the Muescot River which will be completed in 1897. The Aqueduct Commission has also filed the maps for what is known as the Jerome Park reservoir. The work of acquiring lands along the Croton River to insure the sanitary protection of the city's water supply is also proceeding.

Among the many regulating and grading improvements now in the Department of Works there are several large ones underway, though their condition is very hard to define. Contracts are based upon estimated quantities and it is only in the event that the estimates prove to be substantially correct that the proportion of work can be ascertained from the proportion the amount paid bears to the whole amount of the contract. Moreover the work is carried on at different points where time and circumstances favor it so that it is not possible to give any description of the progress made that would be intelligible to any but the technical mind. Such information as is understandable has been gathered from data in the bureau of street opening of the Department of Works as follows: The contract for regulating and grading the boulevard from 156th street to Inwood avenue, was let on May 6, 1892. The total cost based on the engineer's estimates was to be $244,372. There have already been paid out $153,632.82, on the basis of 70 per cent of work done. This would mean $216,000 out of $244,000 total estimated cost, but as it is stated that the work is still far from completion this is probably one of the cases where the estimates will be below the actual total cost. The regulating and grading of St. Nicholas avenue from 130th street to Convent avenue, has been carried out to the laying of the curbing and flagging, which will probably not be done until the season is more suitable. The total estimated cost for this work is $61,972; there has been paid upon it $39,977, which represents work actually done and certified to the amount of $57,110, or within $4,800 or $4,900 of the total estimate. A contract for the filling in of 9th avenue from 201st st to Kingsbridge was let on October 4th last; work has been only fairly begun. The total estimated cost is $56,668.50, and there have been paid under the contract $3,430. A contract for regulating and grading 152d street from Bradhurst avenue to the Harlem River, consisting mostly of rock cutting, was let on November 7, 1894. The total estimated cost is $28,878.82. Work has been begun, but no payment made on the contract. A contract for a similar piece of work on 151st street, between the same limitations, was also let on November 7th last. The total estimated cost is $16,357.45. The condition of this work is precisely the same as that on 152d street. In connection with these two last mentioned contracts it may be mentioned that they show a great reduction in the price of rock-cutting, the figures are 92 and 91 cents, severally, while in previous similar jobs carried out by the city this work has been worth all the way up to $1.50. For regulating and grading 207th street from Amsterdam avenue to the Harlem River, the work consisting mostly of filling in, a contract was let on August 29th last at a rate making the total cost on the estimates of quantities $19,664.70, and upon which contract $1,830 has been paid, which would indicate that something over a third of the work is done, presuming the estimates are correct.

Manhattan Elevated Railway Terminals.

The Executive Committee of the Manhattan Elevated Railway Company has decided to advise the Board of Directors to proceed to obtain property for enlarging the terminals of the 6th avenue line at 155th street and of the 2d and 3d avenue lines at 129th street, by proceedings in condemnation. Officials of the company have made it known that if they had more room in which to work at their terminals, both north and south, they could materially increase the carrying capacity of their lines, and it is now asserted that the prices at which property is held has hitherto prevented them from making the necessary improvements at the northern ends of their line. So far there has been no intimation that they wanted to purchase at the other end. Their suggestion for dealing with that part of their property having been that additional facilities for switching in Battery Park should be given them. Information of the precise direction of the proposed condemnation proceedings is not forthcoming; until it is it will not be known how far the resolution of the Executive Committee expresses the actual intentions of the company or how far it is intended to bring property owners round to what the company considers more reasonable ways of thinking in regard to realty values.

Brooklyn Bridge.

The work of improving the terminals of Brooklyn bridge is proceeding in a way that makes it probable that the cable plant for operating the trains on the new gantleted tracks will be put in in the coming year. At the New York terminal the roadways have been widened, and the preliminary work commenced on the new station building. The Brooklyn terminal work is well advanced on the new station, which is quite separate from the old station now in use, and the roadways are being altered. The reconstructed New York station will be exteriorly of steel framework, and the interior walls and partitions of brick, iron, and glass. There will be two passenger elevators, located at the south end of the station, and connecting the first floor with the street level at Rose street. At the Brooklyn terminal the steel framework of the new station has been erected and will soon be ready for filling in. The station is located on the west side of Washington street, between and over Sands and High streets. Connections will be made either by tracks or covered galleries with the Brooklyn elevated roads. The outer walls of this station, built in the steel framework, will be of brick or of cast or wrought metal. The floors will be of brick or terra cotta and the roofs will be of wood, on iron or steel purlins, covered with sheet iron or slate and glass. The Phoenix Bridge Company have the contract at $225,127 for the Brooklyn station and Levering & Garrigues that for the New York station at $240,629 exclusive of the elevators.

The Hudson River Bridge Bill.

The first snag to delay the building of the Hudson River Bridge comes in the form of a difference between the promoters of the enterprise and the War Office Commission of Engineers on the kind of bridge to be built. The latter recommended some time ago a suspension bridge. The former now come out with the assertion that unless the War Office permits the erection of a cantilever bridge they will delay operations until they can get legislation that will give them their choice in the matter. They state that the cost of a suspension bridge would be so great that it would not pay interest on the money expended in its erection, while a cantilever bridge would be equally as serviceable and would pay.

Imported Melodrama.

The "Cotton King" has scored a success at the Academy of Music as a good specimen of thrilling melodramatic writing. Its moral is the same as that which has animated melodrama since the birth of that form of entertainment, the triumph of virtue over vice. Its incidents are very striking, and as most people like to be "thrilled" its prospects for a long run are excellent. The caste is good and the scenic effects are unusually elaborate. The interior of the cotton mill is a fine piece of stage setting.

The Brownstone Cutters.

The trouble in the brownstone trade to which we made reference last week appears, from reliable information, to be this: Some cutters, who were anxious to work, offered to do so at $3.00, a drop of $1.50 per day from the Union rate, which has been $1.50 for a long time. These men have been taken on in some of the yards and the matter having come to the attention of the Brownstone Cutters' Union remonstrances have been addressed to the employers and the negotiations had thereon may result in a strike being avoided.

Obituary.

ANDREW J. CAMPBELL, SR.

Death has taken, in the person of Mr. Andrew J. Campbell, a gentleman who has been for many years a prominent figure in the building trade of New York City and in the politics of the city and State. Our Anniversary number of in May of last year, in a lengthy notice of his business and public life, bore testimony to Mr. Campbell's ability and integrity. The facts there stated are too fresh in the minds of his friends to need repetition in detail now. Mr. Campbell was born in Newark, N. J., on July 5, 1828, he was consequently in his sixty-seventh year when he died, on Thursday last. His interest in politics dates from the time of Henry Clay's Presidential canvass and continued until the day of his death. He was a consistent Republican from the formation of the party, as was fully evidenced in the contest of last month, which resulted in his election to represent the Tenth Congressional District. His experience in the building trade covered all departments, but his name is most intimately connected with the West Side Architectural Iron Works, which he founded in 1868, in connection with Mr. W. H. Van Tassel, who was his partner at the time of his death. In the circles of the Building Trades' Club no man was more esteemed than Mr. Campbell, who was Vice-President of the club. He also took an active part in the General Society of Mechanics' and Tradesmen, the Mechanics' and Traders' Exchange and the Society of Architectural Iron Workers, of all of which organizations he was a member. The illness which caused Mr. Campbell's death was a kidney trouble, which is said to have been developed through a cold caught about a week before in driving out in inclement weather to visit Governor-elect Morton at the latter's home, Rhinecliff.

Real Estate Market.

The brokers have had another good week. The sales and exchanges made public will involve an aggregate consideration of about $2,500,000, and information received in a form too indefinite for publication warrants the statement that additional investments have been made at private sale since Monday amounting to not less than $1,000,000 more. Property south of 23d street eligible for the erection of business structures is in specially good demand. The obstacle to extensive sales is the disinclination of owners to entertain offers that not many months ago would have been favorably considered. West Side lots in neighborhoods where sales of new houses or flats have been readily effected during the year are being eagerly sought. A strong buying movement has even developed in the section north of the West Side proper and has extended as far up as Washington Heights. In addition to the many lot sales reported north of 100th street there are excellent grounds for stating that contracts have been signed involving other parcels of almost equal value. House buyers cut an unimportant figure in the week's business, but the active selling season for dwellings having ended extensive purchases cannot be expected before next February. Flats and tenements are still selling freely, particularly in the district west of Central Park. Along Amsterdam avenue they are said to be in unusually great demand, an assertion that seems to be sustained by the fact of sales having been made of buildings hardly finished yet.

The advent of Broadway cable cars on the Columbus avenue line, with the privilege of a continuous ride for one fare to the Battery, has been hailed with delight by property-owners and residents on the West Side. Passengers were carried for the first time late on Thursday afternoon and transferred at 53d street, but in a day or two the promise of through cars will be fulfilled. The effect of the new cable line will be to attract many new residents, as it will to a great extent relieve the "L" roads by sharing the enormous passenger traffic that they have solely benefited by for many years. To those who reside on streets several blocks from "L" stations the cable line must prove a boon of almost inestimable value.

Business continues dull in the auction rooms. During the week it was found impossible to sell a single parcel of a number offered at voluntary sale. Properties offered by order of executors fared somewhat better, although there were several instances of their being withdrawn, or bid in. On Tuesday the Payten estate executors' sale, of Nos. 91 and 93 Division street, was a failure, the ostensible buyer bidding in the interest of the heirs. On Wednesday, at a similar sale, Smyt & Ryan succeeded in obtaining a purchaser for the tenement No. 117 West 26th street, at $32,100. The result of a foreclosure sale, on Thursday, of the five story store, No. 123 Bowery, caused a great deal of comment. The property was bought a few months ago for over $100,000, and it seemed surprising for it to be knocked down to the plaintiff in the action for $70,000, a sum considerably less than the mortgage. Nobody wanted it, however, even at that price. A sale of the parcel to Builders Gunn & Grant was recently reported, in which it figured as part consideration, in addition to cash, for New Jersey property. Mrs. Gunn took title on the day previous to the foreclosure sale, but only as a precautionary measure, in the event of a sum larger than the mortgage being realized. B. L. Kennelly adjourned, on Thursday, until the 27th inst., a sale of property on Bettners lane, Riverdale.

Benjamin Horton Platt and Vahan Z. M. Bayajian were elected annual members of the Real Estate Exchange at a meeting of the Board of Directors on Tuesday.

At the final meeting of the present Board of Directors of the Real Estate Exchange, held on Tuesday, a resolution was unanimously adopted eulogistic of the retiring President, Geo. R. Read, and thanking him for the services he has rendered the exchange during his three years' incumbency of the office. In responding, Mr. Read stated that he would not again be a candidate for the presidency.

The report of the Commissioners of Appraisal appointed on the application of the Harlem River Bridge Commissioners to condemn land required for the new Washington Bridge Park, filed their report on Saturday with the County Clerk. The Commissioners appraised twenty-six parcels, comprising all those between 10th avenue and the Harlem River, and Washington and High Bridges, except such as were previously owned by the city. The aggregate appraisement is $550,755, subject to the confirmation of the report by the Supreme Court. Charles A. Chesebrough is the largest owner of the lands condemned, the individual awards to him amounting to $233,250, in addition to $61,000 awarded for property of which he and Robert Bogardus are joint owners.

The Commissioner of Public Works has directed Peter F. Meyer & Co. to sell, on Monday, the 17th instant, on the ground, in forty separate parcels, the buildings and parts of buildings on the lands acquired by the city for the widening and extension of College place and Greenwich street, from Chambers to Dey streets. The sale will begin at 11 o'clock A. M. with parcel No. 1, at the corner of College place and Chambers street. The sale is on the condition that the buildings or parts of buildings sold shall be removed by the purchaser within forty days. The purchaser shall pay the amount of purchase money at the time of the sale, or the buildings, etc., not so paid for will be resold. The purchaser shall also pay to the auctioneer, on the ground, at the time of the sale, a deposit, by certified check, to the amount of $250 on each parcel purchased, as enumerated in the catalogue, as security for the faithful performance of the work of removal. If the purchaser fails to remove the buildings within the time specified he will forfeit ownership of the same, together with all the moneys paid and the moneys deposited as security for their removal, and the department will resell the buildings or parts of buildings.

On Wednesday, December 12th, 1894, at noon, Mr. Richard V. Harnett will preside at the sale of a number of valuable parcels to be offered at auction at the Real Estate Exchange, No. 59 Liberty street. Chief in importance among which are two store buildings on the southwest corner of Greenwich and Albany streets and facing the buildings of the Western Electric Supply Co. and the American Bank Note Co. on the first mentioned thoroughfares, and Nos. 2 and 2½ Albany street adjoining. Another attractive piece of property which will be offered at the same time is No. 5 East 86th street, a four-story and basement, high stoop, dwelling, with three-story brick extension etc., situated between 5th and Madison avenues, and within what has become the finest residence district of the city. The terms on this sale are very liberal. He will also offer the Ray leasehold, No. 530 West 28th street, a four-story brick tenement, 25x50, with brick stable in rear of lot; lease has over fifteen years to run, with privilege of renewal. The ground rent is $250 per annum, taxes, assessments, etc. Further particulars of any or all of these properties can be obtained at the office of Messrs. Richard V. Harnett & Co., 71 and 73 Liberty street.

L. J. Phillips & Co. will sell at the New York Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, on Tuesday, December 18th, twelve choice residential sites on Washington Heights, facing Audubon Park. The plots embrace from four to six city lots each, and are on the Public Drive or French Boulevard, 158th street and Fort Washington avenue. Sixty per cent of the purchase money may remain on mortgage for three years at 5 per cent, and the titles are guaranteed by the Lawyers' Title Company. Maps and further particulars may be obtained from the auctioneers, L. J. Phillips & Co., No. 149 Broadway.

CONCERNING REAL ESTATE BROKERS AND AGENTS.

Schrag & Richtberg have just completed refitting and decorating their office at No. 124 West 23d street. They succeed to the real estate business established about ten years ago on 23d street by Hiram Torrey and later on conducted by Torrey & Schrag. Messrs.

Schrag & Richberg are young men, and active and zealous agents and brokers. They have very many desirable centrally located properties for sale and to rent and make a specialty of realty between 14th and 50th streets.

Broker Arthur R. Parsons has removed from Pine street to larger offices at No. 177 Broadway, where he will continue to make a specialty of exchanging property. He will also devote part of his time to the sale and the general management of properties.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

M. & L. Hess have sold for Louis Schoolherr the five-story and basement iron front business building, 57x50, Nos. 217 and 219 Mercer street, for $70,000 to Joseph Steiner, who will give in exchange the five-story brick flat, on lot 26x100, on the southeast corner of Manhattan avenue and 121st street, valued at $50,000.

Jacob Hirsh has sold the plot 37.6x98.9, with buildings, Nos. 244 and 246 West 23d street, to Isidor Hoffstadt, who will erect a seven-story business structure on the site. Mr. Hirsh has purchased from Bernhard Freund the two three-story marble front dwellings on lots 20x98.9 each, Nos. 241 and 243 West 23d street, for about $62,000, and resold same to Josiah S. Lindsay, at about $70,000, for improvement.

Gilbert T. Reeder and Teresa N. Adams have sold the two four-story stone front stores and dwellings, Nos. 240 and 242 West 23d street, together in size 37.6x98.9, for $70,000 to Martin Geiger.

E. H. Ludlow & Co. have sold for Mrs. L. J. Gottschalk and Mrs. C. M. Rossi the three-story dwellings, on plot 42.5x94.9, Nos. 60 and 62 East 11th street, between Broadway and University place, to Gutwillig Bros., who, it is understood, have resold same to Amund Johnsen, who will erect a business structure on the lots.

Hoffman Bros. have resold for Flake & Dowling (New York Realty Co.) the northeast corner of Broadway and Howard street, consisting of the plot, 60.10x98, with six old three-story buildings, the sale of which, through the same brokers to the present sellers, was reported last week. The price then agreed upon was $300,000. Boehm & Coon are the last buyers and they contemplate the erection of a ten-story business building on the plot.

The four-story stone front dwelling, No. 103 5th avenue, east side, 88.6 north of 17th street, lot 29.6x80, has been sold by Mrs. Margaretta Pierrepont. Broker, W. P. Serymser.

Mandelbaum & Lewine have purchased from the A. T. Stewart heirs the four-story brick house, on lot 25x100, No. 77 Barrow street, for $15,000. Brokers, W. A. White & Sons.

S. A. Horowitz has sold for Joseph Levy the two-story factory building, lot 25x68 x irregular, No. 231 East 9th street, to Minnie Glotzer for $16,000.

John G. Davis has sold the five-story stone front dwelling on lot 20x78, No. 340 Lexington avenue, west side, 60.9 north of 39th street, to Edward H. Landon for $28,000. Mr. Davis bought the house at partition sale on May 17 for $20,500, and as is shown will realize a handsome profit on his investment of a few months ago.

D. S. McElroy has purchased the four-story stone front dwelling, 21x60x98.9, No. 105 East 37th street, from the estate of Edward Wood for about $42,000.

MORTGAGES.

1 RE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at foot of this list.

Editor RECORD AND GUIDE:

Sole's lien against me is unjust, and I shall contest it. His work has not yet been finished according to contract. On December 3 he swore it had and filed his lien. The day following he personally informed me he intended completing his work, and his men were employed at it as late as December 5. Sole's, therefore, contradicts the substance of his affidavit.

REVIEW AND RECORD.

BROOKLYN, DECEMBER 8, 1894.

Notes Gathered Here and There.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Brooklyn Real Estate Exchange will be held on Monday morning for the election of directors and inspectors of election for the ensuing year.

The Committee on Sites of the Board of Education has been authorized to purchase land adjoining the present school building, No. 73, Bushwick avenue, corner of Kosciusko street, at $15,000; also to purchase a plot on the south side of Dumont avenue, between Powell and Sackman streets, 200x100 feet, at $6,500.

Judge Gaynor has appointed the following Commissioners for the opening of streets: For 41st, 45th, 47th and 48th streets to the city line, F. B. Van Vleck, Benjamin S. Moorehouse and George W. Beatty. For 44th and 46th streets, from 5th avenue to the city line, F. B. Van Vleck, Benjamin S. Moorehouse and J. A. Gilchrist. For 51st, 52d, 53d and 57th streets, from 5th avenue to the city line, and 8th avenue, from 39th street to the city line, D. G. Harriman, John H. Fulcher and John Oakley.

The Committee on Public Lands and Buildings, Alderman Karutz, chairman, reported in favor of conveying to Francis McNamara, of 268 Wyckoff street, by quit claim deed, the city's interest in Lot 6, Block 265, 10th Ward, known as No. 170 Wyckoff street, for $900.

Last Saturday was a busy day in the City Tax Collectors office. Collector Appleton and his force of twenty clerks worked from early in the morning until late in the afternoon. The tax for 1895 fell due, and those who paid received the benefit of the 7 3-7 per cent discount allowed by the law for prompt payments. The amount received was $4,209,466, of which $3,091,413 was in checks. The total receipts for the first day last year was $4,006,572. Each days receipts are paid over to the City Treasurer, who divides the amount up for deposit in the various banks and trust companies.

The old Sands Street Church property, bought some years ago by the Brooklyn City Railroad Company and recently condemned for the extension of the bridge, has been transferred to the Bridge Trustees, the consideration being $161,332. It adjoins the present bridge structure on the south side of Sands street and extends to High street, 206.3x71.11 feet. All of the property condemned has now been transferred to the Bridge Trustees and paid for, except that on which the old Long Branch Hotel formerly stood, at the southeast corner of Fulton and Sands streets.

The Tabernacle Property Sale.

The site of the last of the three Tabernacle churches, on Greene, Clinton and Waverly avenues, was sold under foreclosure at No. 9 Willoughby street, on Thursday. Charles T. Wills, the builder, who holds the second mortgage of $40,000 against the property, foreclosed the mortgage. He was the only bidder at the sale and bought it in for $10,000 above the amount of the first mortgage, held by Russell Sage for $125,000, of which there still remains due $61,760.63. Mr. Wills will be responsible for the expense of tearing down the old walls, which will run the price up to $73,000. The plot cost the church $90,000.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—Common Hards are really building up a first-class market, and while some of the trade looked for an improvement at the end of the season, they hardly expected the close approach to a boom that has come into the position. Supplies have been working forward somewhat freely, but a demand stood ready to take pretty much everything as soon as it was offered, and even then did not appear to become fully satisfied, as there are a great many unfilled calls still on the market at present writing. One of the noteworthy features of the situation is the remarkably full call from outside sources, and it looks very much as though the suburban run of custom had been unusually negligent about getting together stocks, and at the eleventh hour had awakened to necessity of skirmishing around in a more lively fashion. Local buying, however, has been first rate including a fuller call against work under way and especially where there was any chance for storage while dealers have continued to pile away stock as fast as they could handle it. Prices have naturally made quite an advance, but it is a little difficult to decide at the moment just how high a figure may be accepted as an established quotation. On actual trading $2.75 is reported, but at the close few, if any, of the best grades can be had at that figure, and $6 has, we understand been refused for top-quality North River stock. The same general features developed on fine Jersey stock, and sellers are refusing 37 1/2 a 50c., more than they accepted early in the week. Pales are doubtful; no one seems to want them and the absence of trading makes it difficult to test the market, but $2 and upward would probably be asked, according to quality. Advances from sources of supply are conflicting, some asserting that makers are more than ever determined to stop shipping the moment they realize necessary funds, while on the other hand comes a hint that the rise in value, if sustained, will induce an effort to maintain shipments so long as navigation keeps open and tides permit loading.

CEMENT.—Although there has been some little extra hurry to business of late it was by no means up to a seasonable average. Of foreign stock the arrivals are running much lighter, many of them come to hand on contract and are not added to accumulation, and importers are steadier in tone, although they got no good foundation for an advance. Rosendale has had a very good fall and early winter trade on shipping orders to various points, interior and coastwise, but from our local custom not much assistance could be secured, buyers generally appearing satisfied with smaller quantities than usual. It is, however, now understood that the canal has closed, which reduces the chances for water shipment down to the river mills, and should put a firmer backbone into the market.

LATH.—Increased arrivals have made more business and demonstrated that although not realizing the full figures of previous predictions receivers have succeeded in establishing another slight advance, and seem to be holding the market firm at the close. The sharpest call was from out-of-town customers, a great many of whom appear to have been dilatory in rounding out their accumulations for the winter and now run in hurry orders. During the week business has been done at $2 and at $2.10, the latter said to be the latest, and an inside idea of those who have more stock to offer.

LIME.—Conditions were generally reported as practically unchanged, which would infer a continued state of irregularity and only a sort of nominal bases for valuation. Nevertheless there are features that ought to bring the market around into better shape before a great while. Local accumulation is working down somewhat. It is hardly reasonable to believe that Eastern manufacturers will send any more stock forward at the present return for it, and reasonable influences tend to curtail competition from interior points. Dealers may be doing all right to continue a stand-off, but it may turn out as it has on brick and lath, that at the eleventh hour buyers will realize the necessity for more liberal investment and tumble over each other in the effort to get stock at prices that will make present rates look very cheap.

LUMBER.—The general line of business naturally becomes smaller at this juncture under seasonable influences, and there is very little in the way of really new information to impart. Distribution is confined principally to stuff due on contract, with a sprinkling now and then of small additional orders brought out by some special want of custom, and that is likely to remain about the condition of affairs until the end of the year at least. On the other hand is the balancing influence of reduced offerings of a great many grades of stock, and taken all in all the market as a whole has a steady position. There is also an exhibition of cheerfulness among most operators, who seem to have confidence in the belief that the lumber market has passed its worst stage, and, while the recuperation may be slow, it has already set in they claim and must surely make progress from this time forward.

White pine is steadily held all around and offered with less freedom. There is some doubt as to actual demand for stocking purposes, but an idea is entertained that a little first-class stuff could still be placed if made available at about the cost ruling for sometime past. Some of the salesmen who usually manage to book orders for special cuts or for full lines of general stock for delivery next season, report less than usual success thus far. They do not encounter much if any objection to cost, and customers in some instances admit they are likely to want stock, but appear inclined to take matters easy and stand off for a while. Some export orders are being filled, but in number and size are below calculations, and there is a bit of grumbling over the foreign trade.

Yellow pine has no great amount of immediate attention, but good general prospects for the future, and indeed some operators think the outlook for business relatively better than where some other grades of lumber are concerned. Yard accumulations are, it is said, small here and at other distributive markets. The outlook for work that will consume considerable quantities is good. While prices are so low, it is assumed any change in tone must be for the better, and especially so if the effort to control supplies at primal points prove successful.

Carolina pine continues steady and meets with an erratic demand. Buyers who have nothing else to attend to will now and then place an order, especially for medium grades, but dealers and large consumers who are just now busy handling other stuff neglect the Carolina product because it can be secured later on when there is more time to attend to it. Prices are pretty steady, although occasionally a very desirable customer gets special favors.

Spruce retains a position of much strength, and buyers during last month's experience discovered that for once the stories of light shipments from the eastward were well founded. As soon as that became evident there was competition to obtain such stuff as might be available, and the stimulating effect upon values we have already recorded. The tone is still well preserved, with indications that an attractive offering of wide stuff would command pretty full rates. State spruce was also very scarce at the closing of the canals, and more is wanted. The West Virginia mills are getting a fair number of acceptable orders and at steady rates.

Hemlock is now selling rather slowly in the country trade, as dealers have accumulated about as much stock as they desire for the present, but there is custom to be found in this, and neighboring cities to a fair extent, and on the export trade which meets the demand prices are sustained steadily and without difficulty.

Hardwoods are moderately active only, and there is not likely to be much demand during balance of this month. Dealers have contracted for about what they expect to require, and while consumption next season promises a considerable increase over this year, there seems to be no hurry to anticipate it by free investment. Nevertheless it is quite certain that if strictly choice woods, and especially such as walnut and cherry, were offered they would secure prompt and satisfactory bids, and there is also a very good chance for birch and carefully cut quartered oak. Poplar does not appear to be getting much attention at the moment, owing possibly to previous pretty free contracts by general line of custom, and upon which deliveries are now being made. Some export trade is reported, but most of it on direct business with manufacturers who stop on through bills of lading.

The following dispatch came from Ottawa, Ont., under date of December 6th:

The American lumbermen who are here opposing the duty on booms and boomsticks had an interview with Acting Premier Bowell and several other members of the Dominion Government this afternoon. United States Consul General O'Reilly and a number of Canadian lumbermen accompanied the American delegation. W. K. White, of Pembroke, Ont., addressed the Cabinet Ministers on behalf of the delegation, showing that the duty on booms and boomsticks was a policy of irritation against the United States and might lead to difficulties if not abolished. Congressman Weadock, of Michigan, put the whole case very forcibly.

Mr. Bowell, in reply, promised the Government would take the whole matter into consideration and would try to do what was just in the matter. It was not, he said, with a view of irritating the United States that the duty was imposed. The question involved was as to whether booms were not manufactured timber.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

STATE.

The Albany Argus as follows:

Aside from the houses which cater to the Eastern car trade, local dealers in lumber will finish up operations this week until another spring rolls around. Some of the firms practically got through last week and are moving office effects downtown. Everything about the district yesterday looked very much like winter. The last receipts are in, the two boats to wind up the season being consigned to Benedict. They got caught in the ice up on the canal, but were safely gotten down to the district Sunday. A few firms shipped a good deal of lumber last week, and there won't be as large a stock to be wintered as usual. Of course the season's receipts were far behind other years. Closing prices are fairly firm and unchanged. A good demand for spruce continued up to the last.

CANADA.

Lumber dealers say that the cut on the St. Croix this winter will be between 25,000,000 and 30,000,000 feet, possibly not more than 25,000,000. Last year it was nearly 50,000,000.—Moncton Times.
The quantity of lumber taken by barge from Ot-

Iowa and vicinity during the navigable season is placed at about 305,000,000 feet. Of this some 250,000,000 feet were taken by the boats of the Ottawa Transportation Company, and the remaining 25,000,000 feet by American boats. The quantity shipped by rail during the same period is estimated at about 100,000,000 feet; but by including the shipping by rail during the winter months, this amount would be almost doubled.—Toronto Monetary Times.

THE WEST.

The Northwestern Lumberman as follows:

The prospect is that logging will get a good start before Christmas, which will render comparatively easy the putting in of all the logs that loggers have started in for. They will also be backed with comparative cheapness, for the cost of supplies is at a minimum, and labor is plentiful at moderate wages. As a rule, however, the intention is to restrict the log input to a reasonable amount. Burned pine must be cut. Owners of green timber have no incentive to overproduction, for the reason that market conditions, though more promising than at a like time last year, do not justify it.

Prices of all kinds of lumber are still groveling along a low range. This is because the demand has not yet expanded so as to check the eagerness of holders to sell. During the fall months there was some increase of demand, which stimulated all who had lumber, and had been long waiting for an outlet to put forth extraordinary effort to unload. This general effort was rather in excess of the actual requirement. The seller's anxiety to get rid of lumber was greater than the buyer's eagerness to take it off the seller's hands. The result of this was that the buyer had the matter of prices in his own hands, and values have been kept at a low range. Now that pushing for a large outlet is out of the question until the spring demand begins to be manifest, it is evidently the part of wisdom for all holders of lumber to cease forcing the market for the coming two months. By taking this course there will be some prospect that values will recover from the extreme degradation of the past year.

At Chicago there is little to be said about the market other than that the season is about wound up, and such business as is being done is in the nature of gathering in the odds and ends prepar-tory to the finish. A few boats have arrived, and a few are out that are expected to come in when-ever they can dodge the gales which lately have been prone to knock the lumber carriers out of time.

Sales at present are made of lumber to arrive, chances being taken to get the stuff in before the total close of navigation. Dealers readily buy such pine and hemlock piece stuff as comes to the market, or that can be shipped in this season. At the yards prices continue to rule low, and no attempt is being made for an advance except in instances of special shortage of particular sorts. Such lumber as boards of stock width, 18 and 20-foot boards, 22 and 24-foot joists, No. 1 and No. 2 fencing and some other sorts are held at prices firmer than a short time ago, each dealer having his individual notion about values.

Since the middle of October a noticeable increase in inquiries for poplar lumber at the mills is reported, and there are practically no large stocks in the hands of mill men. Buyers are still picking up an occasional lot at former low prices, but are getting no concession from those who thoroughly understand the situation. In view of the information which will be brought out at the meeting of the Poplar Manufacturers' Association in January, a sharp advance in prices is anticipated after that date, with steadily increasing firmness in the meantime.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman as follows:

The hardwood trade throughout the northwest is in a quite encouraging condition. It has been brisk in Chicago for some time, as consumers of hardwood have let their stocks get quite low the past summer and are now in the market for carload lots to replenish their yards with. Box makers are using considerable poplar, and on the whole the hardwood trade both of Chicago and at Wisconsin points is brighter. Buyers are more numerous around the Wisconsin mills than they have been for months before. At Minneapolis the hardwood outlook is not quite as bright as else where.

Logging is progressing fairly satisfactorily in the northwestern pineries, although more snow is needed to insure good hauling. Operations are well under way on all of the streams, and the outlook is favorable for a good season's crop. On the Wisconsin there will be but an average output of logs, while the same is true of the Mississippi and the Chippewa rivers. On the St. Croix the output may be somewhat larger than usual, with a lighter output on the Black.

METAL.—COPPER.—Ingot has been selling fairly on routine trade orders from regular lines of cus-tom, and the immediately available supply is under-stood to be under pretty close engagement.

THE stock market has rarely if ever been so strong in the face of heavy gold exports as it has this week, and although it weakened somewhat yesterday when the amount to be shipped was actually announced, the fact did not detract from or make less apparent the real strength that underlies the market. Whatever tendencies prices display in the next week, or until the demands of Europe upon our gold supply are satisfied, it is quite obvious that there is a greater disposition to buy than to sell, and this, coupled with the light realizing of security holders in the past thirty days, argues well for better quotations with the incoming year. The chastened spirit in which Congress has received suggestions for the improvement of the condition of the railroads and of the currency has had a great deal to do with the strength of prices and the demand for railroad securities especially. Of course, the Railroad Pooling Bill, if it becomes a law, will not do everything for the railroads that is claimed for it, but it will do a good deal, and its passage will be hailed with no little satisfaction by kindred industries, notably the iron industry, which is languishing simply because of the policy of extreme economy to which the railroad companies are now compelled to resort because of the poverty of their returns. It has become an axiom that when the railroad industry is depressed all business is depressed. That is hardly the case, because the railroads can only lose their business when other industries decline. But there can be no question whatever that as soon as the railroads feel justified in placing their orders for steel rails, equipment, etc., ahead of the time when they will be required, business all over the country will receive an immense stimulus. For this reason the attitude of the Senate and President toward the Pooling Bill will be awaited with the utmost interest in all the markets of the country. The immediate movement of prices will therefore, continue to hinge on action or inaction in Congress.

LONDON is not doing much in foreign securities, consequently home and colonial governments and municipals are receiving more attention than seems quite consistent with an expectation of the maintenance of prices of those issues. Consols make new records every week and some of the municipal 2½s promise to touch par, one, of which $7,500,000 were issued only eighteen months ago at 89, is now ten points higher. These prices will not stand when the time comes for large withdrawals of money into commerce. Speculation pure and simple has been almost wholly confined to South African gold mining shares, of which large issues have been made as a result of the increased output of the mines. The advance in the price of Consols, in which deposits in the Post Office Savings Bank are invested, and the automatic reduction that will take place in the return paid on them, may compel the government to consider the necessity for reducing interest paid on deposits from 2½ to 2 per cent. Paris has not only taken to speculating in South African gold mining shares, but is also forming a company to work a number of claims under a concession from the East Rand Company. The French Chamber of Deputies has under discussion a bill to increase by 30 to 50 per cent, the duties on starch, exotic farinacea and their derivatives. The Bourse was kept strong for the floating of the new Russian loan. Germany reports the condition of the several iron centres in her midst as still unsatisfactory, business shrinking notwithstanding low prices. In Berlin a demand for American investments is springing up. Renewed friction between the Government and the Socialists is causing uneasiness in political circles. Vienna and Budapest have it seems both been thoroughly scared by their recent narrow escape from panic, and propositions have been introduced into the bourses of both cities to prevent increasing gambling in securities; it will be interesting to learn how they propose to do it. Austria is again in the market for gold; all the gold currency required for the reform now being carried out must be coined within two years. Bohemian sugar has fallen in value in advance of an increase in the output of the German refineries this year. The premium on gold at Buenos Ayres having risen again, Argentine securities have declined. Figures recently published show that exports of wheat, corn, etc., from the Argentina increased in value from $16,800,000 in 1889 to $29,000,000 in 1893, and exports of wool, hides, skins, etc., decreased from $96,700,000 in 1889 to $53,000,000 last year. The growing capacity of the Republic to ship wheat is shown by the fact that exports for the first half of 1894 were greater than those for the whole of the previous year, which in turn were double what they were in 1892. In 1882, 1,700 tons only were exported, and ten years later nearly 500,000 tons, last year, 1,000,137 tons, and this year, in six months, 1,029,546 tons. From June 30th to October 31st, the British market alone took about 300,000 tons, so that it is possible that the complete return for the year will show another doubling of the amount sold in foreign markets.

"Map-Making."

SO many reforms have been suggested lately that one hesitates to add to the list. Such a great number of plans have been laid out for tinkering with the municipal structure without reconstructing it at the foundation, where the evil really is, that there is great danger that in the end we shall conclude to retain the old building with the addition of merely a few slight superficial alterations. However, while people are in so kindly a mood towards all schemes for reformation which do not include themselves, we cannot resist the temptation to point out a certain direction along which the zeal of the real estate body might travel for the benefit of all concerned.

It is obvious that as the city grows, the lines of individual interest and activity must, with increasing frequency, cross the lines of public or corporate interest and activity. All legal proceedings attending the opening of new streets, the widening of old ones, the creation of parks and public places, the acquisition of land for railroad and other similar purposes indicate where these intersections occur. Broadly speaking, the principle that rules in these collisions between the interest of the few and the interest of the many is that the lesser must succumb to the greater—public requirements dominate private convenience. This is all very well, and on the score of the principle one has no complaint to make. The evil, and hence the need for reformation, arises from the manner in which the principle is worked out. It is scarcely too much to say that the entire system of acquiring real estate for public or quasi-public purposes now in vogue, needs restriction if not reconstruction in order to insure a full measure of fair dealing to owners of realty which that class is very frequently deprived of to-day.

In another column our readers will find a story of how the City has, unwittingly, no doubt, and perhaps through the force of the defects of the system under which the authorities work, trifled with a vast amount of property of its citizens to no advantage to any one. It is an ordinary example of how, whenever real estate is wanted for municipal purposes a crude antiquated inefficient piece of machinery is set in motion at an unnecessary cost to everybody—except, be it never forgotten, to the few who are "working" it. In this Concourse or Boulevard matter beyond the Harlem, to which we allude, the Departments have gone to work in a random way to plan on the maps of the city a new thoroughfare of quite unusual dimensions. By the estimates the improvement calls for an expenditure of from fifteen to twenty millions of dollars. It affects, of course, a very large amount of property directly as well as indirectly. We have nothing to say about the improvement itself; what we wish to point out, in the interest of property owners, is that it and other similar improvements should not be legally considered until the authorities have fully determined that the improvement is necessary and practicable and particularly have ascertained that the means for carrying it out promptly to a successful conclusion are positively at their command. As matters run to-day, the Department "go it blind," as the saying is. A few ambitious, or perchance public-spirited citizens, make their appearance, lift their heads for a moment above the enormous level of popular indifference to civic affairs and demand that the Great Multilinear Boulevard extending for — miles, from —th street to —th street, to cost $50,000,000, more or less, be undertaken, as it is an immediate necessity if New York City is to retain its supremacy as the chief city in the Union. The authorities are convinced. It is hard to be disobliging in so small a matter. It is comparatively easy to delineate the proposed improvement upon the city maps and, too, the action has an air about it of official activity and enterprise.

This essay in map making, however, is a really serious matter for the real estate owners whose property is touched by the cartographers' lines. The only reality in the proceeding up to this point is the effect which it has upon real estate. Months certainly, and most probably years, will go by before the "improvement" is advanced to its second stage, the map-makers having done their work quite irrespective of the plans of the city government or the finances of the municipality. The precious idea, however, has been committed to paper. It is on record. Let it take its course. Who cares?

It is not possible for real estate owners to share this indifference. The proposed improvement is henceforth in reality a lien upon their property. Theoretically they should suffer no pecuniary loss and frequently, no doubt, in such cases there is no loss occasioned. In a very large number of instances, however, there is loss of one kind or another. The owner himself hesitates to improve property the possession of which he holds upon an uncertain tenure and this uncertainty affects everybody to whom he might endeavor to sell his land. By these conditions the owner is needlessly damaged, the property lies fallow, the city receives less taxes from it, the entire neighborhood is unsettled—and no one is a bit the better off. The question at once suggests itself. Why not lock up the map-maker and restrain his pernicious activity until the city is ready to actually begin work. Then commence the formalities.

But the evil of the ruling system does not end here. Real estate remains between the upper and nether grindstone (the former being official incompetency and the latter official rascality) even after the city determines to acquire title to the land it needs for a given improvement. The scheme is transferred from the peaceful repository where it has laid for—years, in fact since the map-makers finished it, to the hands of certain Commissioners of Estimate and Apportionment who, practically speaking, control their own actions in the premises at the rate of ten dollars a day. Politics, of course, are mixed up with the business, and even without politics human nature works slowly on municipal affairs at ten dollars a day. Perhaps people are given to exaggerating the dilatoriness of these commissioners, but it is said that expectancy of a decision in certain proceedings has become an hereditary possession. Certainly all these transactions are unnecessarily long. They are unjust. They damage real estate. The city, in whose interest presumably they are undertaken, gains nothing.

Real estate is subject not only to injuries such as the foregoing, inflicted upon it by the municipal authorities, but it is also subject to the assaults of private speculation. It is not very long ago that some imaginative mind conceived a railroad that was to run right through the centre of this city and thence to Boston or some other irrelevant point. A company was formed to fertilize this idea, offices were taken on Broadway, and then, of course, the map-making began. A lot of splendid drawings were turned out with a broad, red line running through, no one knows how many millions or tens of millions dollars worth of property. This property, it was said, was to be summarily condemned. Of course, along with these stories went the usual one, that the company had lots of money and would begin operations at once. The scheme, naturally, was impossible, but the public is timid when it comes to putting its money into real estate or building, or anything else, indeed, of a permanent character. It would not, perhaps, take much stock in any of these stories if the exact facts were published. The exact facts, however, never are given to them. There is always brag and bluster about these enterprises so that people become doubtful and prefer to invest their money in property that is not affected by possible schemes, imaginary or otherwise.

The New York and New Jersey Bridge Company's scheme is of somewhat the same order. It is true the company has accepted conditions which fix a term to its enterprise, but we all know how enterprises dawdle along despite charter provisions. The company is already in hot water about the form of bridge to be built, and we understand it declares that it cannot proceed with work unless it can build a structure which the authorities at Washington and the shippers of New York object to. The future course of events it is pretty easy to see. In the meantime, however, this company has been map-making, and has been busy with other people's real estate in quite a wholesale way. It seems to us that real estate owners might fairly protest against all of this map-making by both the municipal authorities and private corporations and speculators. It is a reasonable demand that no City Department should entertain any improvement directly affecting real estate until it is ready and has fully determined to push the improvement without any delay to its completion. Of course, the dilatory system at present in vogue for acquiring title to property, assessing values, etc., should be completely reformed. As to the operations of private individuals, they should be prohibited or at least the incorporation of a company should not be permitted until the promoters have given bonds not only for the completion of the work contemplated within a stated period, but for all damages their transactions may cause to real estate. In short, the whole system, under which we are at present working, should be reconstructed.

THE Amendment to the Inter-State Commerce Act, repealing the section inhibiting pooling among the railroads which passed the House so quickly and with so large a majority in its favor, while of very great importance to the railroads has a larger and more general importance in showing the trend of feeling among our legislators. Before the last election no legislation favoring railroad corporations would have found any favor among them because of a mistaken notion they had that the people were opposed to anything that favored corporations or the making of combinations to put up prices or rates of service. But public opinion has so changed that the House has seen fit to accept a measure which, if it becomes a law, will result in the creation of combinations greater than any yet seen. While the railroad companies of the country may in the main preserve their identity as at present existing, they will be united into groups to control the business of great divisions of the country and to maintain the rates of their remuneration. The House having surrendered its position in this matter has increased the hope of a favorable and speedy outcome to other suggested measures bearing on the business situation. If Congress, as a whole, shows and maintains the reasonable disposition which so obviously animates the House it ought, in addition to securing this measure for the relief of the railroads, to be possible to secure the passage of another to relieve the currency situation and also to prevent the exhibition of the whims and notions of cranks or any disturbance of tariff conditions. The time at the disposal of Congress does not warrant an expectation of a thorough and permanent reform of the currency, but it is sufficient for removing some of the most glaring deficiencies, pending an exhaustive discussion of the whole question and the adoption of a comprehensive scheme. If this is done and the railroads are put in a position to better their finances the effect on the business of the country will be immeasurably good, and the present session of this Congress will result as advantageously to the country, as its previous sessions have resulted mischievously.

Annual Meeting at the Real Estate Exchange.

The eleventh annual meeting of the stockholders of the Real Estate Exchange on Monday aroused little interest among the members of whom there were but twenty present when the call to order was made promptly at 1 o'clock by President George R. Read. The usual resolution dispensing with the reading of the minutes of the previous annual meeting having been adopted, Secretary Douglas Robinson read the balance sheet, published in THE RECORD and GUIDE of last week, showing the financial condition of the Exchange at the close of the fiscal year, ending on November 15. President Read's address was as follows:

"The report and balance sheet, a copy of which has been sent to each stockholder, must be a matter of satisfaction to all well wishers of the Exchange. During the past year the building, which had been somewhat neglected, has been put in thorough repair, involving an expenditure of $3,631.44. The pumps which had run for eight years and were somewhat worn have been put in order. The plumbing in the basement, which has been a source of great annoyance to the members and to the staff, has been torn out and renewed. The building, both in and out, has been painted and all dilapidations made good, at a cost of $1,314.02. The roof has also been renewed. These, with other minor improvements, have placed our real estate in excellent order. You will observe that the cost of the running expenses, so far as the Exchange itself is concerned, have been reduced by the sum of $2,465.74, the amount this year being $8,576.05, as against $11,041.79 last year. We have, I think, carried the principle of economy as far as expedient, and some of the members have complained of want of attention in the Bureau, caused by the smallness of the staff. But we have met hard times by economy, and I am sure that the members will not regret this, although it may have been possibly at some inconvenience to themselves. I am glad to notice that the market price of the stock is beginning to approach more nearly to its intrinsic value. And it should be borne in mind that the value of the stock is based on the value of our building. If that were sold enough would be realized to give stockholders at least $125 for each share. The movement for the formation of a Brokers' Board, referred to in the annual report, is no new effort on the part of this Exchange to meet the requirements of the brokers' business; but it differs from the attempt made in 1885, principally in this, that was an attempt by the Exchange to provide a system for the brokers, whereas the present is an attempt by the brokers to provide a system for themselves. During the past year we have had some serious losses by death; particularly that of Mr. William Cruikshank, to whose honorable and eminent character the Board have paid a fitting tribute. And now, gentlemen, there remains but little more for me to do than to thank you for the consideration I have received at the hands of the members of this Exchange during the four years I have occupied the position of your President. It was my wish to have resigned last year, but under the circumstances of the case and at the request of the Board I consented to retain the presidency during the past year."

Some discussion followed of the time-worn suggestion of forming a plan to substitute for the $73,000 mortgage on the Exchange building bonds to bear interest at 3½ per cent. or less, which would be a saving to the annual expense account of at least $730. The President, however, explained that such a proposition had been made several years ago and had, after full consideration, been rejected for the reason that the Exchange was not authorized by its charter to issue bonds. He advocated the appointment of a committee of two to devise, if possible, some other plan to secure the desired lower rate of interest on the indebtedness, and a resolution to that effect was adopted, with instructions that the committee report to the incoming Board on January 2. In referring to the subject, President Read stated that it would have been possible at any time within the past few years to secure a mortgage at a lower rate of interest, had the Directors of the Exchange been permitted by the charter to give their bond to insure its payment.

The election of Directors followed, the polls opening at 1:30 and closing at 3 P. M. As there was no opposition to the regular ticket the voting on the cumulative plan proceeded in humdrum fashion. The inspectors were A. B. Ashforth, F. R. Houghton, who filled the position as substitute for Irving Ruland, candidate for Director, and E. C. Martin, representing Henry W. Donald, of Richard V. Harnett & Co., who was unable to be present. The election resulted as follows, the figures given being the number of votes cast for each candidate:

Cornelius W. Luyster.....	4,615	Alfred E. Marling.....	2,080
Edwin A. Cruikshank.....	4,355	George De Forest Barton..	2,080
Frederick Zittel.....	3,250	Douglas Robinson.....	2,080
J. Romaine Brown.....	2,590	Samuel F. Jayne.....	2,080
George R. Read.....	2,210	Hermann H. Cammann.....	2,080
Frank Voran.....	2,200	Irving Ruland.....	2,080
Richard V. Harnett.....	2,080

For Inspectors of the next annual election Frank R. Houghton, William S. Anderson and William M. Cruikshank each received 2,080 votes. For Ferdinand Fish as inspector 1,430 votes were cast from some unknown source.

The new Board met on Thursday afternoon and elected the following officers: President, George De Forest Barton; First Vice-President, Douglas Robinson; Second Vice-President, Samuel F. Jayne; Treasurer, Alfred E. Marling, and Secretary, Frank Voran.

The committees appointed were as follows: FINANCE—C. W. Luyster, H. H. Cammann and E. A. Cruikshank.

EXCHANGE AND AUCTION ROOM—Douglas Robinson, A. E. Marling, S. F. Jayne, F. Zittel and Richard V. Harnett.

MEMBERSHIP—J. Romaine Brown, Irving Ruland, Frank Voran, F. Zittel and A. E. Marling.

The Board also decided to continue in power the recently appointed brokers' Committee of Fifteen.

The Plan for Revivication.

In connection with the question of increasing the usefulness of the Real Estate Exchange to its members a gentleman well versed in all matters relating to the passing of title to real estate, sends us the suggestion that on account of existing laws and usages it would be a good plan for the vendor of real property to offer with it a liberal policy of insurance or guarantee from a title guarantee company. "What I mean by liberal," he says, "is that it shall not terminate in a short term and shall be assignable and transferrable to each new owner upon payment of a nominal fee. Title companies would make a contract with the Exchange to furnish such policies at a reduced cost. The policy could be held in readiness for the prospective purchaser and could be delivered at short notice, perhaps in an hour and certainly in twenty-four hours. The Real Estate Exchange should keep a register of all titles that have been thus guaranteed for future reference, so that when a piece of property is offered again the policy may be reissued to the new buyer. It must be conceded that with a copy of the records relating to real estate, the facilities of the title company for performing this work are complete and it would be useless for the Exchange to undertake to do more than I suggest, unless it made its own abstracts of the public records. This would entail an outlay of capital that some of the conservative members would not approve, and further, in order to do it the organization of the Exchange would have to be changed because, I believe, it is beyond the scope of its charter to engage in the business of title guaranteeing. In buying real property an agreement and memoranda in writing are made. A lawyer is then engaged to examine the title. He examines or pretends to do so, no matter how many times the same title has been examined before. In making his searches he ignores those made for prior owners, giving as a reason that they would be useless in case a mistake had been made by a previous searcher. The result is that the same expense is incurred over and over again. So it will be every time the property is disposed of until a plan of liberal insurance (the policy transferrable to each succeeding buyer) is adopted. Purchasers at first may not have confidence in this method, but if real estate men will wake up and get out of the rut in which transfers are made, it will not be long before they can sell and transfer real property in an hour. How often brokers are told by buyers of real property that they have been buying for so long and have never made any loss, a fact which they attribute to the ability of their lawyer. Yet at times questions of law arise affecting or clouding a title to real property which has been passed several times by qualified lawyers. Doubts or quibbles are raised by lawyers frequently to enable a client to back out of the bargain he has made. All possibilities or doubts in a title should be insured against by a title company. It is a risk, of course, but they are paid for taking it, and chances of entire loss are so small that the premium should be correspondingly low. If I insure in a life insurance company the risk is taken and that, too, in defiance of the fact that I will die at some time. The company does not require me to submit to periodical examinations to see if they will continue the policy. There are but few defects that arise in any title but what can be remedied and the cloud removed."

Municipal Rapid Transit.

Recent remarks by Mr. Chadlin show that the Rapid Transit Commission, of which he is a member, anticipates that the constitutionality of the act by which the commission exists will be tested in the courts. However, the commission continues cheerfully at work. Engineers of the commission and the New York Central R. R. Co. are conferring on the plan of the former for developing the East Side, and if the stories which are circulating in Wall Street, with the alleged authority of Mr. Russell Sage, are to be believed, the Manhattan Elevated Railway Company will soon make further work of the commission unnecessary by reason of the fine service they will give. Travellers on the L. roads, however, are sceptical of these reports, as they do not notice any remarkable lessening of the jam to which they have been victims for so long.

Personal.

The building trade has been deeply concerned to learn that Mr. James Livingston, one of its well-known members, is dangerously sick as a consequence of the injuries he received last week when knocked down by a horse on the Columbus avenue crossing of 72d street. News of a favorable turn in his illness would be received with the greatest satisfaction by his host of friends in and allied to the trade. Late reports, however, indicate that Mr. Livingston is in a very precarious condition.

Arthur J. H. Brooks, the well-known and popular contractor and dealer in sand, gravel, broken stone, etc., of No. 615 West 49th street, was married to Miss Louise Bliven Yergens by the Rev. Dr. Vandewater, at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Harlem, on Tuesday evening.

The Hudson River Bridge.

Secretary Lamont has refused to approve the application of the New York and New Jersey Bridge Company for a cantilever bridge with a pier in the river, and requires that the bridge to be built shall have a single span between the pier lines of New York harbor. This decision is based upon the findings of the government Commission of Engineers reported some time ago.

General Society of Mechanics and Tradesmen.

The one hundred and ninth annual election of the above society resulted in the choice of the following officers for the ensuing year: For President, WARREN A. CONOVER; for First Vice-President, GEORGE E. HOLT; for Second Vice-President, WILLIAM STONEBACK; for Treasurer, RICHARD T. DAVIES; for Secretary, STEPHEN M. WRIGHT.

Correspondence.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

You extend an invitation to your readers to give their ideas as to whether the present Building Department can be improved, and if so, how best to improve it.

In response to this invitation, I would say that the present Building Department can be improved very much and very simply, too. In the first place, the Superintendent and Inspectors should hold office during good behavior. The head of the department, the Superintendent, should receive a salary commensurate with the importance of his position and the qualifications required to fill it, say, at least, $10,000 per annum. The Inspectors should receive a salary of at least $1,500 per annum, and more of them. The Department should be removed as far as possible from all political influence. With these simple changes, I am thoroughly satisfied that the Building Department will be as nearly perfect as we can expect a municipal department to be.

I think there should be a change in the law which prohibits the building of fire-proof apartment houses over seven stories high. There is no reason why they should be prohibited, while hotels and so-called "Family Hotels" may be built twenty stories high. So long as they are built fire-proof they should be allowed.

There are many amendments, no doubt, which might be made to the Building Laws which would improve them, and which the Superintendent of Buildings could suggest from his experience of the working operation of the present Building Law.

I think that no change should be made in the head of this Department, as we have in Mr. Brady, the present incumbent, a faithful, competent and painstaking superintendent and one who gives satisfaction to owners, architects and builders.

MEDALS FOR ARCHITECTURAL DESIGNS.

The Chicago Architectural Sketch Club has published the report of the Adjudicating Committee for the Robert Clark testimonial, stating that the competition as a whole was a decided success. The draughtsmanship was excellent, with but few exceptions. Considering the age limit of 30 years, the same cannot be said of the main feature in a competition; that is, that a building shall look like and suggest what it is intended for. The great majority of contestants submitted designs too suggestive for art galleries, institutes, etc., too monumental in their arrangement of parts and the disposition of detail too lavish. The selections were finally narrowed down to four designs and awards were made by written vote of each judge: Gold Medal, Willard Hirsh, Cleveland, O.; Silver Medal, Edwin R. Clark, Lowell, Mass.; Bronze Medal, Ernest F. Gnilbert, Chicago, Ill.; Mention, Albert Kahn, Detroit, Mich. Sixty-five designs were submitted, aggregating 130 drawings of an unusually high order of merit. The drawings will be exhibited next month at the Art Institute, Chicago and immediately thereafter be returned to their owners.

Poor's Directory of Railway Officials.

We have received a copy of the ninth annual number of "Poor's Directory of Railway Officials and Manual of American Street Railways." This work supplements the well known "Manual of Railroads" by supplying a handy reference to not only administrative but departmental heads of all the railroads in the United States and Canada and some other countries on this continent. It also contains a brief statement of the physical (and financial, where possible) condition of the street railroads north of the Gulf of Mexico. It is got up to conform in style with the "Manual of Railroads," and is a handsome as well as useful book.

LEASE—FORECLOSURE OF MORTGAGE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A owns a piece of property which he gives in care of an agent to manage, and orally tells agent to execute leases, signing A's name thereto. A fails to pay his interest on mortgage and mortgagee forecloses his mortgage on property. B who has bought the property at auction then notifies tenants that leases executed by A's agent are void. Tenants were not made defendants in foreclosure suit, nor were the leases on record. Kindly inform me whether said leases executed by A's agent are valid and bind B.

Answer.—The leases executed by A's agent are valid, and so long as the tenants pay their rent during the term B cannot dispossess them. LAW EDITOR.

SIZE OF LOT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Has the size of a lot been defined by any law of the State, so that when a plot is spoken of as containing so many lots it is legally established what the area is? In other words, has a lot been defined, when nothing further is said, to be understood to contain 2,000 or 2,500 square feet. I have been told that an order to have a definite standard that the Legislature had established the area to be 2,000, is it so?

Answer.—The size of a "lot" has not been regulated by the Legislature. —LAW EDITOR.

BROKER'S COMMISSION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I exchange two pieces of property, as broker, a flat valued at $28,000 for a house valued at $25,000 and furniture therein valued at $5,000, the usual commission of course 5 per cent on furniture and 1 per cent value of house, as there was no cash passed, the owner of house refused to exchange unless I accepted from him only $150 commission, which I did. Above commission being paid; on passing title owner of house refused to accept the exchange claiming that owner of flat had misrepresented value and income and demanding a certain amount named in first exchange. Finally a compromise was made and a certain amount of cash was paid and properties transferred. I sent in a bill for the full commission to owner of house who received the cash payments, giving credit for amount paid, but he refused to recognize me or my bill and says the first amount paid settled the commission, saying that the lawyers arranged the settlement, but, not without my assistance as they required my testimony about the original exchange; am I not entitled to my full commission?

Answer.—No. —LAW EDITOR.

LEASE—OPTION TO BUY.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

If I lease a plot of ground to a tenant for a number of years, and if it is stipulated in the lease that within a certain period the tenant has "an option of purchasing said plot of ground" for a specified sum, and if, as the time of the option is about expiring, the tenant informs me that he will be prepared to purchase the property at the price specified, am I compelled to give him a clear title to same? In other words, does the law recognize an option as binding as a contract between buyer and seller. Does not an option mean simply a refusal until a specified time, and then comes the contract for the bargain and sale. Before this lease was signed there was an easement on said plot, and some lawyer claimed that certain quit-claim deeds from heirs of a former owner were necessary to make the title clear, which cannot be obtained. Now, when my tenant's option expires and he wants the property, won't he have to take it just as I have it or else refuse to buy it? Cases like this have certainly arisen before and I therefore ask you how the law decides it? Your opinion is desired.

Answer.—A lease containing a clause giving the tenant the option to buy is a contract binding upon the owner, which he can be compelled to carry out or pay damage. He cannot be compelled to give a warranty deed, however, unless it is so stipulated. If the stipulation is as quoted in the query, the owner can only be compelled to convey his interest in the property, whatever that may be. —LAW EDITOR.

SCHOOL TAX—CHILDLESS OWNERS MUST PAY.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you kindly answer the following in your next issue, as I would like your advice to the following case: I live in the little incorporated village of Patchogue. My school tax this year is one hundred and eighty ($180.00) dollars. Is there any law to compel me to pay school tax, as I have no children to send to school?

Answer.—You must pay. —LAW EDITOR.

BROKER'S COMMISSION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you kindly inform me by the next issue of your paper what is the legal rate of commission which a real estate broker can charge for effecting a sale of city real estate?

Answer.—There is no rate of commission established by law. A broker may contract for any percentage. If there is no contract he

Washington avenue, Brooklyn a three-story and basement brick dwelling and lot will also be sold, and finally thirteen lots and one large plot containing about twenty lots on East 141st street and Walnut avenue, in the annexed district of the city. These lots are in a district that is undergoing rapid development. They are very near the Southern Boulevard [and to two lines of railways. In all these cases liberal terms will be given to buyers. These and other details can be obtained at the office of Richard V. Harnett & Co., Nos. 71 and 73 Liberty street.

Real Estate Notes.

A report is current that the as yet unknown buyers of the St. Ann's Church and [rectory] property on West 18th street, adjoining Chickering Hall, will begin in May or shortly afterward the erection of a business street on the plot.

Owners urge as an objection to giving details of sales by private contract or trades in which tenement and flat property is involved, the probability of their being unable to collect rents overdue should tenants learn that a change of ownership is about to take place.

One of the Sunday papers made the following statement in reference to the business transacted last week: "The sales reported, which form only a small fraction of those actually made, foot up over $3,500,000." What a lively real estate market it must have been in the estimation of the writer.

It is announced that Frederick Sonthack & Co. will give out for publication about January 1 the complete and "only original" details of the big deal involving the extensive purchases on 18th and 19th streets. Henry Siegel, of Chicago; Siegel Bros., and Augustus D. Julliard, of this city, are some of the largest buyers.

The names of the buyers of the Hotel de Logerot property, on the southwest corner of 5th avenue and 18th street, have not been divulged, but it is said to be their intention to tear down the avenue and street buildings adjoining the corner, erect new buildings in their stead, and make of the whole a connected structure that can be occupied for business purposes.

Edward Fitzpatrick has brought suit in attachment against Isaac Neuberger, of No. 363 Canal street, to recover $50,000 damages. The facts are that after six weeks' negotiation Mr. Neuberger on November 22d made a contract to purchase the large apartment house, on the northwest corner of the Boulevard and 99th street, for $200,000. He now declines to carry out the contract, hence the suit.

Somebody remarked in the Broadway Auction Salesroom on Wednesday that although the weather was unfavorable to the sale of suburban "building" lots, it was probably deemed advisable to let the sales proceed, in view of the increasing possibility of a heavy fall of snow, after which it might become difficult for buyers to identify their properties, or perhaps even to get within hailing distance of them until after the first Spring thaw.

Bryan L. Kennelly tried hard to sell the brick building, No. 383 Canal street, offered at voluntary sale on Wednesday. Among the arguments advanced by the auctioneer to induce more liberal bidding was one that the property had sold about two years ago at auction in the Real Estate Exchange for $27,200. Argument did not avail, however, as the highest bona fide bid received was $25,000. At $250 more the property was withdrawn.

In referring to the low price, $22,350, at which the well-built dwelling, No. 5 East 86th street, was knocked down at auction on Wednesday by Richard V. Harnett & Co., and the detrimental effect on values of the stables on the Madison avenue front, a broker present remarked that it was an outrage for the city to permit a surface railroad or other corporation to erect a large stable in a residence neighborhood. His audience, a small but select one, individually well versed in everything pertaining to real estate, gave indorsement to his views.

A frequently announced executor's sale of Nos. 1137 to 1141 Madison avenue, owned by the estate of the late John McDonald, a former purveyor of blue stone for buildings, promises to break the record of adjourned sales. It has been bulletined to take place almost weekly since early summer, except when an intermission was taken for a few weeks, ending early in September. The repeated assertion of the auctioneer, that "it will surely be held next week," is now regarded by the regulars in the Broadway Salesroom as a standing joke. The last adjournment on Wednesday was, as usual, for a week.

President John A. McCall, of the New York Life Insurance Company, has recently demonstrated his confidence in New York realty by making two good-sized investments. He was the purchaser from Mandelbaum & Lewine, at about $90,000, of Nos. 120 and 122 West 42d street, the sale of which, to an unannounced buyer, was a subject for considerable discussion and comment a few months ago, and has since consummated a purchase of a dwelling on East 78th street for a consideration of $50,000. That title has been taken in the name of a relative to both properties is due no doubt to the natural modesty of the actual buyer.

Jefferson M. Levy, in attempting a few days ago to explain the making of his recent contract to purchase the southwest corner of William and Liberty streets for a price alleged to be $308,000, contended that investments in business property on the lines of narrow streets has always proved more profitable than those made in wide thoroughfares, even when the prices paid were about the same. As Mr. Levy had an array of facts and figures at his command that threatened to demonstrate that William street property was hardly less valuable than that on the east side of Broadway, our reporter thought it advisable to bid him a hasty adieu and thereby avoid becoming a convert to the gentleman's specious argument. In the event of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. purchasing the corner, and things more unlikely have come to pass, Mr. Levy's theory of values will no doubt be sustained.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

Tim & Co. have sold for William Sperr, Jr., No. 624 6th avenue, 20.7x100, east side, between 36th and 37th streets, to J. C. Goodrich for investment, at $60,000. A one-story meat market standing on the lot is rented at $1,800 per annum, for a term of years.

N. Brigham Hall has sold for James H. Bartholomew to Jacob Fromme, for a client, the two and four-story brick buildings, on lot 21.11x84.6x19.5x81.3, No. 115 Crosby street, east side, north of Prince, running through to Marion street, for $22,000.

The four-story stone front dwelling, 24.8x100, now occupied as a dressmaking establishment by Mme. M. A. Connelly, on the southeast corner of 5th avenue and 33d street, is reported sold for $210,000. Harrison Gray Dyar purchased the lot in March, 1860, and is still credited with the ownership of the property on the books of the Real Estate Exchange.

Schrag & Richtberg have sold for William Herzog the four-story flat with store, 20.5x63, No. 1062 2d avenue, southeast corner of 56th street, to Robert Gray.

J. Metcalfe Thomas has sold for Charles Himmelman, No. 62 Maiden lane, southwest corner of William street, a plot 24.1x44.5x34.9x42.5, with old five-story store, to Dr. T. G. Thomas for $100,000. The plot will be utilized as the site for a fire-proof addition to the adjoining office building, owned by the buyer, on the northwest corner of Liberty and William streets. Mr. Himmelman bought the Maiden lane property from the executors of the estate of W. L. Wallace in April, for $95,000.

Douglas Robinson & Co. have sold for Mrs. Eliza A. Wall her four-story stone front residence on lot 25x105, No. 43 Park avenue, east side, 71.7 north of 36th street, for a sum approaching $90,000. The buyer is W. A. Street, who recently sold his residence, No. 44 West 19th street, for $55,000.

C. E. Harrell has sold for Mrs. Margaretta Pierrepont to Jacob Hirsh and Gutwillig Bros., the four-story stone front dwelling on lot 29.6x80, No. 103 5th avenue, north of 17th street, for a sum very close to $100,000. The sale of the same house reported last week as negotiated through W. P. Serymser, was at about $96,000, to Jefferson M. Levy, but through some misunderstanding on the seller's part a contract for the larger amount was signed leaving two contracts in existence. Mr. Levy subsequently agreed to waive his claim, and Broker Serymser having received a check for his commission the latest sale will be consummated. The house is rented until May 1st and after that date is likely to be demolished, although nothing definite to that effect will be arranged for some months.

Ruland & Whiting have sold for the National Starch Manufacturing Company Nos. 296 to 302 South street and 585 to 595 Water street, a plot with buildings 185.10 on either street, extending 140 feet along the westerly block front of Montgomery street, to the Treadwell & Harris Baking Company. The buildings vary from two to nine stories in height, and will probably undergo extensive alterations when possession is given on February 1.

Geo. R. Read has sold for Mrs. Rebecca E. Brown the four-story brick restaurant and club-house, No. 13 South William street, running through to and including No. 57 Stone street, on lot 15.11x79.6x21x77.6, to Thomas G. Shortland, for $32,500.

Frank Seymour has sold for the Sixth Avenue Railroad Co. a plot fronting 52.6 on 13d street and 85.6 on 44th street, 290 east of 6th avenue, occupied by the rear part of the car stables, to the Bar Association, for $210,000. The sale was confirmed at a meeting of the association on Tuesday evening. The plot will be utilized as the site of a handsome club-house, the construction of which is to be begun next summer.

It was announced yesterday that at a meeting held on Thursday evening the trustees of the Broadway Tabernacle Congregational Church, on the northeast corner of 6th avenue and 34th street, had decided to withdraw the property from the market. The acquisition of the church plot, 98.9x150, has long been considered desirable by operators who invest on a large scale and as high as $970,000 is said to have been offered for it. The price set by the trustees was $1,250,000.

The trade reported in THE RECORD AND GUIDE of December 1st, of No. 340 West 24th street, for No. 798 Washington street, between Mitchell A. C. Levy and William E. Good has led to a cash sale by the former to the latter of the adjoining five-story tenement, 25x88x98.9, No. 338 West 24th street. Broker, Martin E. Dotson.

The price quoted in our report last week of the sale of the plot 75x100, on the north side of Grand street, 75 feet west of Wooster street, was an error. It should have read $100,000, not $125,000. The seller, Louis M. Jones, bought the property at auction from the city in May or June of last year for $85,250.

Fred. A. Carl has sold for James G. Wallace to Mrs. Rosina Vollhart the five-story stone front flat, on lot 25x100.5, No. 341 West 59th street. The parcel was one of many recently taken as part payment from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. for the office building Nos. 56 and 58 Pine street, and 26 and 28 Cedar street. The consideration in the deed from the insurance company was $38,782. It has been resold at a figure considerably less.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

Mills & Whitehouse have sold for President George G. Williams of the Chemical Bank, and John S. Kennedy, as executors of the estate of the late Mrs. Mary Stuart, the large three-story and mansard stone front mansion, with plot 55x200, on the northeast corner of 5th avenue and 68th street. Amzi L. Barber, president of the Barber Asphalt Paving Co., is the buyer at about $570,000. The refusal of an offer of $550,000, made by Broker John J. Golding for a client one year ago, has entailed a loss of about $13,500 to the estate, if interest on the amount at 5 per cent., $27,500, and taxes of $6,000 are considered. The house was offered at the auction sale of the Stuart property, held by Peter F. Meyer & Co. on March 16th of last year, but as it was of a most unsuitable description for an auction the executors felt called upon to withdraw it after a bid of $455,000 had been received. The construction of the mansion was begun during the life of the late Robert L. Stuart and finished after his death. Its cost was about $610,000, exclusive of the land, and it immediately took rank, when occupied by Mrs. Stuart about ten years ago, as the finest residence in the city. The present value of the site, added to the cost of the building, gives a total value of over $900,000. In 1864 the block bounded by 5th and Madison avenues, 68th and 69th streets, 200.10x120, containing eight lots on either avenue and about eighteen street lots, was sold by James Lenox to Robert L. and Alexander Stuart for $250,000. The site of the mansion just sold is worth much more than that sum now, and the two street lots adjoining it, bought at the auction sale for $68,000 each, have since been sold by Broker Golding for $70,000 apiece.

A plot of sixteen lots on the north side of 106th street, just west of Amsterdam avenue, has been sold by Arther D. Weekes, attorney for the owners, for $144,000 to a purchaser who will probably improve all or part of the plot.

Martin & Bro. have bought of George H. Cannon the five-story flat, 25x90x100, No. 117 West End avenue, southwest corner of 70th street, for about $55,000.

Lalor & Beringer have sold for Thomas McMann the five five-story brick tenements with stores, on plot 102.2x75, Nos. 1301 to 1309 3d avenue, southeast corner of 75th street, and the adjoining four-story brick tenement, on lot 19.7x102.2, No. 202 East 75th street, for about $160,000.

J. E. Briggs has sold for John Bodine the five-story flat, 25.6x90x102.2, No. 27 West 84th street, to G. Rachel, of Newark, N. J., for about $40,000.

School Commissioner Randolph Guggenheimer has sold to Pierre F. Smith, at $8,300 each, a plot of four lots, on the north side of 100th street, 195 feet east of Lexington avenue. They are the last of a block of sixteen lots on Lexington avenue, 100th and 101st streets, purchased by Commissioner Guggenheimer in 1892, from which an incumbrance of 30 feet of rock has since been removed.

M. Bargebuhr & Son have sold for David H. Tolch the four five-story stone-front flats, on lots 25x100.11 each, Nos. 272 to 278 West 118th street, to a Mr. Gerlach, for $93,000.

The Cass Realty Co. has purchased from the College of Pharmacy the plot 73.2x98.9, with the old college building, Nos. 209 to 213 East 23d street, for $82,000. Julius Friend has sold the lots with old brick and frame buildings, forming a plot 54x100x53.10x100 on the northeast corner of Spring and Wooster streets, to Builder Frank A. Seitz for over $120,000, not "about $110,000," as reported in the daily papers. The corner, No. 141 Spring street, is owned by Rev. Charles F. Haley, of Newark; No. 139, adjoining, by Mr. Reith, and No. 98, Wooster street, in the rear, by Seth M. Milliken. Mr. Seitz has no present intention of improving the property.

J. B. Johnson has sold for Builders Watkins Bros. the three-story stone-front dwelling, 18.6x52x112.6, No. 433 West 162d street, to John Beaver, treasurer of the Third Avenue Railroad Co., for about $17,000.

Builder Louis Wirth has sold the three-story brick dwelling, lot 16.8x100.11, No. 76 West 114th street, for about $16,000.

J. S. Robinson has sold the plot, 100x102.2, on the north side of 79th street, 100 feet west of Amsterdam avenue, to Builder Robert J. McGirr for improvement at $62,000. The lots are the last but four of a plot of twenty-eight bought two years ago by Mr. Robinson from the Blodgett estate.

C. G. Martin has bought of Mrs. Hayman the five-story flat on lot, 25x102.2, No. 120 East 72d street, for about $30,000, represented by Brooklyn flats to be given in exchange. Max Bacharach and A. Offenberg negotiated the trade.

Daniel B. Freedman has sold for Charles E. Runk, No. 117 West 76th street, a four-story stone front dwelling, on lot 20x102.2, and twelve lots at Inwood, in the 12th Ward, to Frederick Kroehle, who will give in exchange the Le Moyne place at Mount Hope, Westchester county, comprising a stone house and fifty acres.

Henry Oppenheimer has resold to Dr. W. E. Diller the plot of three lots on the north side of 72d street, 25 feet east of West End avenue, recently purchased of Spencer Aldrich for about $100,000. The new owner will erect in the Spring three costly dwellings on the lots.

For the third time within six months the two five-story brick tenements, with stores, on plot 50.9x83.9, Nos. 1763 and 1765 3d avenue, southeast corner of 98th street, will change hands as the result of a trade. WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

The largest transaction in Westchester property that has ever taken place is expected to be shortly consummated. It involves the purchase of the famous residence "Greystone," erected for the late Samuel J. Tilden at a cost of about $250,000, and his estate of over eighty acres at Yonkers, fronting on the Hudson River, with adjacent tracts extending north and south along the river front and property lying to the east. The purchasers are a syndicate represented by A. E. Sumner, of the New York Real Estate Co., and over 800 acres are now under contract, for which an average price of about $2,000 an acre will be paid. The syndicate's investment will aggregate from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000. Nothing definite regarding future plans has been learned. At Mr. Sumner's office in the Seymour building it was admitted yesterday that the main facts were correct as they are given above, but beyond the statement that "Greystone" is to become a summer hotel next season no additional information could be obtained.

Randall, builder, of No. 184 Manhattan avenue, Brooklyn, has extended his facilities for doing business, by opening an office in the World Building in this city, where he will be glad to meet his business friends. Mr. Randall has recently very efficiently carried out a number of quite important contracts on both islands, among them being the Wallabout Bank Building, flats on Clinton avenue for John Englis & Son, and the Bedford avenue post-office, all in Brooklyn, and for the Cockcroft Estate the seven-story bonded warehouse on Washington street, extending through to West street, New York.

Pasquale Strappone, of No. 2184 1st avenue, is well known to builders as an expert in excavating and in foundation building. He employs a large force of men and completes orders intrusted to him with satisfaction and dispatch. Mr. Strappone is now at work on the foundation for Noble & Gauss' new flats at Amsterdam avenue and 80th street, and Jenkins Bros.' flats on Morningside avenue and 117th street.

The Great International Window Cleaning Co., of No. 440 East 6th street, contract for window-cleaning and polishing, as well as house-cleaning, and a constantly increasing clientele testifies to the satisfactory manner in which they fill all orders. They will gladly furnish estimates of cost for work in their line.

The preliminary to a very large proportion of building operations is the tearing down and removing of the old structure on the site. This work, as our readers know, requires considerable experience and ample facilities, which not many firms in the city possess. Among those, however, who do possess both the experience and the facilities, is Byron W. Greene, Jr., whose yards are at 17th and 18th streets and Avenue C, with offices at No. 620 East 18th street. Mr. Greene is an adept at this work, as he has been for twelve years in the second-hand building material business, for six years as junior partner in the firm of F. W. Seagrist, Jr., & Co. As we have already announced, this partnership was recently dissolved, and Mr. Greene is now in business for himself. Mr. Greene will be happy to talk to anyone who has old buildings to sell or wants old buildings removed. He has also something to say of advantage to those who are in the market to buy second-hand building material. It is easy to reach Mr. Greene. His telephone number is 1239 18th street.

The H. C. Smith Co., of No. 259 West 27th street, have enlarged and refitted their quarters to better accommodate a constantly-increasing trade. They supply doors, sashes, blinds, panel work, etc. Architects, builders and contractors requiring goods in the way of woodwork and trim will do well to communicate with the H. C. Smith Co. before placing orders. The better quality and larger quantity orders will receive special consideration. They supplied all the work in their line to the contractors for the 23d Regiment Armory of Brooklyn. Also for two handsome churches in this city. They have also completed quite considerable other very nice work.

The roofing tin made by the N. & G. Taylor Co. holds the highest place in the market for quality and reliability. The sheets of tin made by this company are thoroughly soldered and painted on one side and are ready to be put at once on to buildings. At the New York office, No. 231 Water street, a large stock is kept of all widths, 10, 14, 20 and 28 inches. These rolls are particularly valuable to dealers who keep no tinner, for the tin is ready for use at a moment's notice. The lengths are perfectly straight and require no resquaring. Our readers should remember this brand of goods and the address of the company.

REVIEW AND RECORD.

BROOKLYN, DECEMBER 15, 1894.

Notes Gathered Here and There.

Notice is given that the Common Council has declared by resolution, its intention to repave Monroe street, now paved with cobble stones, from Sumner to Lewis avenues, with asphalt. Objections must be filed with the clerk of the Common Council on or before the 14th day of January, 1895.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday it was decided to pave Kingsland avenue, from Meeker to Maspeth avenue, with Belgian blocks, cost $31,000; Barbey street, from Jamaica to Atlantic avenue, with asphalt, cost $23,000; Rogers avenue, from Park avenue to Eastern Parkway, with Belgian blocks, cost $16,000; McDonough street, from Sumner to Lewis avenue, with asphalt, cost $9,000; Essex street, from Arlington to Atlantic avenue, with Belgian blocks, cost $6,500; Hooper street, from Bedford to Lee avenue, with asphalt, cost $6,500. The residents and property owners sent in a petition to have electric lights placed on Freeman street, between Oakland avenue and Provost street, and on Provost street, between Green street and Page avenue. The petition was granted. A resolution was introduced by Alderman Hess for leasing the premises, No. 93 Cedar street, for the 20th Precinct, at $840 a year, pending the completion of a new station house. It was adopted. The City Works Commissioner was authorized to advertise for proposals and to award contracts for lighting the streets and public buildings with gas and electricity for 1895, according to specifications approved by the board.

Mayor Schieren has appointed George W. Head, of Sheepshead Bay, as assessor for the 31st Ward. The salary is $3,500 a year, and the term five years.

On Tuesday, before Judge Van Wyck, of the City Court, the suit of Moses May, against the City of Brooklyn, was tried without a jury. May alleged that on February 23, 1887, he had purchased from the Register of Arrears a piece of property on Van Cott avenue, near Humboldt street, which was publicly sold for arrears of taxes. He paid all the indebtedness against the property and then discovered that the lot he bought was, by mistake, joined in the assessment list with the next lot, which cast a cloud on the title, and he wanted his money back. The city refused and suit was instituted, which was yesterday decided in favor of the plaintiff, giving him the full amount claimed and an extra allowance of $200, in all about $4,600.

Registrar of Arrears Hinrichs held a sale of property in arrears for taxes and assessments on Wednesday last, in the City Hall. Twenty-nine parcels were sold, realizing over $30,000. A few lots were passed.

PROPOSALS FOR CITY WORK.

Sealed proposals will be received at the Department of City Works until Friday, December 21st, at 12 M., for constructing sewer in Map N, District No. 29, 6th avenue, between 48th and 49th streets; also for erecting gas lamp-posts on Prospect place, between Troy and Schenectady avenues.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET
NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—On the market for Common Reds the conditions are somewhat less satisfactory than one week ago. Taking the general line of quotations we find operators in pretty much all cases maintaining former figures, but no one claims much animation to the demand, and some report a positively dull tone to trade. Poor weather and an accumulation of stock or jobs to about the extent of available storage room has curtailed the direct demand from consumers, but why a falling off in demand from dealers should develop is not entirely clear, especially as a great many could provide for accommodation of additional supplies without much difficulty. There is, however, just a suspicion that dealers through competition having run the market up on themselves, have quietly come to an understanding to stand off a trifle, and receivers now find it very difficult to secure important negotiation. Still it is not discoverable that the selling side has weakened to any noteworthy extent, and while quite a number of cargoes remain available for negotiation there are also a great many now berthed and covered to remain until the owners conclude it is time to seek custom, and naturally they calculate that range of value will be fuller. This move in matter of storing rather contradicts prognostications of a short time ago, but people, of course, are very apt to change their mind when new influences arise. Some very fine pates have sold at $2.50, but that is exceptional and more than the average quality would command.

LATH.—At $2 for pine and $2.20 for spruce, the market has remained firm, with all the arrivals placed in comparatively ready manner, the small fractional range on value being due to difference in quantity handled, facilities for berthing and unloading, etc. Receivers were talking quite strong at the close because they had an idea that recent easterly winds brought along pretty much everything of importance aloft, and recent advises indicate that as soon as manufacturers learned of the advancing tendency of values they shipped off about all the stock they had, and it is now difficult to make up additional cargoes.

LIME.—One of the frankest reports this week was from a receiver who confessed to not knowing anything positive about the market. The trouble he encountered, as well as many others, was in the discrepancy of statements in regard to price. On the one hand was the claim for 90c., less 5 per cent, for the favorite Eastern makes, while against many buyers were asserting they could obtain all the stock wanted at 85c., less 5 per cent, for both common and finishing, and there is no attempt to deny that dealers could get Thomason for even less money, net cash, and availed themselves of the privilege with freedom. There is still quite a fair supply of Rockland here, but the production is suspended, and it is doubtful if the vessels recently unloaded here and returning to the eastward will be given return cargoes from shed stocks right away. From interior points of production the arrivals are now of an unimportant character.

LUMBER.—Business appears to be gradually quieting down, and from the present trading basis nothing of special interest is evolved. Talking over results of the past season, the tenor of ideas expressed by the various lines of operators ranges good, bad and indifferent from a seller's standpoint, but rarely is there found anything of a positively cheerful nature. Even where there has been success attained in placing a good round of orders it was at an exceedingly narrow margin, if not, in some cases, at an actual loss, accepted under the necessity for turning stock into cash and in the face of keen competition. Of course, such conditions have been of benefit to buyer, and there is probably in some of the present accumulations a considerable quantity of staple lumber secured at lower cost than ever before experienced by the dealers who own it. Any respectable revival of trade can hardly fail to give them ample reward for their investment.

And the feeling seems to be quite general that the turn in the tide has come which is to lead on to more cheerful conditions. Possibly no one expects much animation in the distribution, for say a couple of months at least, but there is a strong belief that as soon as the new year is fairly opened a broader, fuller business will be found growing up on foundations already solidly laid. First of all, there is to be found the general growth of confidence in coming return to business prosperity, which must go a great way in removing the extreme hesitancy, and in numerous cases the greatly strained economy of consumers. So far as lumber is concerned, there are undoubtedly a large number of manufacturers of wood consuming specialties who now not only carry unusually small stocks of goods, but are poorly supplied with material as well, and, therefore, if the increased sale of their products materialize, they must at once become buyers of something to make them firm.

But the chances for building operations are steadily becoming more promising as shown in our weekly publications of work projected, and there is scarcely a doubt that a large proportion of the plans will be carried into effect just as soon as the weather permits. Furthermore, there are several important projects in contemplation which, if perfected, cannot fail to prove of vast benefit by opening up outlets for large amounts of lumber. A settlement of the rapid transit route will undoubtedly start a fresh building boom in certain suburban localities made desirable by increased facilities for communication with the city; there are extensive dockage operations talked of on the Harlem, and work of similar nature on the East River in conjunction with a scheme for very large warehouse plant, and with good general business the local box-making industry must become a large consumer.

We do not want to be considered as over sanguine or in the position of counting chickens before they are hatched, but the hopeful suggestions thrown out are from a conservative standpoint and based upon well defined indications, and the expressed opinion of operators who have carefully studied the situation. For the good of all, it is sincerely to be hoped the optimistic view is the correct one, and that the new year will bring with it an animation in trading, calculated to balance in a great measure the unpleasant experiences of the season now closing. It speaks well for the soundness of the local lumber trade, that so few failures have taken place and it might be added, as another discouraging feature, that some combinations have been formed involving control of immense supplies, and the liberal capital necessary to carry out the project was available as soon as needed.

While confidence in an expanding movement is entertained, however, there seems to be somewhat conflicting views in regard to results on values, of course where rates have settled abnormally low recuperation may naturally be expected, and there is the usual element which may always be found, who expect prompt buoyancy the moment demand revives, but as a rule the idea seems to be that such gains as may be secured will come fraction by fraction and may not get fairly started until the season has fairly progressed and especially so on the coarse grades. This latter notion is based upon the belief that while not plethora the general run of supplies is fairly liberal, and will be added to the moment there is an indicated market, because manufacturers will quite naturally compete for a while to secure a portion of the returning custom.

From sources of supply not much information of specially noteworthy nature is coming at the moment. The mills naturally are very generally shut down and shipments of lumber toward the large operating localities have practically ceased, with lumbermen generally busy in the tasks imposed in winding up the year's business and getting ready for the next campaign. The latter move, of course, includes work in the woods over which is already formulated the annual report of a light cut of logs to be made, but experience suggests it would be well to wait until a somewhat later date before forming a positive opinion upon the subject. One piece of news comes from the West in suggestions to agree upon a uniform standard for sawing in all the principal producing sections, and in view of recent experience with receipts in this and neighboring markets the move would appear to be a most judicious one.

The second auction sale of mahogany, cedar and satinwood was held by Mason & Co. (Limited), Thursday afternoon, in the public salesrooms at 7th street and East River. About 200 buyers were present, and the bidding at times was quite spirited.

Prices compared favorably with those reached at the last sale on November 15, although the bidding was less active, owing probably to lateness of the season.

The average rate on cedar logs was 6c. per foot, Cuban and Mexican mahogany brought 7@8c. and 7@10c. per foot respectively. The African mahogany logs were the feature. Prices on these ranged from 12@86c. per foot. The latter price was received for a log that measured 596 feet. C. H. Benton & Co., of Cincinnati, bought the log, which was opened and showed considerable choice grain.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

THE WEST.

The Northwestern Lumberman as follows:

While it is recognized that there will be a full, and perhaps increased input of logs in the western portion of the Lake Superior region, on account of the necessity of saving burned pine, it is also seen that the older districts, especially in Michigan, are likely to turn out less logs this season than heretofore. The supply of Canadian logs for the Saginaw and Huron shore districts can no more than offset the natural decline of input in the old fields which were heretofore a resource. Altogether the total input of logs in the field at large is not likely to amount to a burdensome surplus. Certainly it will not, should there be a rising demand for lumber, of which there is now a fair prospect.

Thus, while the conditions of the closing season may not indicate an abnormally increased requirement and high prices next year, it seems fairly certain that the extreme depression of the past eighteen months has entirely been left in the rear, and that henceforward there will be improvement, firmer prices and renewed prosperity to manufacturers and dealers.

Reports from the majority of white pine centres this week indicate a generally firmer tone in the market. This change has come later in the season than is usually the case, but it is probable that it will be more pronounced as the winter passes. Stocks are known to be certainly not excessive. A moderate winter trade will greatly reduce them, and supply a fair spring demand will render scarce many items in wholesale stocks. The only menace to a stronger market condition is the comparatively large stocks on the Mississippi River, which are being pushed eastward to an unusual degree in the eagerness to reduce them before the first of the year. This aggressive effort east of the river is consequent on the failure of the crops to the westward, which has reduced the volume of trade in that part of the country.

At Chicago the market closes with short green pine stuff selling at $9, and dry at $9.25, and possibly at $9.50 in some instances. The market for long piece stuff is stronger than a month ago, and late sales have been made at an advance of 50 cents a thousand. In other features the market remains about as it has been for weeks.

As a general proposition the market has improved since election. It would doubtless have done still better had the weather been favorable early in November. Prices are firm at quotations, and altogether the cargo business has gone into winter quarters in a healthier condition than was thought probable two months ago.

Receipts for the season, by water, are about at an end. Several cargoes have arrived during the week, and some of the steam barges will continue to make trips while there is no ice in the harbors at mill points. But as a general thing the yard docks have been cleared and the sorters and pilers laid off for the winter. Stocks on hand are now a known quantity, and dealers are beginning to feel that they should stop cutting prices. On account of the considerable local requirement prevailing there is a fair inquiry between yards for sorts, and it is taking such a range as to indicate moderate supplies all round. Should the local demand continue good all winter stocks will become much broken, and specials, already meagre in supply, will reach positive scarcity. There will be some shipping in from the mills by rail, yet supplies will run short in several particulars. This should induce a strengthening of prices. At least cutting should cease and a firmer basis be maintained.

A steady gain is noticeable in the poplar market, although the improvement is slow. Inquiries are more numerous than they were a month ago, and on good lumber especially, prices are firmer. The supply of dry lumber is comparatively scarce, though demand has not been sufficiently large up to this time to develop any marked shortages in the supply as a whole.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman as follows:

Lack of snow is reported from all logging districts, and hauling is made difficult. With a good fall of snow and then continued cold weather for a period logging conditions would be greatly helped. Operations were begun early in the woods this fall, owing to the desire to get at the burned timber ahead of the worms, and those who were in the field early are having favorable conditions under which to work, excepting that snow is needed nearly everywhere.

There are those who feel confident that next season will see better prices prevail for lumber. The inventory of stock that nearly every manufacturing concern has recently taken has shown that certain grades are deplorably short in many instances, and this condition of affairs encourages an advance. There is a feeling that lumber can be bought cheaper this fall than it will be sold in the future. Another thing which looks encouraging for dealers of lumber is the signs of activity among architects and builders of the larger cities who are busy with plans for structures that will go up next spring. A good deal of building for next year is being gotten under way and the promise of it makes lumbermen feel better.

METALS.—It has been a comparatively quiet market for pretty much all the principal lines of metals during the week and few changes of an important character are developed. Copper ap

LAST year at this time the business community was set on thorns by dire predictions of the results of the settlements at the close of the year. January came with nothing very serious occurring. We are now approaching the end of a year which has been one vigorous fight to keep things going, to end in seeing that consumption has not yet got up to a very limited production, of which fact the recent large sale of cotton goods and the accumulations of iron on the makers' hands are expressive examples. We are buying and will continue to buy a great deal from abroad, for which settlements will have to be made in some form, if not in goods, then in gold. Still our position is better than it was a year ago. There are more people employed and even the moderate results now obtained were not possible at all at this time last year. The security market has been as unpleasantly surprised by the acceptance of the Carlisle bill as a basis for currency discussion in the House as it was agreeably disturbed a week before by the passage of the Pooling bill. What seems remarkable is that Mr. Carlisle, of all men in the world, who cannot be considered an altogether successful Secretary of the Treasury, should be called in as an expert to deal with a fiscal trouble of such proportions as that of our currency. It does not follow that a doctor who has helped to make a man sick is able to cure him. Probably he ought to; but can he? The principle upon which Mr. Carlisle's services have been accepted, seems to be one of some responsibility for existing conditions. Of course, his suggestions are doomed to defeat, but the worst of it is that they are taking up the time that should be given to devising temporary remedies, pending the preparation of a comprehensive curative course. But Congress may have more pleasant surprises in store for us. It is clearly in an amiable and tractable frame of mind, and has abandoned the Vanderbiltian opinion of the public for the time being. If it can be shown a clear and proper course to help business, it will no doubt take it, and this makes the situation hopeful.

THE movement of gold has lost its usual significance. Here the security market advanced in the face of exports of that metal, in London large shipments to France have no influence whatever on discount rates, while the accumulations of the Bank of France are becoming burdensome to it in the payment of a duty on the note representation of the gold reserve, for which there is no demand. Such is the plethora of idle money in the great financial centres that reversing the old order of things the departure of gold is a benefit and the receipt of any a disadvantage proportionate to the volume of the receipt. It is only the United States Treasury that suffers by the export of gold. British trade returns for November show a decline in the value of imports of $2,725,000, and an increase in the value of exports of $2,145,000. These results are accepted as indicating no very marked recovery in trade, but that the check to the downward tendency begun in the previous months is sustained. The movement in South African gold mining shares is drawing attention to the realities that the so-called Kaffir-circus represents. Sixty-three shares are dealt in with a total nominal capital of $75,500,000, and with a market value of $215,400,000. Only thirty of these shares have paid or pay dividends. These have a nominal capital of $34,000,000, and a market value of $118,500,000; dividends paid since 1887 amount to about $20,000,000. It will be seen from these figures how very large a part of this movement is gambling pure and simple. The introduction of these shares in the Parisian market is giving anxiety to conservative elements there. The Grand Trunk Railway Company has made a loan to tide itself over next year: its estimated deficiency of fixed charges for the current year is $750,000. Suez Canal shares have got back to figures not quoted since 1881. Receipts of the canal have increased largely this year, and the Madagascar expedition and anticipated larger China trade is expected to do still more for them in the coming year. Provisional returns of the French vintage are satisfactory, compared with the average for the past ten years. One of the features of the German Bourse reform bill is a register in which the names of all operators on time would have to be entered if their contracts are to be enforceable in the courts. It is not surprising that if this feature is characteristic of the whole bill that it creates general apprehension as well as opposition. Austria and Hungary have both in prospect measures to help their agricultural population, who are suffering because of the decline in the prices of cereals. In Austria it is proposed to grant farmers loans of money, which are to be expended in making their land more productive. In Hungary a similar suggestion prevails, but to be operated through an agricultural bank. Notwithstanding its recent scare, the Vienna market has recovered its old-time buoyancy. The political crisis in Italy does not affect Italian securities adversely; so far as the markets are concerned, the scandals with which one political party is trying to undo the other are old tales.

IF the hearings that have been had before the Springer Committee on Mr. Secretary Carlisle's plan for reforming the currency and the discussion of the same measure in the press prove anything, it is that Congress ought to go slow in adopting any suggestions on this subject. The data upon which action can be taken is not perfected. Mr. St. John's belief that the United States as a debtor nation cannot maintain its currency on a gold basis is startling. Very surprising, indeed, is the suggestion of partial repudiation which comes from President Williams, of the Chemical National Bank, who advocated before the committee the redemption of silver certificates and perhaps the Sherman Treasury notes in silver bullion at its market value at the Government's option. Mr. Carlisle in illustrating one feature of his plan stated that in Great Britain no notes under the value of five pounds or twenty-five dollars were issued. A leading New York paper, which has always taken the position of an authority on economic questions, corrects Mr. Carlisle by saying that that is true of England alone, because in Scotland and Ireland one-pound or five-dollar notes issue. As a matter of fact, they issue in all three countries, because some of the English provincial chartered banks besides those of Scotland and Ireland issue them. A great nuisance they are, too, to a man in London who has them, because they are not current and he has to pay a discount for collection the same as for foreign money. This is what would probably be the case with many of the notes issued under Mr. Carlisle's plan if it should be adopted. So we have a great disagreement of the practitioners, the experts and the authorities. If Congress acts wisely it will not attempt to deal with the currency question in its entirety, but confine itself to finding temporary assuagement of the most glaring evils, particularly the weakness of the gold reserve, and leave to its successor, which will not be hampered in point of time, the duty of grappling with the rest. It will know, too, how much of our present trouble is due to inherent defects in the currency system, and how much to falling off of the Federal receipts. A new bad system would be much worse than the old one; bad as that is we know what to expect from it; in the other case we would only discover it from another course of painful symptoms like those we have endured in the past three or four years.

INVESTIGATION shows that Trinity Church Corporation is the latest victim of the sensational press. With the usual recklessness of such papers, everything that supported the view they want to present has been published without examination. Their haste and ignorance has been so great that the corporation has been held responsible for the condition of houses they do not own, and of others on leased land and over which they had no further control than that ordinarily belonging to lessors. When the great estate which Trinity possesses was first vested in it, it was either farm land or respectable residence property. In the course of time, with the northward movement of the better classes, houses, built originally for private residences, degenerated into tenements, and are now only awaiting the expiration of leases to take another transition, this time into business property, where it will doubtless permanently remain. So far as the administration of the estate is concerned, the Trinity Corporation can only be guided by business principles, whatever charitable disposition is made of the income. The very people who complain loudest now would be equally vociferous if the corporation had spent large sums in remodelling old houses for the short time that they are to remain tenements. It is useless to talk in this connection about the tenements over which the corporation has no control. Of those for which it is directly responsible, competent and unprejudiced examination would show that they are neither better nor worse than other tenements owned by conscientious, prudent people. No individual owner of property in the district where most of the Trinity land is situated, considering the uncertainty that surrounds its disposition in the near future, would be blamed because he refused to incur inevitable loss by rebuilding tenements which have grown old and may be lacking in what are termed "improvements," but which are not always unalloyed benefits to the tenants. Nor should the Trinity corporation be. Where health is endangered the authorities have ample powers to intervene. Tenants are, too, very prompt in calling in their aid. A Trinity tenement is undoubtedly a tenement and not an uptown residence mislocated, but it is such because no better use can be found for the site on which it stands and its condition and surroundings are what they are because of the habits of its occupants, whose habits would stay with them in a palace, because of the neglect of the city authorities, charged with the duties of keeping the streets clean and guarding the health of the community, and finally, because in such property there is a continued giving way in some part or another and a constant need for repairs.

Architecture and the Speculative Builder.

IT is well known in general terms that the edification of New York City has been largely the work of the Speculative Builder, but it would be interesting to have determined for us upon how much of the brick and mortar of the metropolis has the finger of the commercial maker of houses been set. Were the facts before us we would see with a distinctness not possible without them that this craftsmen-merchant is the true Deming through whose activity the forces of the city assume outward and substantial form as an integral part of the metropolis. An enormous part of all the building, not work of replacement or transformation, done in New York in the last twenty-five years is the labor of the Speculative Builder, whose activity to-day gives no sign of slackening.

Under these circumstances it is distressing to be assured by eminent authority that the work of the Speculative Builder, viewed from the high seat of Architecture, is exceedingly poor stuff—thin where not vicious—and that one may rightly be doubtful, very doubtful, whether the rows of homes that have arisen in recent years like mushrooms are, artistically speaking, at all superior to the speculation-built houses erected a quarter of a century ago, which we all agree deserve to be damned and pulled down. Improvement in the plan and interior fittings of the more modern house is conceded. We print the substance of this critic's judgment in another column.

Now, to be spoken to in this strain is not pleasant, for it may be suspected that all of us rather pride ourselves and even give ourselves superior airs about it, that we have become sanely artistic, and have passed, as frequently do children who are nurtured in the advantages of their parents' wealth, into a stage of development greatly superior to that which our forefathers had reached.

To be assured that we have made no progress, and really are not any more exalted than were our forbears, who numbered themselves among the architecturally elect as soon as they had acquired a brownstone mansion with a complete set of Corinthian columns, is to touch a pet sensibility harshly. Too harshly, we think. In our judgment it is possible to demonstrate to any candid critic that the average of the contemporary work of the Speculative Builder is a higher average than that which prevailed twenty-five or even fifteen years ago. And yet it must be confessed the average, high as it may be comparatively, is still a decidedly low one.

The "average citizen"—an individual wherever you find him, who is on cordial terms with his day and surroundings—will probably feel inclined to fight this judgment. His eye is charmed with the newness of contemporary domestic architecture. The variety, freshness and color presented by those districts in which the Speculative Builder has been working lately impose upon him, and the pleasant spick and span air of recency which the houses wear he has vaguely attributed to artistic quality. Besides, being commodities, these houses naturally have been manufactured to suit his "taste"—that personal itch as an irreverent commentator calls it—and it is so easy even for the most guarded to fall victims to their predilections. But, if we carefully put aside the superficial and accidental attractions of the contemporary work of our builders and the value d'ensemble, as the French say, which distinctly marks many of the blocks of dwellings uptown, we will find, we fear, that our critic is warranted in saying that the greater part of the productions of the Speculative Builder are artistically either commonplace, thin or vulgar. They reflect, it is true, when compared with similar work of twenty-five years ago, the higher state of architecture in this country to-day; but though the hand is the hand of Esau, the voice is the voice of Jacob. We have in these designs the language of the studio vulgarized by the chapman. There are of course many very notable and gratifying exceptions to these remarks.

These defects are due to the hostility of the Speculative Builder to the trained architect. If our manufacturer of houses does not labor himself upon the design of his house, and he is frequently a temerous person, he employs without compunction the lack draughtsman, an irresponsible drudge who works a restless pencil and a few turbid ideas for a fee not recognized by the professional code. This effort to save a small number of dollars is the root of the evil. The builder grudges the extra expense which trained professional service would entail upon him. The Goodman, too, deludes himself that he knows a thing or two about architecture, acquired in Dogberry fashion, and, moreover, to be fair to him, experience perhaps has demonstrated to him that the architect's designs lack somewhat of the fetching, selling qualities—the irreverent treatment of artistic principles—which captures the eye of the average house-hunter who wants architecture not as a quiet delight, as a gentle distinction to his intimate surroundings, but as a noisy ostentation bawling from his house front. Here the public join hands with the builder in making the city hideous, for we must assume that the people who pay for these architectural aberrations are pleased with them and find in them something suited to their tastes.

Of course it is impossible to ever make New York City a really beautiful town, so long as the designing of our homes is entrusted to uneducated draughtsmen and to men whose training in architecture began and ended with the trowel. The question suggests itself, won't people pay for art in the design of their homes? We know that the public willingly pay for authentic art in matter of furniture, pictures, sculpture or ceramics. Would these people hesitate to pay a few hundred dollars, when buying a house, for a design from an architect of repute? We would like to see some Speculative Builder put this matter to the test. We can't believe that people who in almost everything else they buy are ready to pay something for the reputation of a maker, would hesitate to do likewise in their purchases of architecture.

Pay your taxes before the first of January and escape the penalty of 7 per cent to be imposed from the first day of October on all bills unpaid before the new year. A penalty of 1 per cent was added on December 1st.

Permission to extend the line of the Forty-second Street, St. Nicholas Avenue and Manhattanville Railroad Company through 86th street, from 10th to 8th avenue, to connect with the line running through Central Park, has been granted by the Board of Aldermen, on condition, however, that one fare only shall be charged from any point on the company's line to another. When the extension is built cars will run from the Boulevard, through 86th street and across Central Park to the East River.

The "Peremptory Sale" of 27th and 104th street properties announced by William Kennelly for Tuesday was evidently a misnomer, the two parcels offered being knocked down to a representative of the owner or owners.

H. H. Cammann and J. Romaine Brown were apparently interested spectators a few days ago at L. J. Phillips & Co.'s sale of Washington Heights property in the Broadway Salesroom.

The "Dorincourt" apartment house, Nos. 55 and 57 East 76th street, was disposed of under foreclosure this week for $130,000. The sale had been frequently announced some months ago, but was invariably adjourned and finally without date. The property was recently readvertised and sold on Tuesday to the attorneys of the plaintiffs, who are the Duchess of Marlborough and others, trustees under the will of the late Louis C. Hamersley, her first husband.

The case of a tenant against the landlord of No. 1321 Avenue A, who was charged with endangering the lives of the tenant and family by removing the doors and windows of their flat on last Saturday in his efforts to dislodge them for non-payment of rent, came up in the Yorkville Court on Tuesday morning, and was dismissed by Police Justice Meade, who tersely reviewed the case as follows: "Guntzel owned the house and had a right to remove the doors and windows. If damage resulted the injured party has recourse to a suit for damages."

An officer of the Real Estate Auctioneers' Association made the positive statement a day or two ago that its members would never again transact business in the Real Estate Exchange, and added "come weal or woe" they would stick to the salesroom at No. 111 Broadway.

What looked to be an auction bargain on Tuesday was a purchase at a sale of No. 316 Washington street by order of the executors of the estate of Anna R. Kling. The property was knocked down at $25,200. It was sold in May, 1885, for $27,000; in April, 1890, for $32,400, and changed hands again early last year for a consideration expressed as nominal.

Six vacant lots on Amsterdam avenue, one on the corner of 213th street, and five 50 feet north of it, sold under a decree of partition on Tuesday for about $1,300 in the aggregate less than the sum they brought at auction about three years ago. "Ted" Donovan, the buyer of the plot north of the corner at $4,913, was the purchaser at the former auction of the lots adjoining and recently valued them at $1,500 each.

As a result of the recent announcement of the purchase and proposed improvement by the Woman's Hospital of the block front on Central Park West, between 92d and 93d streets, the New York Life Insurance Company is said to have raised its price for the plot of twenty-two lots on the block lying to the south and extending from Central Park West, some $10,000. In the company's recent annual statement the lots were valued at $360,000. An offer of that amount, a broker says, was refused a short time ago.

At the auction sale on Monday by Peter F. Meyer & Co. of the buildings condemned by the city in connection with the widening of College place and Greenwich street, the forty offered, brought from $3 to $490 apiece.

"Penny wise and pound foolish" would seem an adage that could appropriately be quoted in connection with the management of the seemingly untenanted building on the northwest corner of Broadway and 13th street. Built at large cost and completed some years ago, the big structure has since remained entirely vacant for the reason, apparently, that the owners elected to do their own renting regardless of agents whose long experience had qualified them to handle that and similar buildings in a manner satisfactory to owners and lessees alike. The sign "This Building For Rent" has almost become part of the structure itself, and when seen at all by would-be tenants, it was generally ignored when it was found that application would have to be made somewhere in Wall street. After long waiting a lease of the store and part of the basement has been made to a corporation for three years from January 1st, at from $22,500 to $30,000 per year. The rate looks reasonable. How much more profitable it might have been to have placed the renting in trustworthy and experienced hands on the completion of the building. In the ordinary run of events, tenants would probably have been secured by an agent long ago for the entire structure.

The 42d Street, Manhattanville and St. Nicholas Avenue Railroad Co. has obtained the consent of the Board of Aldermen to construct a branch surface line through West 56th street, from Central Park west to Amsterdam avenue, connecting with the line now running through Central Park and across East 86th street to the Astoria ferry. One fare will be charged for the trip across town.

An unusually quick sale was consummated this week. On Monday, five days after an agreement to sell, at about $130,000, had been made, the property, Nos. 580-584 3d avenue, was transferred. Hoffman Bros. negotiated the sale to the buyer, whose representative was William Kennelly.

The ease with which money can be obtained on real estate security nowadays is shown by the recording of a mortgage on Thursday for $30,000, at 5 per cent, on a corner to which title was taken the same day for a consideration of $36,000.

Owners of property and residents in West 79th street and its vicinity will hail with pleasure the announcement that the dump at the foot of that street is to be speedily abolished. The most of the advantage in the values of property was probably discounted when the legislation under which this dump is to be discontinued was procured, but the comfort of its absence is still to come.

An Old Firm in a New Home.

GEORGE J. KENNY & BRO. TAKE UP THEIR QUARTERS IN THEIR NEW BUILDING WITH INCREASED FACILITIES FOR BUSINESS.

The old-established and well-known firm of George J. Kenny & Bro., real estate agents, have taken possession of their new offices in the building they have just constructed and finished on the site of their old office, No. 80 East Houston street, one door west of Bowery, where they have been for some years past, and which they recently vacated during the construction of their new building.

As the old office of the firm became too small for the large agency business they conduct, and their business having been developed and increased to quite a large extent during the past few years, they planned and erected this new building mainly for the purpose of having large and spacious offices, on the main floor of which they now have nearly three times as much space as heretofore, and, in addition, have fitted up entirely new offices, planned in every respect for creating perfect working facilities and conveniences and modern in every detail.

The building has four stories, built of brick and stone, with the first or main floor occupied for the real estate offices, and having a basement store, in size about 24x65, and above the main floor two large flats, containing eight rooms, with all modern improvements and conveniences; the main floor, of course, Messrs. George J. Kenny & Bro. occupy entirely for their own business, and the other parts, stores and flats, they will rent out to desirable tenants.

The main or front office is about 22 feet x 40 feet in size, with marble floor; partitions and desks are furnished in quartered oak, divided up into departments for renting, collections, sales, insurance, cashier, etc., each of which is a separate and well-organized system by itself.

The dimensions of the rear or private office are about 22 feet x 24 feet, and has been planned to give excellent light and air, and fitted up in the main with a view to the accommodation and comfort of clients and landlords when transacting any business they may have with the firm in the management of their real estate and collection of rents.

The large business Messrs. George J. Kenny & Bro. now carry on has been built up by assiduous attention to the requirements and wants of property owners during the course of a quarter of a century. The founder was James Kenny, who carried on the business alone for some years, and in the course of time, as his two sons grew older, brought them in and gave them the benefit of his experience by which they are now profiting. In the year 1885 the firm of James Kenny & Son was formed and composed of the founder and his son, George J. Mr. James Kenny retired from the firm in 1891, and his two sons, George J. and William J., took up the business, which they now carry on under the firm name of George J. Kenny & Bro.

This firm has always been engaged in and made a specialty of the real estate agency business, consisting of entire management of estates, collecting of rents and taking full charge of property. They have now under their charge the management of property in all parts of this city, representing many old and wealthy estates, including those in the hands of trustees, guardians and executors, as well as the individual properties of other clients, many of whom are non-residents, and distributed through different parts of this country and Europe, where the firm's statements, with checks and drafts, are sent monthly or quarterly, giving the full and detailed account of rents collected, disbursements, taxes, water rents, etc., in which all knowledge desired of the management of their real estate can be obtained without any trouble to them or their presence in this city, notwithstanding the fact that they may not have seen their property in many years.

Real Estate Market.

The market has succumbed to ante-holiday influence this week, and consequently the reports of transactions indicate a decreased activity as compared with that which had prevailed since the first of the month. Some important sales of downtown business property in addition to those given below have also been negotiated, the two most notable being of Broadway parcels located not far from the old New York Hotel site. One of them has been bought by a builder for improvement in the spring, and the other—a modern structure—for investment. No particulars can for the present be obtained of the sales, nor of several others of less valuable property. The demand for lots continues active and seems to be spreading to districts that have hitherto been overlooked. Their sale is the most encouraging feature of the market, inasmuch as it indicates extensive building operations next year. A fair demand for private dwellings has been felt this week, due probably to the mild weather. Flat and tenement property has not been neglected by buyers. Taken all together, the result of the last six days' business should be considered satisfactory in view of the near approach of a new year.

The average daily attendance at the auction rooms was materially reduced this week and the usual scarcity of prospective buyers on the hunt for bargains was more than ever apparent. The offerings at voluntary sale failed to meet with success. L. J. Phillips & Co. succeeded on Tuesday in disposing of two villa sites on Fort Washington Heights, owned by Zemery West. The prices obtained appeared to be fairly good, but did not meet the owner's ideas of values, hence his refusal to let the sale continue, and the withdrawal of ten other plots that were to have been offered. Mayor-elect Strong's private secretary, Job E. Hedges, was the buyer of both parcels for a client, Mr. Schramm, who owns the land and residence adjoining on the south. At the Real Estate Exchange on the following day Richard V. Harnett & Co. found it necessary to withdraw a large parcel of vacant 23d Ward property, a plot on Spayten Dayvil Parkway, 24th Ward, the dwelling No. 17 West 96th street, and a Brooklyn house, owing to the shyness of bidders. The only sale of the week that induced spirited bidding was one held by John T. Boyd at the Real Estate Exchange on Thursday, by order of executors, of No. 93 Lexington avenue. A tenant was anxious to buy the house and so was the owner of a property adjoining. The bidding started at $14,000 and the latter secured the house on a final bid of $22,500.

At the Broadway salesroom, on Monday, two foreclosure sales were adjourned sine die. The properties were No. 2211 1st avenue and No. 148 West 82d street. On Tuesday a similarsale of the southeast corner of the Boulevard and 95th street was postponed until January 4. Parcels offered at voluntary sale on the same day and withdrawn were No. 120 East 27th street, No. 311 East 114th street, the north-west corner of Spring and Washington streets, and three of the five put up, of the Washington Heights plots. Wednesday's adjournments included two properties under foreclosure—No. 75 West 118th street and a gore lot on the west side of 7th avenue extending from 117th street to St. Nicholas avenue—both until January 2. An executor's sale of Nos. 1137 to 1141 Madison avenue was adjourned without date to await a legal settlement of a dispute between the heirs. On Thursday foreclosure sales of Nos. 359 and 361 West 117th street went over until January 3.

The sale is by order of the Supreme Court in partition.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

The air was heavily charged with rumors yesterday of big deals consummated. A well-known Broadway brokerage firm was credited with having put one through that involved anywhere from $400,000 to $900,000. A heavy investment in 5th avenue property south of 20th street was also talked of. Nothing definite, however, could be learned regarding either of the alleged sales or of numerous others said to be of almost equal moment.

Daniel Birdsall & Co. have sold the five-story business structure, 37.6x100, Nos. 76 Greene street, east side, between Broome and Spring streets. It is understood that the buyer is one of the recent owners of Nos. 707 and 709 Broadway, sold a few weeks ago by the same brokers to John T. Williams for about $330,000.

Horace Goodwin has sold for Kalisher & Prager to a building firm for improvement a plot 80x97 on 5th street, between Avenues B and C, for about $55,000.

M. & L. Hess has sold for Mandelbaum & Lewine the plot about 48x190, Nos. 97 and 99 Charles street, and Nos. 100 and 102 Perry street, to Builders Giblin & Taylor, for improvement.

John N. Golding has sold for Mandelbaum & Lewine the two five-story stone front dwellings, on lot 31.7x120xirregular, Nos. 235 and 237 West 14th street, for about $10,000. The sellers bought the property in July at what was considered a low figure, about $35,500, a price $1,500 less than it had sold for in 1885.

F. Klingman has sold the five-story flat with store, on lot 25x98.9, No. 145 West 35th street, for about $38,000.

Hiram Merritt has sold the four and two-story brick building, 25x64.5x33.6x about 47, No. 95 James street and No. 83 New Chambers street, for Mrs. D. Schmucker, at $10,250.

Hoffman Bros. have sold for Charles Schlesinger the seven-story marble and iron front business structure, about 52.6x54x19.6x54.5, No. 92 Liberty street, southwest corner of Temple street, to John G. Agar, of the firm of Agar, Ely & Fulton, but not at the price reported yesterday by several of the daily papers.

The four-story stone front dwelling, 25x60x98.9, No. 25 East 37th street, has been sold by the heirs of the late Theodore Crane to a Miss Winthrop.

Gutwillig Bros. have sold for Builders Smith & Johnsen the new seven-story business building, on lot 24x101.7x17x108.3, No. 79 4th avenue, east side, 48 feet north of 10th street, to a merchant at about $85,000, for investment, and to Hoeberman & Co., a building firm, the lot, 25x90, with old three-story brick dwelling, No. 12 Morton street, south side, 137.6 west of Bleeker street, for about $16,500. The purchasers will improve the lot by erecting a five-story and basement brick flat.

Emyth & Ryan have sold for Jefferson M. Levy and ex-Mayor Smith

Ely the three and four-story brick building, on plot 95x92, Nos. 224 to 230 East 20th street, formerly owned and tenanted by the Post Graduate Medical School and Hospital, to the Selician Missionary Sisters of the Sacred Heart, for about $65,000. On or before February 1 the structure will be occupied by the Columbus Hospital, now at No. 41 East 12th street. Mr. Levy took title to the property in September for a consideration of $60,000.

D. Kempner & Son have sold for William Stubenbord the four-story brick building, with store, on lot 20x100, No. 390 8th avenue, to T. Morgan for $29,000.

Mrs. D. H. Blakely has sold at $1,000 advance the four-story brick dwelling, on lot 18x100.5, No. 141 West 45th street, reported purchased for $18,000 by Mrs. Ella S. Conkling two weeks ago.

School Commissioner Randolph Guggenheimer has bought of Herman Wronkow Nos. 39 and 41 Lispenard street, running through to No. 332 Canal street, a six-story store and loft building, on lot 50.2 x111.6x24.10 on Canal street, x56x25.4x50.6.

Folsom Bros. have sold for Alfred A. Fraser the three-story brick dwelling, on lot 20x about 50, No. 45 East 12th street, to Mary E. Robbins.

The two five-story stone front single flats, on plot 40x75.5, Nos. 364 and 366 West 58th street, have been sold by Nicholas Witschen for about $47,000. The seller took title in April for a consideration of $45,000.

It is understood now that the sale of the St. Luke's Hospital property on 5th avenue, 54th and 55th streets, contracted for in May of last year is practically off. The buyer, who it is at last positively stated was Lewis S. Samuel, has apparently taken advantage of the fact of the inability of the trustees to deliver the property on January 1, 1895, the date agreed upon, and has entered into an arrangement with them whereby they will control the sale of the lots and give him any profit that may be obtained over the contract price, $2,400,000. Douglas Robinson & Co. have been substituted for Charles A. Seymour as brokers with that object in view, and will act more especially in the interest of the trustees. It is said to be highly probable that with unity of action by the owners and Mr. Samuel two sales of lots will be closed in short order. There are two prospective buyers for the four lots on the northwest corner of 5th avenue and 54th street, with two adjoining on the street. Broker John N. Golding made an offer of $750,000 for these particular lots some time ago, but it was refused. The other plot that it is expected will be sold consists of the most westerly 200 feet on 55th street, valued at $45,000 to $50,000 per lot. The Astor estate has recently set a price, $650,000, on the plot of three avenue and two street lots on the southeast corner of 5th avenue and 55th street. The following letter from Charles A. Seymour to THE RECORD AND GUIDE is self-explanatory:

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

It was asserted recently in the Evening Post and Journal of Commerce that I had subscribed $11,000 toward the purchase of the St. Luke's Hospital property. I shall be glad if you will state that I have never had any interest in it except the commission, about the balance of which there has recently been some disagreement between the trustees and myself, owing to my declining to be involved in the postponement from January 1 to July 1 prox., preferring to relinquish my position as broker for its resale.

CHAS. A. SEYMOUR.

A lot of foolish chatter, some of which was printed in daily papers, has been indulged in this week in reference to a transaction which involved over $200,000, having failed to go through on account of an alleged premature announcement having been published. The announcement was one contained in THE RECORD AND GUIDE last Saturday of a report being in circulation that the southeast corner of 5th avenue and 33d street had been sold. A brokerage firm has since admitted that a verbal agreement to sell had been obtained from the owners on Wednesday and on the strength of it a resale of the property had been effected. Thus it will be seen that the report was the reverse of premature. No written contract had been secured, however, by the brokers, owing to some unexplained delay, but one was to have been drawn on Saturday. When the principals met on that day, according to agreement, the owners or one of them, refused to carry out the verbal agreement and that circumstance has led to the assertions that premature publication broke up the deal. The truth is that on the previous Thursday a broker, who also had a customer for the property, made an offer of the same amount that it had been agreed to sell at. Being informed that negotiations had been entered into with others for a sale at that figure he left, and having acquainted his client with the condition of affairs, was instructed to make another offer at $5,000 more. He did so on Friday, and the seemingly sudden desire of two persons acting independently to acquire the property caused the owners to so greatly exaggerate its actual value that on the following day the original buyer met with a positive refusal to sell.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

Walker & Lawson have purchased, through Stabler & Smith, from Gustavus L. Lawrence, the plot, 100x87.11x100.1x91.8, on the south side of 94th street, 254.8 west of Columbus avenue, and resold same, with a loan, to Builder George A. Fisher for improvement. Walker & Lawson have also sold the plot, 50.11x100, on the southwest corner of the Boulevard and 107th street, to Daniel S. Slawson for $35,000. The plot was sold at auction about three years ago for $32,000.

Edmund G. Raubitschek reports a sale by Salomon Davidson of No. 133 East 83d street, northwest corner of Lexington avenue, 16.1x102.2, to John Williams for improvement at $25,000. The seller bought the property in August for $18,000.

William H. Smith, Jr., has sold for R. N. Waller two lots on 166th street, 100 feet west of Amsterdam avenue, to John Carl for about $8,500.

Morgan D. McMonagal has sold for Mr. Prigge the five-story flat with store, 25x96x100, No. 951 Columbus avenue, southwest corner of 107th street, and for Henry Strumek to Charles H. Hopper the adjoining flat, 25x90x100, No. 952 Columbus avenue, for $25,500.

Gutwillig Bros. have sold to Builder Luther F. Hartwell for improvement the four excavated lots, 100x102.2, on the north side of 71st street, 125 feet west of West End avenue. These are the last of twenty-four lots purchased by them in that block two years ago, the lots previously sold having since been improved.

Builders Powers & Weleker have bought of William J. Ellis, for $17,500, the lot, 28.8x100, with 35 rear, on the east side of West End avenue, 100 feet south of 92d street, which purchase carries with it the right to one-half of a 40 foot lane adjoining on the south. The buyers will have plans drawn for a fine five-story flat to be erected on the lot.

Nathan Kaplan, of Brooklyn, has sold the five-story brick tenement, 25x75x100.11, No. 412 East 124th street, to Adolph Hinderberg.

Barnett & Co. have sold for Mrs. Cora True the five-story brick flat, with store, 25x about 75x80, on the southeast corner of 8th avenue and 119th street, for $15,000.

John F. Doyle & Sons, conjointly with Lalor & Beringer, have sold to Clement March the five story flat with store, lot 25x100, No. 1153 3d avenue, east side, 25 feet north of 67th street. The parcel adjoins the property recently purchased by Mr. March through the same brokerage firms.

The five-story flat with store, 25x90x100, No. 764 Columbus avenue, between 97th and 98th streets, has been sold by Mr. Cordes for something over $30,000 to a Mr. Tucker. The adjoining flat, No. 766, is also reported sold by Joseph Hassell.

William Buhler has sold the four-story brick and stone front dwelling, 20x60, and extension x 100.8, No. 49 West 88th street, to Vincent C. King. This house is one of a row illustrated in THE RECORD AND GUIDE of November 3.

C. R. Gregor & Son have sold for Builders Livingston & Forster the four-story stone front dwelling, 20x60x102.2, No. 22 West 82d street, for about $43,000 to Mrs. H. Hencken.

Builders Patrick Farley & Son have sold the four-story stone front dwelling, 20x58x100.8, No. 52 West 89th street, to a Mr. Hess for about $38,000.

A plot, 69.4x70, on the south side of 110th street, 100 feet west of the Boulevard, is reported sold by Catharine A. Abbe, at about $18,000. The plot is a little more than half of one bought in 1874 for $10,000.

A plot of lots on the corner of 83d street and Riverside Drive was reported sold yesterday.

Henry Morgenthau and the New York Realty Co. (Flake & Dowling) are the purchasers of the sixteen lots on the north side of 106th street, west of Amsterdam avenue, reported sold last week at $9,000 each.

James W. White writes that the report of last week that he would give in part payment for the flat, No. 111 West 84th street, recently sold by Gunn & Grant, the lot on the northeast corner of the Boulevard and 113th street, was erroneous. He adds that the "two transactions were entirely independent of each other, the Boulevard corner having been sold to a cash buyer and the 84th street house purchased for cash." The brokers who negotiated both sales took title to the lot on Monday.

Building Notes.

The office building now nearly closed in on the southeast corner of William street and Maiden lane merits attention. It is somewhat of a novelty in regard to both the style of architecture adopted and the material used, although in the one case and in the other the air of newness is due rather to long disuse than to green innovation. The structure is, we believe, the only example among strictly modern "down-town" office buildings of the Dutch phase of the Renaissance, and it is built of red brick. The trimmings are of light stone or terra cotta. It is curious that either the style or the chief material should present an unfamiliar aspect to the wayfarer on the lower part of Manhattan Island. Yet there is distinctly an unfamiliar familiarity about both. A second glance at the building will perhaps carry the eye of the observer to the three and four-story houses which still linger in Maiden lane and in the vicinity, imparting an old-time flavor to the neighborhood, and recall to him the red brick, the ruddy cheerfulness of which once pervaded the city, has been ousted by its paler-faced and thinner-souled brethren. That the Renaissance of the Netherlands should be a novelty in New York is a trifle in the line of the Dutch conquest of Holland.

Apropos of the Flemish Renaissance, it is wonderful that our builders have not drawn more freely upon that style than they have. The most successful and picturesque block of houses on the West Side is in this Dutch style on West End avenue.

Isn't it about time that we reverted to the red brick again. Fashion, we see, returns upon itself. Besides, what is wrong with the red brick?

In conversation the other day, a well-known art-critic said he doubted whether the exteriors of the houses erected by the speculative builder in New York City to-day were even a shade more artistic than those of the same class built twenty-five years ago. In planning and interior fitting an immense stride forward has been made, but exteriors were, perhaps, even more vulgar and commonplace than the old brownstone fronts with the Corinthian entrances. Few, continued the speaker, even of the higher order of speculative builders, make any serious attempt to obtain an artistic design. Their sentiments and methods indeed are eminently inartistic. They possess personally no real architectural training, yet they persist in making their own designs or in intrusting them to equally untrained draughtsmen (or worse if possible), to the hack architect who grinds out plans with the print of his uncultured fingers on each of them. You can't talk of "art" to these speculative builders, said our critical friend. They don't believe in it, or rather I should say they don't believe that anything is art that does not directly appeal to themselves. You can't get these fellows to understand that in all their career they have not done anything to make their likes or dislikes in art matters of any real account. If you should ask these men to undertake to write a book because they can compose a commercial letter with some measure of accuracy, they will laugh at you; if you ask them to drive a coach and four, because they can handle the lines over the back of an old cart, they will refuse to take any such risk; if you ask them whether it would be wise to employ a common carpenter upon fine cabinet-work, or any mechanic of a lower grade to do work of the highest class, they would say no; yet they see no incongruity in trusting their own uncultured instincts upon architectural matters, and apparently believe that a design turned out by an uncultured draughtsman is quite as good as anything you can get from a well-instructed architect. Under conditions of this sort it is not wonderful that not more than one out of ten houses put up by speculative builders present a really architectural front, and perhaps not more than one in a hundred any architectural merit.

The light brick which is now being made with a rough face in imitation of stone is a sham which our builders should avoid. Treat a brick as a brick and it will give much better results than can be obtained from a poor imitation of something else.

So much that we regard as modern is not new. The records show that in 1688, when Glamis Castle in Forfarshire, Scotland, was in the hands of the decorators "two English women, Mistris Moreis and her sister," were engaged upon the work as "house-painters."

We commented some time ago upon the immense reduction that has been made within the last decade in the cost of building. Office buildings that cost $1.50 per cubic foot, and even more, can be produced by modern methods for 30c. or 40c. a cubic foot. This reduction in cost is due in no slight measure to the employment of mechanical devices in building operations. The hod-carrier, elevator, derrick and other devices worked by steam, which have superseded the slow hand labor, are too well known to be mentioned. The employment of steam power in the mechanical operation of building has, however, by no means reached its limit. At the New York building, now erecting on the block front between Waverly place and Washington place, passers-by may see a steam stone-crusher at work preparing material for the foundation. T. B. Galligan & Son have charge of the job, and with a few hands are able to do with precision an amount of work which formerly required a small regiment of men. On the line of the new Lexington Avenue Cable Road a cement stone-mixer worked by steam is in operation and attracts the attention of passers-by.

It is said that at last a practical device has been perfected for cooling houses in summer. The principal adopted is the one that forms the basis of the ammonia process of ice-making. At a comparatively small cost the new apparatus, it is said, can be placed in any house. It is in a sense automatic and will last for years. It cools the temperature of rooms by absorbing the heat, and its action is, of course, free from all moisture.

D. H. Burnham & Co., the well-known firm of Chicago architects, have just completed a building in the western metropolis the entire front of which is made of white enameled terra cotta. This ought to be a very effective material, not perhaps when used in broad masses, but for details, friezes, caps, quoins, etc. Of course the color need not be white. Artistically treated, enameled terra cotta should prove a very admirable addition on the list of building materials.

The American Surety Building on Broadway, at the southeast corner of Pine street, is being pushed toward completion rapidly. It is not fair, perhaps, to judge before the entire building is closed in and uncovered, but apparently the detail on the lower story is badly out of scale. It was carved before the ashlar was put in position, otherwise, we suspect, the architect would have made his mouldings somewhat more emphatic and visible.

To maintain the temperature of an ordinarily exposed room on the first floor at 70 degrees Fahrenheit in zero weather, one square foot of radiating surface is required for every forty cubic feet of space contained in the apartment, in addition to one square foot of radiation to every three square feet of exterior window surface, and one square foot of radiation to every thirty square feet of exterior wall surface. With a hot-air heater, three-fourths of a square inch of flue is considered equivalent to a square foot of radiation by the hot-water apparatus.

The Treadwell-Harris Baking Company will only make such interior alterations in the buildings they have bought on Montgomery and South street as will provide for the laying down of their plant. These consist mainly of tearing out and rebuilding partitions so as to alter the size of the rooms or divisions.

The Holiday Number of the Architectural Record is issued to-day, and may be obtained at all news stands. This magazine has grown greatly in popular favor of late, and to-day is by far the best of all the architectural publications we have. Its pages and illustrations are addressed not only to the architect, but to the lay reader and the student. The current issue is an unusually interesting number with a remarkable wealth of illustrations. We advise all our readers who do not subscribe regularly to the publication to purchase the Holiday Number. Price, twenty-five cents.

AN UP-TO-DATE PLANT.

The recent removal of John J. Radley & Co. (successors to Cook & Radley), structural and ornamental iron workers, from the old-time location in East 37th street to more commodious and better-equipped quarters, at the foot of East 18th and 19th streets, was necessitated by a desire to promptly and satisfactorily meet the demands of a constantly-increasing business. At the new address the firm have a modern foundry and iron railing manufactory, with double the capacity of the old 37th street foundry and shop, and since the removal many new patterns have been made. C. Taylor. Messrs. Gillies & Sons' yard is now located at Ravenswood, Long Island City, N. Y. They were, previously for twenty years at the foot of West 50th street.

A FAMOUS PIANO MAKER.

An important part of the indispensable furnishings of a home in civilized communities is a piano. New York is the great world-centre of the piano industry. One of the oldest and most renowned of the manufacturers is R. M. Walters, manufacturer of the celebrated Walters' piano. This piano has for years been in use in the public schools of this city and in many other public institutions throughout the country. Mr. Walters' warerooms are at University place and 12th street, where there is a large assortment of cabinet, upright pianos of rosewood, mahogany, French walnut and maple, for rent or sale on easy terms. The stock of new Dunham upright pianos, recently bought by Mr. Walters, is now on sale at great bargains.

A NEW SYSTEM OF ARCH AND FLOOR CONSTRUCTION TESTED.

Quite a number of architects, builders and contractors assembled at the Salvation Army Building, 14th street, near 6th avenue, last Saturday afternoon, to witness a test under the supervision of the Building Department of the Expanded Metal Fire-proof Construction Co.'s new system of arch and floor construction. Two tons of pig iron were piled high on a space one foot square at the base, and an extra bar of iron was dropped from the second story alongside the pile without damage. The test was entirely satisfactory, and we hear the arches, which can be built to span large and small spaces, will soon be introduced in several important structures throughout the city. Mr. W. P. Tostevin, manager of the company, provided a luncheon for the interested.

MORTGAGES.

A. E.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever a "P. M." occurs, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at foot of this list.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, or next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET
NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—Common Hards have presented a somewhat unsettled market, but the general result shows no real advantage for either buyer or seller. Receipts were liberal, and to be as large as ever known for this time of the year, and buyers for a time adopted a standing-off policy, but finding that course was not bringing them concessions from receivers finally came in and invested with freedom, and in the main for transfer into actual consumption. Indeed, the mild weather that has kept the river open and permitted a steady run of shipments has also served to maintain steady work on all structures under way, and the consumption of brick down to date is unquestionably greater than had been calculated upon. On quotations $6 is still named, but $5.75 seems to be a more general top rate. On average quality the standard is very well preserved, but there have been some washed lots at hand and sold for $5.25 @ $5.50. Of pales there is moderate sale at about old figures. The impression seems to be that manufacturers will continue shipments so long as the river remains open, although there may be a lull during the holiday period.

LATH.—There has been no changes of importance during the week. Arrivals were moderate, and that so near just about fit the demand, which has seemed somewhat modified, and the balance values underwent old figures at $2 @ $2.10 are quoted. Some are expected to get more by they may should buyers happen to receive lots.

LIME.—There is a story, and the market remains unchanged with quotations nominally as before. The preference of most buyers is that they have only to say they want stock to find prompt attention from a pretty good supply here. Some of the long held Rockland is said to have sold out at even lower rates than last week, with an idea prevailing that there are other parcels upon which owners would like to realize if they could find custom and make a clean up before the end of the year.

LUMBER.—There is very little in the way of new business taking place at the moment, but so far as it goes advantages remain principally with the seller. A great deal of custom carried the policy of caution to the extreme, in some cases evidently hoping that at the end of the season manufacturers would have a considerable bunch of stock upon which they would be anxious to realize quickly and at a sort of slaughter rate, but upon that calculation has fallen disappointment, and the eleventh hour buyer is the operator who has to toe the mark. Still, it is really a strength begotten of small supplies alone, and the main advantages are on strictly staple or choice goods, anything positively faulty failing to secure benefit through reflected influence. Arrivals from interior points are getting down more and more to straggling lots in the final deliveries on contracts, and pretty much everything coming to hand coastwise is now sold before arrival.

Regarding the general prospects for the new season, conditions are still referred to as quite promising. The change in the situation regarding the proposed Hudson River bridge may, it is thought likely, retard contemplated building plans in some sections of the city, but independent of that there is work enough laid out which, if fully taken up, should make matters quite lively, to say nothing of the exhalt expected from a revival of the manufacturing industries. As a rule, there is very little doing in the way of engaging stock for the fore part of the new year, except now and then an order for certain standard products, the make of which is under control. And by the way, last week, in referring to the general apparent financial strength of the local trade, by some inadvertence the word discouraging was used instead of encouraging, as intended, when noting as a feature the ample capital left to perfect large controlling combinations. The present export demand is of moderate proportions, and, while a sort of regular trade is expected for some time to come, shippers do not find encouragement to hope for much expansion.

Eastern spruce, in consequence of continued small arrivals here, found an outlet awaiting the supply, and at full former rates on desirable goods, with $16 still quoted for wide stuff. There is not, however, any large number of buyers looking for supplies, and most receivers, frankly confess their advantage to be in the fact that manufacturers have kept good their promise to cut off production and ship lightly. State spruce is firmer and selling readily enough when there is any to offer, and for the West Virginia product contracts go to book with fair freedom.

Hemlock is selling fairly to local custom, and even a good sized out-of-town order is still occasionally obtained, with prices ruling steady and offerings of stock not excessive. Carolina pine has very good sale, about as expected, in view of the fact that many Eastern and local buyers postpone their call for this description of stock until the last moment, owing to the almost certainty that there will be no interference with or addition cost of transportation.

White Pine is quiet and nominally unchanged, but seems to be pretty firm for standard inch stuff, of which there is no great amount here and nothing in the offerings to indicate that any great quantity will be found available if buyers expect concessions. Yellow Pine arrives and goes into stock on contract, and some negotiations for specials are again under way, but nothing of unusual interest attaches to the market at present.

Hardwoods generally are dull at the moment. The popular operators await result of meeting of manufacturers next month, and the end of the year influence tends to quiet negotiations over grades. Stocks of desirable quality are small, however, not only in the hands of dealers and distributors, but at points of production, and any pronounced revival of consumption must soon exert a beneficial influence throughout the entire market. Export orders are not extensive at the moment and want only choice special selections.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

THE WEST.

The Northwestern Lumberman as follows:
In a general view of the situation one pronounced feature is clearly observable; that is the prevailing confidence and hopefulness with which manufacturers and dealers are looking into the future. The unanimity of this state of mind must have its inspiration from adequate causes. Reports from all the markets this week mention the promising outlook for business. The belief is general that after the new year shall have been fairly started there will be a revival of demand, and that it will broaden and become increasingly active as the year progresses. This confidence is in sharp contrast to the prevailing mood two months ago, when operators hesitated about making a forecast of conditions. Within recent time the outlook has changed. There has been such a movement of mill product within later weeks that the surplus to be carried into the winter is much less than was anticipated early in the fall. In the wholesale markets stocks on hand are certainly not excessive in any line of soft or hard lumber, while assortments, in numerous instances, are so much broken that a continuous replenishment is necessary.

In the white pine section of the trade there is an unusual demand for special classes and sorts of lumber, something that is not commonly seen in December. The truth is that all dealers purchased cautiously throughout the season, and now that winter is at hand, with considerable trade to handle, replenishment of broken assortments must be continued.

One of the signs of the times by which operators in all kinds of lumber are inspired to confidence in demand next year is the evident determination of the manufacturers who consume lumber to resume production with full capacity after January 1. This will insure a heavier consumption than has been witnessed for more than a year.

At Chicago, dealers who are preparing lists to be issued for January are advancing the figures on a considerable number of items. One house has thus changed its list in sixty instances. Mention is made of a short supply of 10 and 12-inch 12-foot boards, while stock of 14-foot boards are not over plentiful and are inquired for. All 20-foot boards are wanted. It is said that lumber, twelve feet long generally, both in inch stock and piece stuff, is scarce. There seems to have been a lack of 12-foot logs this year.

Reports from all distributing centres continue to indicate a steady improvement in the popular market, though the effect on prices has not as yet been particularly marked. Dealers are showing a desire again to contract mill cuts and purchase lumber in large blocks for future delivery, which is a pretty good indication that they expect higher values to rule in the near future. Leading mill men are opposed to making any contracts at this time because they regard such action as detrimental to the market, and the Popular Manufacturers' Association, through its board of directors, roundly denounces what it terms the contract system.

It certainly begins to look as though popular will get back into the old basis of prices within a few months, especially if the mill men pull together.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman as follows:

Logging operations are progressing satisfactorily throughout the provinces of the Northwest, as far as cutting and skidding are concerned, but as yet the winter has been too much of an open one to permit of much hauling. The warmer weather of the last week has demoralized what good roads there were, and cold weather and snow are now badly needed. Logs are being put on the skids and left to await snow for hauling. If the winter should be an open one, it would tend to greatly reduce the log crop, but as yet the conditions are not such as to warrant any such conclusions, as there is plenty of time for hauling if early in the year snow and cold weather comes. There is no doubt but what the winter will have more or less bearing upon the log market and indirectly the lumber market of next spring.

It is said that the log cut in northern New Hampshire will be larger this year than last, and that wages will be somewhat reduced. The season has so far been very favorable for logging, snow being about one foot deep in the woods. The exodus of loggers to Canada and the upper peninsula of Michigan has stiffened the labor market of the southern peninsula and it is stated that there are few able bodied workmen in the southern peninsula anxious to work who have not jobs.

METALS.—COPPER.—Ingot has retained a comparatively steady tone, but shows no great animation, the dealings being confined mainly to small parcels, customers preferring to make frequent rather than liberal purchases. Rumors are still extant of a proposed combination of manufacturers to reduce the output, but chances are that the shrinkage of production will be only of seasonal character. On the average range of valuation we quote at 97¢-10¢, for Lake and 94¢-99¢, for casting brands. Manufactured copper has been somewhat quieter and without new feature worthy of special comment, prices remaining much the same as for some time past, and supplies equal to the call. We quote as follows: Sheet, not above 30x72 in., 16 oz and over, 14¢; do, 14 to 16 oz., 15¢; do, 12 to 14 oz., 16¢; do, 10 to 12 oz., 17¢; do, 8 to 10 oz., 20¢; do, under 8 oz., 22¢. Sheets longer than 72 inches 14¢ for 12 to 16 oz., 19¢ for 10 to 12 oz., and 23¢ for 8 to 10 oz. Sheets not above 36x96 in., 16 oz and over, 11¢; do, 11 to 16 oz., 16¢; do, 12 to 14 oz., 18¢; do, 10 to 12 oz., 22¢; do, 8 to 10 oz., 25¢. Sheets longer than 96 inches 14¢ for over 32 oz., 15¢ for 16 to 32 oz., 23¢; 14 to 16 oz., 19¢; 12 to 14 oz., 23¢; for 10 to 12 oz. and 27¢ for 8 to 10 oz. Sheets not above 48x96, 32 to 64 oz., 14¢; do, 16 to 32 oz., 16¢; do, 11 to 16 oz., 18¢; do, 12 to 14 oz., 20¢; do, 10 to 12 oz., 24¢. Sheets wider than 48x96 and longer, 14 to 17¢ for 32 to 64 oz.; 19 to 26¢ for 16 to 32 oz.; 21 to 24¢ for 14 to 16 oz. and 23 to 26¢ for 12 to 14 oz. Bolt copiers, 3/4 inch diameter and over, 14¢. Circles, segments and pattern sheets, 60 diameter and less, 3¢, above price of sheets of same thickness; circles, 60 to 96 do do, 4¢; do; circles, 96 do and over, 5¢. do Cold or hard rolled copper, 1 to 2¢ per lb. above the foregoing prices. Copper bottoms, 18 to 24¢, per lb. IRON.—American pig simply remains dull, and the disappointing character of trade this month, with good stocks on hand and the failure to curtail production gives the general market rather a soft tone, without, however, bringing about any radical change in the average run of values. For foreign only small orders are now and then obtained at about old rates. We quote at $12.00 @13.00 per ton for No. 1 X foundry; $11.00 @12.00 for No. 2 X do., and $10.00 @11.00 for Gray Forge; Scotch pig iron, $19.00 @20.50. Old material shows the former general conditions of a slow, moderate prevailing demand, with offerings equal to requirements of the market, and sellers willing to accept about the rates for some time current. We quote at $10.00 @11.00 for old iron rails; $10.00 @10.50 for No. 1 wrought scrap; $8.50 @10.00 for cast scrap; $10.00 @10.50 for old car wheels, and $6.50 @9.00 for borings, stove plate, etc. Manufactured iron and steel meet with very little present demand, and few important contracts are closing for the future, although it is understood that some respectable negotiations are under consideration and upon a steady basis of valuation. The following quotations are made f. o. b. at Pittsburgh: Angles, 1.20 @1.25¢; tees, 1.35 @1.40¢; beams and channels, 1.30 @1.35¢; base; sheared bridge plat s. steel, 1.20¢; Universal mill plates, steel, 1.20¢; iron 1.30¢; refined bars, 1.25¢; base. Steel rails are quiet and there is disappointment over the small attention received from the railway companies since it has practically been decided to reduce cost for the coming season. We quote standard sections $22 per ton at mill, with usual advances for delivery at tide water. Pig Lead finds a fairly supported market in consequence of light supplies, but the demand is not, as a rule, showing much force or volume, and buyers are unwilling to anticipate the future. We quote at 3.10 @3.15¢, per lb. The manufacturers of lead are quoted at 53¢, for Pipe, 6¢, for Sheet, 15¢, for tin-lined Pipe, and 37¢, for Block Tin Pipe. Pig Tin fluctuates in price under the influence of speculative manipulation, but consuming demand is light and unimportant. Supplies generally are very fair. We quote at about 13.70 @13.75¢, for round lots, and 13.80 @14¢, for jobbing parcels. Tin plates as a rule have continued in buyers favor, but the easy tone proved no special attraction for demand and business was moderate and mainly of routine character. We quote as follows: L. C. Charcoal, Melyn grade, $1.75 @1.80; Charcoal, Melyn grade, 1 X, $6.25; L. C. Charcoal, Alloway grade, $1.20 @1.25; Alloway grade, 1 X, $3.00; Charcoal terme, M. F. grade, 14x20, $6.00 @6.05; M. F. grade, 21x28, $12.00 @12.10; Worcester, 14x20, $1.50 @1.55; Worcester, 20x28, $8.60 @8.70; Allyn grade, 14x20, $3.85 @4.00; Allyn grade, 20x28, $7.00 @8.00; D. R. D. grade, 14x20, $3.80 @3.90; D. R. D. grade, 20x28, $7.85 @7.90; 1 X. Coke, Bessemer steel heavy, $3.65 @4.00; Bessemer steel, light 14x20, $3.50 @3.57½. Spelter still moving slowly, with nothing of special interest on the market and no noteworthy change in values. We quote 3.35 @3.40¢, for common Western, according to brand.

NAILS.—The general demand is less active, reflecting the natural and usual quiet conditions of the season. Even the call for invoices to be dated after the first of year is much curtailed, buyers previously willing to operate on that plan having about completed their investments, and the present run of business is confined to small parcels for immediate special necessity. We quote Cut at 90¢ @ $1.00 per keg for ear lots and $1.00 @1.10 per keg for parcels from store for iron, and add 3¢, per keg for steel; Wire, 90¢ @ $1.00 for ear lots, and $1.10 @1.20 from store.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC.—Some little demand of a routine character can be found, but even for the most staple goods orders are falling away and will in natural condition of affairs probably continue light until opening of the new year. Meanwhile all hands have commenced, or are making preparations to do so, upon the annual inventories and other details necessary to straightening out the year's business, and there is hope that when those matters are completed some action will be taken calculated to adjust the many irregularities still prevailing on prices for many leading goods. Linseed oil is without much change, the movement covering merely an ordinary handling of supplies for immediate wants, with ample offerings at old figures. We quote at 54 @55¢, for Western, 56 @57¢, for City from domestic seed and 56 @57¢, for do. from Calcutta seed. Spirits Turpentine remains practically unchanged on the general run of valuation, but the market is weak under local pressure. We quote at 27½ @28¢, per gallon, according to quality, quantity, delivery, etc.

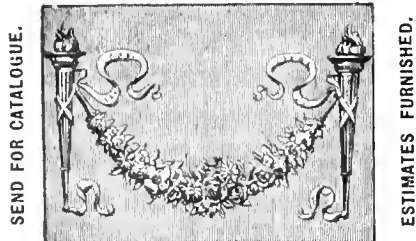

SLATE.—The season for Roofing Slate closed with conditions very unsettled and operators generally laboring under much perplexity. Nearly all the leading quarries have been working during the year and a considerable quantity of stock has passed into consumption, some maker, it is understood, claiming to have handled as many squares

Testimonials.

RINGTOWN, PA., January 22, 1887.
In reply to your inquiry as to the working of your boiler for steam heating, I am pleased to say that it works like a charm; no ashes are sifted into the rooms from it; it requires little care to keep it going, and with that attention it keeps up a remarkably uniform heat day and night;
about two pounds of steam does all that is needed and it is so fully self-regulating that the house has been comfortable in the morning before the fire has received any attention. The boiler is as near perfection in principle and action as can be obtained or could be asked. JEREMIAH KESTER.JOHN WANAMAKER

THE year is closing with business quiet in all directions and considerable uncertainty prevailing as to what the next may bring. A little nervousness is the usual condition when the settlements for a year are imminent, but as trading has been so narrow and presumably on a sound basis since the panic of nearly eighteen months ago, there ought to be little apprehension on this score. In the stock market there is no reason to expect higher prices in the immediate future. An advance in the face of the attitude of Congress towards currency legislation, and of the significance of the dissolution of the syndicate which took the last issue of $50,000,000 Government 5's, would be very remarkable. Moreover, statements of earnings are bringing home to security holders the condition of the railroad properties running through coal and corn countries, with the result that long stock is coming on the market. It may be argued that a reduced or a passed dividend for one year ought not to knock prices off so much; but the argument is idle, because it does. In this case prices are not so much a representation of investment value as of the desire to realize and the limitation of the buying market.

WHENEVER Japan and China make peace trade will be stimulated in some directions, if merely by the replacement of munitions and supplies consumed or destroyed in the course of the war. China, at any rate, ought to spend a great deal of money during a comparatively few years in creating new forces and in putting her territory in better position to cope with an invader, for which principally ships and railroads are required. But while her requirements are sure to be considerable in mere bulk there is no telling whether they will be in proportion to her own necessities, gauged by Western ideas. It is impossible to say whether her government will take the logical view of her needs as brought out by the struggle with Japan or simply revert to the condition of semi-omnolence which has characterized it in the past. Speaking from precedents, the latter is the most likely. However, people are already beginning to speculate on the benefits to come from peace. Japan's foreign trade is suffering considerably and this may induce her to lend a more willing ear to China's propositions than anything else is likely to do. British trade returns for November show a decline of 1.6 per cent. in imports and an increase of 2.4 per cent. in exports, both as represented by values and not by quantities. The decline in imports is not a good sign, inasmuch as it is made up chiefly of lessened purchases of raw materials. Latest statistics record further declines in average prices, particularly in cotton, tin and wool; sugar, lumber, wheat and meat advanced. French foreign trade for November increased both in imports and exports. The European security markets are without feature, except a little weakness in Berlin and Vienna. The business done is largely represented by government issues, which are all very high. Latest advices indicate better business with the opening of the new year, based on the continued plethora condition of the banks and the high prices of the gilt-edged securities. At the same time warnings are current that further concessions will be asked by some of the reorganized Australian banks, the continued depression in business making it difficult, if not impossible, for them to carry out their original pledges to their creditors.

THE publication of Engineer Parson's report will, we hope, reawaken public interest in the work of providing the city with an adequate system of rapid transit, for since the election people apparently have lost the keen interest which they manifested in the matter before they voted to take this important civic project, in a sense, into their own hands. Preliminary work, we know, is tedious and doesn't make a very impressive appearance before the attending spectator. Nevertheless, taking this into account, and at the same time assuming, which we do with willingness, the diligence of the new Rapid Transit Commission, there is a striking air of suspense about its proceedings. Perhaps this attitude is more apparent than real. It may be merely the necessary aspect which commendable caution and a desire to proceed with a safe footing wears at the present stage of work. Everybody, however, who is acquainted with the opposition and dangers which lurk in the space of road between the formulation of a plan for rapid transit and the successful issue of that plan, cannot easily repress the suspicion that any halt or slackening of pace indicates the existence of friction, if not more positive retardation, arising from the hostility of interested parties who, from the first, have been irreconcilably at enmity with the efforts of New York city to provide itself with a system of transportation adequate to its needs. We do not mean to suggest that at the present moment this opposition is making itself felt within the Commission. What we fear is that the Commission is slackening its pace as the shadows of obstacles loom up in the road ahead. The appearance of these obstructions is not by any means fictitious. The interests vested in the existing transportation service of the metropolis are very large. They are powerfully entrenched in every quarter. Nobody has any notion that they are particularly sensitive regarding the public welfare or convenience. They are not in New York "for their health." It is not to be imagined that they view with unconcern an attempt to construct a dominant system of rapid transit supported by the credit and authority of the municipality; and where the "concerns" of these people lie we may be sure to find their jealous opposition. It is folly to suppose that the city can obtain an underground road without being subjected to an obstinate tussle for the privilege. Every step of the way forward will be disputed. The quiet surface of affairs to-day is ominous. Perhaps the commissioners are cognizant in general terms of the opposition their plans are destined to encounter and consequently are not moving forward with the certainty and directness which would be possible with a clearer and less harassed outlook. Rapid transit is still a distant blessing for the tortured traveler in New York, unless the people of this city strengthen the hands of the Commission with a firmer, less divided, more persistent and directer support than is given to them to-day.

Real Estate in 1894.

THE real estate business of the year about to end quite naturally compares unfavorably with that of the years that have preceded it. Were it not for the many recent indications of a partial revival of interest in realty only partly disclosed by the statistics, the outlook might be considered even more unfavorable for 1895 than it was at the beginning of 1894. There are, however, two reasons that can be urged in favor of a belief that the real estate operations of the immediate future will be of greater volume or at least of a more substantial description than those of recent months.

One is that present values seem assured of being sustained, because there is an enormous amount of money seeking an outlet in city realty through either purchases or loans on bond and mortgage. In fact, in the present condition of general business there exist few other channels for investment but those which lead to real estate. If existing conditions prevail for another half year, it will not be too much to expect such investments to rank as gilt-edged, when compared with other lines of securities, provided always that they are made with due caution. The second reason is that the reduced cost of construction has already created a good lot market and one that seems certain to become more active as spring approaches. Few of the builders can figure out their balances for the year on the right side of the ledger. They are, however, alone to blame, as like sheep following the bell-wether, their operations during the last two years have been imitative rather than original. The result has been the erection of rows of unsalable houses, because of quick sales having been made by pioneer speculative builders, who built when lots were cheap in promising localities and were able, on that account, to secure prompt buyers at reasonable prices. Those who followed their example not only paid more for lots but, not foreseeing the hard times, built more elaborately, as well as on a larger scale, and are still awaiting buyers who no longer come in force but occasionally as individuals looking to purchase at bed rock prices. The builders have once more gained by experience and no longer are inclined to enter haphazard into doubtful building enterprises, but are paying top prices for land in neighborhoods where the supply for houses or flats does not exceed the demand. Risks now are taken in new localities only when the ruling prices of lots are low enough to justify them in connection with the reduced cost of construction. In the meantime the enigmatical lot owner is master of the situation and the builder in quest for sites suitable for improvement finds his search perplexing, unless he is content to labor for the sole benefit of the land owner. The extensive improvements contemplated in the established business districts, and many more that will be sure to take form before we are well into the new year, also constitute a sign of better times to come. The modern office and loft buildings can now be so cheaply constructed that it is surprising a greater movement toward their erection has not been developed. To be convinced that the future must certainly hold in store a great deal of activity in this direction it is only necessary to notice the vast number of antiquated business buildings in nearly every down-town section that will never again be classed as income producers.

The condition of renting, the all-important basis of real estate values, is far more reassuring at the close of the year than it has been in over twelve months. The season now about ended in the dry-goods district, though beginning a month or so later this fall, has proceeded in such good shape that agents have been able in the shorter time allowed to close a far greater number of satisfactory leases than had been anticipated. Concessions on last year's rates have been made in numbers of instances, but the reduction in nearly every case has been trifling. Compared with last year there has been a manifest improvement, and with even slightly better business conditions, it is expected that the season next year will prove as satisfactory to landlords as the best of those gone by. The vacancies still unfilled are nearly all of undesirably located stores and lofts, and it would have to be a phenomenally profitable season to insure their tenancy. Offices in modern buildings, centrally located, continue to attract occupants notwithstanding the large increase of such structures this year. The older office buildings on the other hand are fated and it is seldom that a tenant lost can be replaced. Rents in that class of buildings are being constantly reduced in an endeavor to compete with their modern neighbors. This statement does not, however, apply to first floor tenants, nor to firms whose business is so well established in the ancient structures that removal to finer quarters is out of the question. In the retail districts, stores have been in much greater demand since October 1st than they were for many months before. It is the exception now to find one vacant unless it is under the ban by reason of the failure of successive occupants or situated in a neighborhood that presents evidence of decadence sufficient to prevent the thrifty or experienced storekeeper from undertaking to become responsible for a rental that he considers unwarranted. Private dwellings in nearly every part of the city have rented amazingly well of late. On the East Side, well up into the eighties, where there were numerous vacant houses on September 1st, there are comparatively few still untenanted. On the lower West Side there is at present a scarcity of vacant houses convenient to lines of travel, and more especially of furnished dwellings that rent for the season. The reverse is the case with furnished apartments in fashionable and semi-fashionable neighborhoods. There are many of them empty, and when tenants have been secured for the winter there has been a material scaling down of last season's prices. There are few unoccupied dwellings, except those held for sale in the district west of Central Park, but Harlem, with the section just south of it, presents its usual array of vacancies. Flat and tenement property has been and is renting fairly well in nearly every quarter, except along the line of the 3d avenue "L," on Columbus avenue north of 86th street, and in other thoroughfares more or less affected by lines of transit. To sum up present conditions as a basis for prediction, it looks to be not unreasonable to expect that the new year will bring about a restoration of confidence that will lead to the development of a market that will have more of the essentials of permanency that have been noted in the past?

The records of the transactions of but two more days remain to be added to the statistics of the current year, those of to-day and Monday. By making a fair allowance for the number of the instruments that will be filed and approximating the probable value of the property to be transferred, we are enabled to present figures for the year that will in all likelihood agree with the annual tabulated summary to appear in a future issue.

The conveyances this year will number about 12,400, involving property valued in the aggregate at about $118,850,000. The figures for 1893 were 13,944 conveyances of real estate valued at $216,825,732. During 1892 there were 13,944 transfers, involving a total consideration of $228,608,599, of which sum $6,678,000 was the price paid by the Hecker-Jones-Jewell Milling Co. for the various parcels transferred to it on the formation of the company by the three largest of the firms or corporations interested in the flour trade. Recorded transactions in the 23d and 24th Wards are about 2,580 in 1894, involving parcels valued at about $8,700,000. In 1893 they numbered 2,457, the aggregate value of the property being $10,092,668, and in 1892 there were 2,826 transfers for a total consideration of $11,066,795. The proportion of deeds filed with considerations expressed at nominal sums is over 15 per cent in 1894 as against less than 38 per cent in 1893 and nearly 32 per cent in 1892. These figures indicate a gradual increase of "nominal" considerations, which, in the deeds of 1895, will doubtless equal if not surpass in number the instruments in which the prices paid will be given. Comparing the quarters of each year, we find nothing encouraging until the final quarters are considered. From October 1 to December 31 of this year the conveyances will number 3,000 or thereabouts, and involve an aggregate expressed consideration of about $33,500,000. Last year during the same period there were 2,733 deeds filed transferring property valued at $33,351,443, and in the same months of 1892 the filings were 3,146 covering realty, the total value of which was $17,865,916. It will be seen that while the record of the last quarter of 1894 is far behind that of 1892, there is shown a slight gain in its favor as compared with the statistics of last year. And this gain has been made notwithstanding that the "nominal" transfers are one-seventh greater this year than during the final quarter of 1893, the percentages being about .49 and .13 respectively. Taking each year as a whole and making due allowance for suppressed considerations, it is demonstrated beyond a doubt that property has sold at lower average prices this year than in 1893 or 1892. But in view of what the statistics indicate there is adequate ground for the statement that the average for the last quarter of this year has been fully as high as that shown from October to December of 1893. That is something to be thankful for inasmuch as it shows that the steady decline in values experienced from January to September inclusive has been stemmed. Now that bedrock has apparently been reached it is not too much to expect that by Spring a tendency toward higher prices all around will bring about a material improvement in the general market.

Owners of New York real estate have borrowed on their holdings this year about $163,000,000, as against $184,818,638 last year, and $193,878,572 in 1892. The respective amounts are represented by about 13,550 separate mortgages given since January 1st, 13,731 in 1893 and 11,150 in 1892. Owing to the shrinkage of values the loans placed this year have averaged less than in either of the previous years. The statistics for 1894 include three corporation mortgages for a total value of $10,000,000 at 6 per cent, while those for 1893 include one similar mortgage for $12,500,000 at 5 per cent, and those of the preceding year two corporate mortgages that aggregated $6,500,000. This year, if we exclude the big mortgage referred to, it is found that considerably more than one-half of all the other loans have been secured at 5 per cent interest, and over 16 per cent of the remainder at lower rates. Last year a little less than one-half the ordinary loans were at 5 per cent, and over 18 per cent of the remainder at a lesser rate of interest. So that, despite the more liberal disposition shown this year by loaners in favor of real estate security it has had no appreciable effect on the interest rates that ruled in 1893. In 1892 over 53 per cent of the loans, exclusive of the two big mortgages mentioned, were placed at 5 per cent, and over 18 per cent at less. That would indicate that realty as a security was at that time regarded with even greater confidence by those controlling capital than it is at present. Taken all in all, owners of real property do not seem to have been forced to any great extent to take advantage of the liberality of lenders, and appear to hold at present about the same equity in their possessions as they did last year or the year before.

AS THE RECORD AND GUIDE prophesied in the October review of the building statistics for the nine months, from January to September inclusive, this year's record of plans filed will compare favorably with either of its two immediate predecessors. Stated in round figures the completed record of 1894 will show the number of new structures for which plans have been submitted at the Department of Building to be nearly 2,600, and their estimated cost about $51,300,000. There were 2,272 buildings projected last year, to cost $55,162,953, but as they included the cathedral of St. John, the approximate cost of which was $5,000,000, this year's record must be awarded precedence over 1893. In 1892 the plans filed called for 2,967 buildings, to be erected at a cost of $59,107,618.

A FACT that must eventually cut a figure in the railroad business of the country, meaning by that the building of railroads, as well as the values of securities representing these already built, is the small amount of road that has been built of late years. The new mileage for 1894 will, according to recent calculations, not exceed 2,000 miles, and will certainly be the lightest for any year in the last twenty. There has been a continuous falling off in railroad building since 1890, the year of the passage of the Sherman Silver Act. The highest point reached in recent years was 13,000 miles in 1887, and when the building dropped to the modest point of 2,000 miles this year, it is easy to understand how the makers of steel rails, fish plates, bolts, etc., the cutters of railroad ties, builders of bridges, trestles and equipment must have suffered in the lean years with plants on their hands capable of supplying the needs of fat ones. It follows, too, that better times are in store for these and kindred industries; the wants alone of properties which will be put upon their feet again in the coming year will make a great change in the item of repairs, while it is also highly probable that improved business will necessitate more lines to carry it. Another point illustrating the pressure of economy put upon the country in respect to new roads, is that no less than fourteen states and territories made no addition whatever to their railroad mileage. These included such new ground as Iowa, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Washington, Nevada and Idaho, and Oregon may be included in the list, because only two miles were built there. This means a remarkable condition of inertia inconceivable but for the statistics. No wonder that people who should be competent to judge say that the bottom has been touched in railroad building and that from now on there should be a gradual movement in the upward direction.

Municipal Rapid Transit.

Mr. W. B. Parsons, Engineer, presented a plan and estimate for the construction of a rapid transit system for the city to the Rapid Transit Commission on Tuesday last. The plan dealt elaborately with the routes to be traversed and proposed to use an upper two-track tunnel and two separate lower tunnels; four-track tunnels, viaducts, elevated railway and embankments, according as they were severally best adapted to the regions to be traversed. The routes were as previously indicated. The total cost, exclusive of property rights or damages to abutting property, is estimated at between $65,000,000 and $66,000,000. This estimate of cost precluded the acceptance of the plan. With a view of bringing the work within the statutory limit of cost, $50,000,000, and for other reasons, Mr. Parsons' report was referred to a body of five experts to report on the following points: "First—Whether the calculations as to probable cost embodied in this report may be properly accepted by this Commission as a basis for its conclusions. Second—Whether they concur in believing the plan of construction in Broadway proposed by the former Commission unsatisfactory for the reasons suggested by the chief engineer or for any other reasons. Third—Whether the plans submitted by the chief engineer of treating the local and express tracks as two roads, using the same stations when they join, appears to them practicable and wise. Fourth—Whether they can suggest any better solution of the problem before the Commission than has already been brought forward."

Revivification of the Exchange.

Commenting upon the above topic, so interesting to the members of our Real Estate Exchange and so nearly touching their pockets, Mr. George W. Van Sielen said there is much practical utility in the suggestions of a gentleman well versed in all matters relating to the passing of title to real estate, which appeared in THE RECORD AND GUIDE on the 15th inst. Mr. Van Sielen said further: "There is no reason why the existing plant of the Exchange should not be made a basis for the development of an excellent source of income, and of comfort and advantage, for the members of the Exchange. Several years ago I submitted a printed plan and prospectus for the certifying to titles by the Exchange, but the time was not then thought ripe. There are 500 members of the Real Estate Exchange; each of those ought to average three sales and three loans, or the control of three sales and three loans, every year, whether he be a broker or an owner. Assume that the average fee to-day on each examination of title is $100, that would be $600 for each member, or $300,000 per annum gross receipts for the regular business. A discount or commission ought to be allowed to every member of the Exchange. But cut the above estimate in half and there would be an income of $150,000 per year for the business, less of course the expenses of running the same.

"The Real Estate Exchange has in its charter the power of issuing certificates of searches and of title. It can to-day, safely issue certificates of title in a form like this:

	Section
Number	Block
	Lot

THE REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE AND AUCTION ROOM (LIMITED)

Hereby certifies that _____ is the owner in fee of the premises in the City of New York, known on the official map in the office of the Register of the City and County of New York as Lot _____, Block _____, Section _____, and which is of the dimension written upon the diagram indorsed hereon.

Subject to a mortgage of $ due with the interest thereon at % per annum since and to.....

The said property is valued for the purposes of this certificate at $.....

This certificate is transferrable only on the books of The Real Estate Exchange and Auction Room (Limited) in person or by attorney on surrender of this certificate and on payment of Ten Dollars.

In Witness Whereof the duly authorized officers of said The Real Estate Exchange and Auction Room (Limited) have hereunto subscribed their names and caused the Corporate Seal to be hereto affixed, at No. 59 Liberty street, New York City, this day of 189 ..

$$\{1, \dots, n\}$$

President.

Manager of Department of Records.

"These certificates could be assigned and transferred on the books of the company, and the title certified to in an hour at a very low figure, whatever the Board of Directors of the Exchange might choose to charge; perhaps after a couple of years $5 would be enough instead of $10. The certificate should have an indorsement like this:

[illegible]

Witness my hand and seal this.....day of....., 189....

Witnessed by

• Then each certificate should have a stub in the following form:

Certificate No.
 Title to premises known as
 No.
 New York City.
 Issued to

 Dated, 189.....
 Fee simple, subject to

 From whom transferred

 Original certificate No.
 Dated, 189.....
 Received certificate No.
 this day of 189.....

"The Exchange would never lose a cent by the certificates; if there were any doubt about a title they would not certify it. And this method would make real estate a more active security and at the same time create a safe and creditable additional source of income for the Exchange. A man's note at three months, with a first mortgage on his real estate, accompanied by such a certificate of title, would be excellent paper upon which to lend money. A separate form of certificates for mortgages should be issued, substituting the words 'first mortgage on' for 'fee simple of' premises, and varying the phraseology a little.

"There is room enough in the offices of the Exchange at present to carry on this business without any expense for rent or for storage of records. The only expenses would be for a few official searches, and for stenographer and typewriting, printing, postage and such sundries.

"There should be an Executive Committee and an executive officer, a secretary and treasurer, taken from the Board of Directors, or from the members of The Real Estate Exchange, to control the business; there should be a committee of counsel, lawyers, members of the Exchange, to pass upon the question of title before any certificate be issued.

"The existing records of the Exchange can be utilized. The certificate of title would be substantially in the form of the usual certificates of capital stock in a corporation, to be torn from a stub book. The stubs should refer to ledgers, the paging of which should correspond to the block and lot numbers of New York City lots as they are numbered in the Register and Tax offices.

"All that is necessary for the carrying on of this business by the Exchange, to the great benefit of all of our stockholders, is for the Board of Directors to simply begin it and carry it on."

Correspondence.

APPARENTLY THE EXCHANGE "HAS POWER."

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Is there anything special in the charter or articles of the incorporation of our Real Estate Exchange and Auction Room, Limited, that takes it out of the control of the general stock corporation law of the State of New York that was passed in 1890, chapter 564 of that year, to take effect May 1, 1891?

That general law, which was intended to govern all the corporations in the State, expressly gives the power to borrow money and mortgage property to "every stock corporation."

Possibly this new law may have escaped the attention of the authorities of the Real Estate Exchange; that is, it may have been enacted and have taken effect after the question had been looked into whether the Exchange had the power to issue bonds at 3½ per cent., with the proceeds of which to pay off the existing $73,000 mortgage.

According to your report of the annual meeting in your issue of December 15, 1894, the president explained that the proposition to issue such bonds had been made several years ago, and had, after full consideration, been rejected, for the reason that the Exchange was not authorized by its charter to issue bonds.

The language of section 2 of the general stock corporation law, as amended by chapter 337, Laws of 1892, is explicit. "Section 2: May borrow money and mortgage property. In addition to the powers conferred by the general corporation law, every stock corporation shall have power to borrow money or contract debts, when necessary for the transaction of its business, or for the exercise of its corporate rights, privileges or franchises, or for any other lawful purpose of its corporation, and may issue and dispose of its obligations for any amount so borrowed, and may mortgage its property and franchises to secure the payment of such obligations, or any debt contracted for the purposes herein specified; and the amount of the obligations issued and outstanding at any one time secured by such mortgages, excepting mortgages given as consideration for the purchase of real estate and mortgages authorized by contracts made prior to the time when this act shall take effect, shall not exceed the amount of its paid-up capital stock, or an amount equal to two-thirds of the value of its corporate property at the time of issuing the obligations secured by such mortgages, in case such two-thirds value shall be more than the amount of such paid-up capital stock.

"No such mortgages, excepting purchase-money mortgages, shall be issued without the consent of the stockholders owning at least two-thirds of the stock of the corporation, which consent shall be in writing, and shall be filed and recorded in the office of the clerk or register of the county where it has its principal place of business, or shall be given by a vote in person or by proxy at a special meeting of the stockholders called for that purpose, and a certificate of the vote at such meeting, signed and sworn to by the chairman and secretary of such meeting, shall be filed and recorded as aforesaid. When authorized by such consent, the directors, under such obligations as they may adopt, may confer on the holder of any debt or obligations secured by such mortgage, the right to convert the principal thereof, after two and not more than twelve years from the date of the mortgage, into stock of the corporation; and if the capital stock shall not be sufficient to meet the conversion when made the stockholders shall, in the manner herein provided, authorize an increase of capital stock sufficient for that purpose."

If the foregoing views be correct, there should be no difficulty in President Barton's promptly carrying through an issue of 3½ per cent. bonds, which will save $730 per year to the Exchange.

COUNSELLOR.

Obituary.

The members of the Building Material Exchange were grievously shocked on Thursday to learn of the sudden death of one of their number in the person of Mr. H. S. Christian, the well-known and popular dealer in masons' material, of Brooklyn. He was on the floor of the Exchange Wednesday, as usual, and many now recall the cheerful manner in which he met his associates and seemed to present every appearance of sound health. That evening he attended a church festival and on his way home dropped dead in the street. Mr. Christian had won for himself an enviable reputation as an upright, genial, business man, and he will be greatly missed from the trade circle with which he was connected.

An Appeal to Members of the Real Estate Exchange.

We take pleasure in drawing the attention of all members of the Real Estate Exchange to the letter below, to which we urge them to make a suitable response. Last year the sum subscribed was only $251, which is not a very generous amount, coming from 500 members. The manager of the Exchange, it will be seen, does not participate in the Christmas fund:

DEAR SIR—The other Exchanges having made liberal provision for their employees at this season, it is felt that some effort should be made by the members of The Real Estate Exchange and Auction Room (Limited) in that direction.

We, the undersigned, will be happy to receive any subscription you may be pleased to send.

The Manager foregoes all participation in the fund in favor of the subordinate employees in his office. Yours truly,

The Department of Buildings.

DECEMBER 28th, 1894.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

You extend an invitation to your readers to give their views as to whether the present Building Department can be improved, and if so, how best to improve it. In response to your invitation I would say that the Department can be improved greatly, and in a very simple manner. In the first place, the superintendent and inspectors should hold office during good behavior, and the head of the department should receive a salary commensurate with the importance of his position and the qualifications required to fill it, say ten thousand dollars at least per annum, and the inspectors should receive a salary of at least two thousand dollars per annum, and their number should be increased. With these simple changes I am thoroughly satisfied that the Building Department will be as perfect as any municipal department can be made. I think that the law should be amended in regard to the clause which prohibits the building of fire-proof apartment houses over seven stories high. There is no good reason why they should be prohibited, when hotels and so-called family hotels may be built twenty stories high. As long as they are built fire-proof they should be allowed. There are many other amendments which might be made to the building laws that would improve them and which the present superintendent could suggest from the experience of the operation of the present law. I do not think any change should be made in the present head of the Department, as in Mr. Brady we have a man who gives general satisfaction by reason of his being a faithful, competent and painstaking official, and it is safe to say that his administration of the office he so ably fills meets with the approval of all builders, architects and property owners, and also mechanics of all branches, with whom he comes in contact. Mr. Editor, as a subscriber I trust you will insert this communication, as I am one of a great number to whom I have spoken who entertain the views above expressed.

JOHN A. DOONER.

Have Your Records Bound!

We will bind copies of THE RECORD AND GUIDE in 1/2 morocco, 6 months, per vol., $2 1/2 sheep, $1.75.—Binding Department, RECORD AND GUIDE, 11 and 16 Vesey street.

Questions and Answers.

Correspondents who do not find answers to their communications in this paper must please refer to future issues.

ASSESSMENT FOR SEWERS.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Would you favor by giving information regarding following questions, namely: Was there a law passed within the past three or four years exempting from future assessment for building of new sewers or reconstruction of existing street sewer property in New York city (excluding Annexed District, 23d and 24th Wards). If such a law exists, what was the effect in the wording of same and about what year and date was it passed? Also, how did it affect property where new sewers had been planned for but work on them not commenced until after said law went into effect?

Answer.—We find no such law from 1882 to 1894 inclusive.

LEASE PRIOR TO MORTGAGE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Kindly inform me in your next issue on the following point: A leases of B a ground floor, with steam power, and A puts in heavy machinery; for three years he had paid rent regularly and lived up to all his agreements in lease. Now, can his (A's) lease be broken by a party, whom we shall call C, who had a first or second mortgage on the property which B owns and has leased to A, or who takes a first or second mortgage after A leased the property?

Answer.—A lease prior to a mortgage cannot be affected by the mortgage. When a mortgage prior to a lease is foreclosed the mortgagee may make the lessee a party defendant and cut off his right under the lease.—LAW EDITOR.

LANDLORD AND TENANT—REPAIRS.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

With an ordinary lease, no mention being made of roof or repairs thereto, who is to make repair for leakage, the landlord or the tenant? (2) Who is liable for damage? (3) Has the "Court of Appeals" decided this?

Answer.—Unless the landlord has bound himself by express covenant he is not under obligation to make any repairs. "A tenant from year to year of a house is bound to keep it wind and water tight" (McAdam on Landlord and Tenant, 2d edition, p. 411). The tenant is not bound to make substantial and general repairs. (Idem., p. 443.) (2) Not the landlord. (3) These are rules of the common law.

Real Estate Notes.

An offer of $800,000 was recently refused for the narrow block bounded by 47th and 48th streets, 7th avenue and Broadway.

The Mayor has signed a resolution of the Board of Aldermen changing to West End avenue the name of 11th avenue, between 59th and 64th streets.

The old armory property on the east side of Broadway, extending from 44th to 45th streets, can be bought, it is said, for a round million. Nothing small about that owner.

The Board of Aldermen decided to take no action on the application of the Third Avenue Cable Road Company for permission to construct a cable road through St. Nicholas avenue and the Kingsbridge road, from 116th street north to the city line. It will come up before the new board.

On one block that is being rapidly built up near the West Side "L" station at 116th street, there are separate operations being conducted under the personal direction of three old-time builders, who, on account of having foundered on financial shoals in days gone by, are compelled to carry on their enterprises in the names of dummies.

The principal among the art societies of the city and a number of well-known men have united in a petition to the Mayor to procure the resignations of Park Commissioners Clausen and Tappen, alleging that the continuance of these commissioners in office forbids hope of proper treatment of the property entrusted to the care of the Park Board.

The Forty-second street, Manhattanville and St. Nicholas avenue Railroad Co. will have to try again. The resolution of the Board of Aldermen, consenting to the extension of the line through West 86th street, has been vetoed by Mayor Gilroy for the reason that the franchise granted did not comply with the provisions of the amended railroad act.

The railroad through 34th street, connecting with the lines of the Metropolitan Street Railway Co. on the east and west sides, has evidently come to stay. Two Supreme Court decisions, rendered on Wednesday, are to that effect. Judge Truax found that the assessed value of the property along the line was $11,744,500, of which $5,872,250 should be represented in consents. The road in all had secured $7,240,000 in consents, but $397,500 of them had been revoked, leaving $6,843,300. The Judge decided that $722,500 of these consents were invalid for one reason and another, leaving $6,180,800, or $248,550 more than the half required by law.

The City and the Pennsylvania and Central Railroad of New Jersey Companies' dispute over the ownership of piers 39 and 40 North River has been settled by mutual agreement by which the city becomes the owner of the land and bulkhead in fee simple, the associates of the Jersey Railroad and Canal Company the owners of the ferry-houses, wharfage and other improvements made on the piers, and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is to be left in undisputed possession of the property during the existence of its lease. If the city extends the bulkhead line the companies are to have the right to remove the ferry-houses to correspond.

A committee of property owners had a hearing before Bridge Trustee Henriques on the 19th inst., relative to opening of the 20-foot roadways on each side of the structure at the New York end of the Bridge, from Park row to Pearl street. Hundreds of property owners have petitioned that the gates and other obstructions on said roadways be removed because the land was taken for the purpose of protecting the Bridge from fire, and is needed as a public thoroughfare to allow quick passage to the Bridge by persons at Pearl or Vandewater streets, who otherwise are compelled to crowd up through Frankfort street, at the head of which, around the newspaper offices, there is always a howling, struggling mass of ragged urchins. The Bridge Trustees should make haste to accede to the property owners' petition.

Commissioner Haffen has under advisement a petition from the East Bay Land and Improvement Company for the widening of Whitlock av. from St. John's av to Leggett av, 20 feet on the southerly side, making it 100 feet in width instead of 80 feet; Leggett av. from Southern Boulevard to Randall av, 20 feet on the easterly side, making it 100 feet wide instead of 80 feet; Truxton st. from Randall av to East Bay av, 20 feet on the easterly side, making it 80 feet wide instead of 60 feet; also to discontinue the following streets: Randall av. from Bungay st to Leggett av; Mohawk av. from Randall av to Leggett av; St. John's av. from Whitlock av to East Bay av; 149th st. from Whitlock av to Randall av; Poillon st. from Mohawk av to St. John's av; Arnold st. from Mohawk av to St. John's av. and Eastern Boulevard, from Cabot st to St. John's av. The petitioners claim that in the decision is involved the admission or exclusion from the city of any industry that cannot accommodate its plant to blocks of 200x700.

Real Estate Market.

The last week of an exceptionally dull year ends with a record of deals negotiated by brokers representing a total investment of little less than $2,500,000. So good a showing since Monday is largely due to the Nassau and Liberty streets sale brought to a successful issue by Broker John N. Golding. Vacant lots and business property old or modern figure prominently in the business of the last few days. Christmas week is not a favorable period for house sales, and considered in connection with the cold and disagreeable weather it is not surprising that very few are announced. The brokers, however, look for an almost immediate improvement in the sales market following the coming of another year.

This week's auctions were restricted to offerings under legal decrees. On Monday at the Broadway Salesroom foreclosure sales of Nos. 326 and 334 East 98th street, and Nos. 250 to 260 West 130th street, were adjourned sine die. On Thursday two parcels announced to have been sold under foreclosure were withdrawn. They were No. 231 East 89th street and a large vacant plot on Bettner's lane, Riverdale. Richard V. Harnett & Co. adjourned sine die on Friday a foreclosure sale of Nos. 230 to 236 East 86th street.

These properties consist of No. 398 5th avenue (between 36th and 37th streets), a four-story brownstone house with store, size 27.7x85, on lot 125 feet, with No. 3 West 36th street adjoining in the rear and forming an L; also Nos. 5 and 7 West 36th street, two four-story brownstone houses. The dimensions of the three West 36th street houses are: No. 3, 25x50x one-story dining-room extension, 25x25; No. 5, 25x55x three-story dining-room extension, 20x25; No. 7, 25x55x one-story dining-room extension, 25x25; the lots are all 98.9 in depth. It is probably hardly necessary to say that this will be one of the most important sales of the season. The lots with the improvements upon them and the location are not only high class, but they are situated in a neighborhood undergoing changes of such a character that the prospects for advancement in value is especially good. The direct connection of the property on 5th avenue with that on West 36th street so enlarges the possibilities for treatment of the whole as to give it an added value and desirability that would not be possessed by a similar amount of property differently disposed though in the same locality. It is only at rare intervals that properties having both investment and speculative advantages such as these come into the auction market, and would-be buyers should without doubt study the maps and particulars which may be obtained at the auctioneer's offices, No. 9 Pine street and No. 1 Madison avenue.

D. Phoenix Ingraham & Co. announce an important partition sale at auction, to be held on Thursday week, the 10th proximo, at 12 o'clock noon, in the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway. The property to be sold consists of the dwellings No. 230 West 21st street, Nos. 409 and 411 West 22d and Nos. 36-54 West 24th streets. Attention is particularly drawn to the fact that the last mentioned property will be sold as two large plots, 75x98.9 and 89x98.9, respectively. These plots make together 164 feet by half the block, and are probably the only parcels of the size to be had in that part of the city. The property is especially valuable to owners of corresponding 23d street lots who may desire to build through. It is contiguous to the Masonic Temple and the Eden Musee.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

John N. Golding has sold for Charles A. Macy the plot, 79.4x111x 85.9x109.4, with four old five-story store and office buildings on the southwest corner of Nassau and Liberty streets. The buyer is the New York Realty Co. (Flake & Dowling), at a figure approaching $1,000,000. The corner parcel, Nos. 37 and 39 Nassau and Nos. 56 and 58 Liberty streets was bought by the stationery firm of Corlies & Macy from the estate of J. Snyder on January 31, 1881, for $185,000, and the adjoining property, No. 35 Nassau street, was purchased from the estate of Charles H. Russell on January 15, 1891, for $98,500. The latest sale emphasizes the truth of the oft-repeated statement that there is no investment that can equal one made with good judgment in New York real estate.

O. B. Ackerly has sold for Mrs. Ruth A. Wallace six lots on the north side of 54th street, 100 feet west of 11th avenue, to Richard H. Handley, for about $42,000.

Kalisher & Prager have purchased of William B. M. Jordan the plot, 50x97, Nos. 268 and 270 East 4th street, between Avenues B and C.

S. & H. Corn have sold the plot, 29x76, with old buildings, Nos. 114 and 116 Spring street, near Mercer street, to Abraham J. Cohn. The sellers recently purchased the property for about $40,000, and it is understood have disposed of it at a higher figure. They have also sold the Cornblac, a six-story brick business building on leased lot No. 139 5th avenue, east side, between 19th and 20th streets, for over $100,000.

E. H. Ludlow & Co have sold for Anson P. Stokes the four-story marble front building, on lot 25x100, No. 75 John street, to James Renwick, for $76,000. The seller bought the property in 1889 through the same brokers for $70,000.

John J. Clancy & Co. have sold for Robert J. Hoguet the four-story stone front dwelling, on lot 20x100.5, No. 352 West 57th street, for $31,000.

Adrian H. Muller & Son have sold for Daniel B. Freedman, No. 237 Lexington avenue, southeast corner of 34th street, a three-story brick dwelling, 20x75, to William H. Earle. The seller took title to the property last week for a consideration of $36,000, and it is said to have been sold for something more than $43,000.

Louis M. Jones has purchased of Mrs. Osborne the four-story brick dwelling, on lot 27.6x100, No. 7 Lafayette place, west side, north of Bond street. It is announced that the present building will be demolished and a business structure erected.

The price paid by the Hanover National Bank for the Duncan building on the southwest corner of Nassau and Pine streets, title to which was taken this week, is understood to have been $1,400,000.

Charles M. Heymann & Co. have sold for Mrs. C. Hunter the three-story dwelling, No. 106 East 45th street, to Mrs. C. G. Northrup, for $12,000.

Negotiations have about been concluded by William A. White & Sons for a sale of the Metropolitan Hotel property at Broadway and Prince street, to Charles A. Clinch, a nephew of the late Mrs. Cornelia M. Stewart. It is now owned by a number of the Stewart heirs, who, it is said, have agreed to part with it for about $1,600,000. That price looks to be a very reasonable one for the hotel and theatre site, which has a frontage of 277.11 on Broadway, 200.2 on Prince street and 241.4 on Crosby street.

Emanuel Mansbach is the purchaser of No. 76 Greene street, the sale of which was reported last week. The price agreed upon is under $125,000.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

Oliver Bryan has sold the three-story stone front dwelling on lot 16.8x99.11, No. 266 West 127th street, for Augustus Hoey and others, to Gregorio de Quesada, for $14,500.

M. Bargebuhr & Son have sold for Builder R. W. Hawks the five-story flat and store, 25x90x100, on the east side of 8th avenue, 25.11 north of 119th street, to a Mrs. Lotze for about $37,000; also to the same buyer for J. R. Stoters, the five-story stone front flat, 25x78x 99.11, No. 104 West 134th street, for $23,000, and for Builder J. A. Allan, the five-story store and tenement, 25x72x83, No. 2218 8th avenue, near 120th street, to a Mr. Farrian, for $28,000.

Edward and Henry Hirsch and Morris Steinhardt have purchased of the Comtesse de Montsaulhin the vacant block front on the west side of Amsterdam avenue, extending from 87th to 88th street. The plot is 201.4x225 including five lots adjoining on each street. Broker, F. Zittel. The buyers will doubtless follow their usual plan and resell the property in plots, with building loans for improvements.

F. Zittel has also sold for Builder John C. Umberfield the four-story stone front dwelling, 23x60, and extension x102.2, No. 5 West 75th street, to F. Burke, for $60,000, and for Builder John D. Taylor to L. Shirley Davis the three-story dwelling on lot, 20x100.11, No. 111 West 122d street.

L. J. Phillips & Co., conjointly with S. D. Ditchett, have sold for the estate of George H. Purser the plot, 100.11x250, on the southwest corner of Manhattan avenue and 119th street, to J. Allen Townsend.

Builder Paul B. Pugh, not George A. Fisher, as reported last week, is the buyer from Walker & Layson of the 100 foot plot on the south side of 94th street, 254.8 west of Columbus avenue. He is having plans prepared for three handsome double flats, with a frontage of 33.1 each, which will be erected on the plot.

NORTH SIDE.

Blewitt Bros. have sold the four-story brick flat, No. 537 East 153d street, to George E. Babcock.

LEASES.

Boehm & Coon have leased their proposed new building, Nos. 106 to 112 Spring street, southwest corner of Mercer, to the silk importing firm of Greeff & Co., now at No. 24 Greene street. Work will begin early next February on the building, which is to be a six-story structure specially adapted for the business of the lessees, with stories of unusual height, 85 feet in all. The term is five years from the completion of the building, which will be February 1, 1896, with a renewal privilege of five years more.

M. & L. Hess have leased for Builders Giblin & Taylor the new building to be erected on the plot Nos. 97 and 99 Charles street and 100 and 102 Perry street to the Dunlap Express Co., for a term of twenty-one years from the date of its completion, at a total rental of $170,000; and three lofts in the most southerly of the New York Commercial buildings, upon which work has been begun, on the northwest corner of Broadway and Washington place, to Max Ernst, for a term of five years at a gross rental of $75,000. Commissioner Guggenheimer, the owner of the last mentioned buildings, states that leases have been agreed upon up to date that represent an aggregate annual rental of $100,000.

Ludlow, Day & Co. have leased to the Standard Manufacturing Company, of Pittsburgh, Pa., the store in the Demorest Building, No. 8 East 42d street, for a term of five years.

OUT OF TOWN.

Newark, N. J.—Brown & Schlesinger have sold the Miles, and later, the James homestead, on the west side of High street, adjoining the inclined plane—to Weingarten Brothers, corset manufacturers, who will build an extensive plant, probably within a year. The plot has a frontage of 161 feet on High street and 162 along the canal. It was sold for $15,000. The same brokers have sold for Patrick Maher the Firemen's Hall, at Belleville, to A. F. Etzel, and a plot of lots on the Walper tract, on South 16th street and 14th avenue, to Aaron D. Thompson, of Plainfield.

DREDGING.—Alloway Creek, N. J.—Major C. W. Raymond, United States Engineer's office, No. 1428 Arch street, Philadelphia, Pa., will receive sealed bids until 11 o'clock A. M., January 18th, for constructing a pile dike and dredging in Alloway Creek, N. J.

Wilmington, Del.—William F. Smith, United States Agent, United States Engineer's Office, invites sealed bids, in triplicate, until 12 o'clock M., January 8th, for dredging and excavating upon the route of the inland waterway from Chichoteague Bay, Va., to Delaware Bay, Del.

Trade Notes.

At this season of the year, when there is so much giving of presents and embellishments of homes, articles of furniture naturally come to mind as combining beauty, suitability and durability, three imperative attributes of either a gift or an addition to a home. Those whose intentions turn in this direction, or who are undecided what to do, should not fail to visit the store of R. J. Horner & Co., No. 61 West 23d street, where a very extensive line of native and imported goods can be seen, including French cabinets, Vernis Martin mahogany and rosewood inlaid tables, best tables in oak and mahogany, Louis XIV and Louis XV curio cabinets, buhl tables in all sizes and styles, mahogany and Vernis Martin music cabinets and a special holiday novelty in the form of a mahogany manicure portfolio. Besides these there are smokers' sets, artistic screens in every variety, to say nothing of the parlor, dining-room and bedroom sets in endless styles and materials and extensive range of prices. The hand-carved Venetian furniture is worth a visit, if merely to see the artistic work of the modern wood-carver.

THE SEXTON CUT-OFF TRAP.

Leading plumbers, who always do reliable work, welcomed the introduction of a device which enabled them to apply a pressure test to house drains without leaving any part of same unconnected for that purpose. Hence the continued increasing demand for the Sexton Cut-Off Trap, which is the invention of a practical and successful plumber. It will save more than its cost in labor and material, saying nothing of its other advantages. The manufacturer, Michael Sexton, of No. 1115 3d av, will gladly send catalogue descriptive of the Sexton Cut-Off Trap to architects, builders and plumbers. The trap is for sale by all dealers in plumbers' supplies.

MORTGAGES.

—The arrangement of this list is as follows:
1. st name is that of the mortgagee, the next that of mortgagor. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at foot of this list.

REVIEW AND RECORD.

BROOKLYN, DECEMBER 29, 1894.

Notes Gathered Here and There.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday a resolution was adopted to place electric lights on Kingston avenue, from Fulton street to St. Marks avenue. The assent of the Board was asked by Commissioner White to the issue of $1,250,000 in water bonds for a new pipe conduit, force and distributing mains, etc., for the extension of the water supply. Mr. White stated that some months ago he asked for $2,500,000 for pumping stations, mains, etc., on account of which the Board authorized an expenditure of $750,000 for pumping stations and land. One of these pumping stations would begin to deliver water within the next week. Under the most favorable circumstances it might be possible to complete the construction of the pipe conduit and distributing mains during 1895. It was referred to the Water and Drainage Committee.

Another sale of property in arrears for taxes will be held by Registrar of Arrears Hinrichs on January 2d in Justice Neu's courtroom in the City Hall. The parcels are located in the 23d, 25th and 27th Wards. Thus far this year the Registrar has received for arrears $2,403,000, which is double the amount received in 1893.

Notice is given that the assessment for the cost and expense of constructing a sewer in 57th street, between 1st and 2d avenues, Map A, District No. 29, has been completed. The Commissioner of City Works will be in his office on the 3d day of January to hear objections to and correct errors in assessment.

The 16th Ward League of Loyal Citizens, at a recent meeting held at No. 121 Stagg street, voted in favor of a driveway extending from Brooklyn to Montauk Point. President Joseph Becker said that a concrete or macadamized boulevard, 200 feet wide, with 50-foot sidewalks, from some given point in this city, and running the entire length of Long Island, would cost about $20,000,000, and could be met by forty year bonds issued by the counties interested. He said that such a boulevard would be the means of building many towns through which it would run. Petitions outlining the idea have been ordered printed and will soon be circulated.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.
NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—In all essential particulars the market remains much the same as last week, although possibly a trifle firmer at the close. Of course the holiday and subsequent storm served as an impediment to continuous consumption, yet a pretty good-sized run of arrivals appears to have been handled without any great annoyance to receivers and a steady tone preserved on all really desirable goods. It is generally understood that a very good proportion of the quantity taken went into the hands that intend using them up as rapidly as weather conditions will admit, and there has also been a number of loads put away into winter quarters upon a calculation of better returns when supplies from primal points are shut off. In matter of cost on current dealings it has again proven somewhat difficult to exceed $5.75 on the average run of stock, but some of the best have realized 12½¢ @25¢ more, and now $6 is more generally talked of, owing to expectations of smaller supplies. The fall in temperature gives warning of an early embargo upon navigation, and even were the river to remain open the number of barges tied up here and those likely to be laid up on return trips would curtail shipping facilities. Pales are not much wanted, but good stock is appreciated and will command $2.25 possibly, $2.50 exceptionally.

CEMENT.—Down to the close of last week weather conditions were so open that not only did the consumption of domestic cement go on quite steadily, but the shipments from sources of supply were prolonged, especially from the river mills, where the facilities for transportation were naturally made the most of. This week's drop in temperature and the accompanying storm, however, are considered as practically bringing the season to a close, although, as usual in recent years, if it can be made to pay, shipments by rail are possible. Values are a trifle unsettled at present writing, but the natural tendency is toward greater strength, and $1 is probably as low as any of the first-class brands could now be reached, ex-wharf. It is found, according to reports from various sources, that the season has been a very irregular one. Some manufacturers report nearly normal production, but the majority compelled to work on greater or less short time, just as they could accumulate orders, and until the annual statement of production is announced it will be difficult to arrive at a fair conclusion regarding business as compared with the preceding year. Rates have been quoted unusually steady all the season, at the opening basis of 80¢ @90¢, but the conditions of trade made concessions frequent, and especially so on competitors for large contracts.

The manufacturers of domestic Portland do not, as a rule, find much reason to complain. The call for consumption is steadily increasing from a broadening territory, and the capacity of the factories is now so closely taxed that some of the leading manufacturers are pushing forward additions to their plants with as much rapidity as possible—certainly a pleasing feature in these times of general business unpleasantness.

In foreign cements there is some business under way, mostly taking form of contracts against regularly established brands, and for delivery during the early spring months. As a rule, however, there is as yet a measure of caution on part of both buyers and sellers, for while it is generally assumed that operations will be satisfactory there appears to be no necessity for hurry or impatience. Talking over the outcome of trade during the past season it is found that matters have not been as much demoralized as might naturally be expected, and for that matter agents for one or two of the leading brands have really handled a larger quantity of stock than during the preceding year, due probably to the rigid adherence to a high standard of quality, and upon the same basis they expect to maintain a good position during the incoming season. The consuming outlets for cement tend to expand rather than diminish, and if the general movement can reach a satisfactory average during such a season as we have just passed through it is reasonable to expect there will be a quick response to any new stimulating influence. The margin for profit did not figure as a conspicuous feature of the situation, even buyers who called for positively favorite brands, doing so with an intimation that they were to be treated with upon basis of open market values, which at times were quite low and apparently under parity of cost at primal points. The latter, however, is explained by the statement that while foreign manufacturers had a sort of agreement to support a value line for their home market, they were willing to negotiate on export orders for a trifle less money, and took the ground that with their plants all running the less was the cost of turning it out. The Belgian makes, while in some instances showing excellent quality, have as usual furnished the poorest grades, but in this connection it may be noted that there was evidence during the year of a more general tendency among both English and Continental makers to introduce adulterations, which should be promptly checked. The time has passed when this country can be made the dumping ground for inferior foreign cement, and brands to hold their own must not be allowed to swerve from the standard of quality upon which they established a reputation. Importers dealing with the Western trade have at times been puzzled by the fact that after paring down price to the lowest possible fraction in estimating upon tendered contracts, they have found themselves beaten by Canadian competitors, but it is finally understood to be a matter of weight. The recognized standard per barrel is 400 pounds, and probably all buyers enter into treaty upon that basis, but about all the low-priced goods delivered from Canada were found to show only 375 pounds or thereabout, and the milk in the cocoanut was at once accounted for. The Canadian importation for the season was 147,369 bbls., including 2,100 German, 57,547 Belgian and 87,722 English, and compares with 204,920 bbls., total import for 1893, a decrease of 57,551 bbls. There will be some decrease at this port for the year, and the unsold stock remaining on hand is comparatively small, although fair accumulations have been made at the West in anticipation of the spring trade. The stock in hand at this port December 1 was 12,832 bbls.

LATH.—The market has found further test and proven its stability, yet now and then receivers reveal slight disappointment because of failure to raise the hue of value. Considering the accumulation of supplies that dealers have made this season, however, and some of the large cargoes recently received, it should probably be considered a very good result to get rid of them without submitting to concessions. The range reported is at $2 @2.10, and the inside rate, it is intimated, was only accepted because the draught of vessels made it necessary to accept custom where proper docking facilities could be obtained, and buyers had to be allowed something for that advantage.

LIME.—There has certainly been no improvement, and whether the market is any worse or not it is simply impossible to decide. "Quotations" can be obtained without difficulty, but amid the flatly contradictory statements in regard to actual selling rate it becomes necessary to make a sort of rough guess at the figure, and of course whatever is named some one will object to. Possibly 85¢, per bbl, with discounts to suit the respective deals, would not be far out of the way. There have been a number of arrivals this week, which, added to the unsold lots on hand, make a supply quite plentiful enough for current wants.

LUMBER.—It has been an exceedingly quiet week under the natural seasonal influences, and the pith of the situation may be found in the stereotyped commercial expression, "dull and nominally unchanged." That will apply to both the retail and wholesale divisions of the market, the holiday having broken off yard trade to some extent and dealers not feeling in a mood to open negotiations on bulk lots although some of the coarser grades, if ready for prompt delivery, would have secured attention. A great deal more building lumber has passed into actual consumption during the past six or eight weeks than was expected, in consequence of the remarkably mild weather prevailing, and some dealers now not only wish they had put in a greater quantity of stock but are keeping a very sharp eye for any thing desirable that may happen to offer in way of desirable quality.

Especially is the chance of sale good for Eastern spruce of wide dimension, and receivers feel confident in ability to maintain a $16 basis on such goods without difficulty. They admit that really anxious buyers would be supplied with comparatively few cargoes, but claim to expect hardly a "few" cargoes and assert that even at higher rates manufacturers could not now furnish a supply if they so desired. Meanwhile West Virginia spruce is getting a considerable amount of attention, season of the year considered and manufacturers report a fair measure of satisfaction with the number of contracts they have booked. Most of the representative concerns are working under an agreement or understanding to maintain steady values and an advance of $1 per M has recently been made on 4x12 and above, but it is also understood that on 2x6 there was a modification of 50¢, from previous rates.

Carolina Pine has sold very well down to this week and a lull now is looked upon as only the development natural to the season of the year. Reports indicate some little irregularity on values, but manufacturers are bracing up somewhat and the general inclination among agents is to ask current freight charges, say, about $2.25 over the Norfolk list. The accumulations at primal points are said to be small, but can be increased if desired. On Hemlock, Yellow Pine and White Pine, there are no features suggested at the moment worthy of extended comment.

Hardwoods meet with light demand, but that is balanced by a very indifferent offering and an expression of confidence among operators regarding the general prospects for new year. Valuations are in consequence maintained at figures quite up to the average of what has for some time been asked and if business improves, as hoped for, an advance is predicted. A stronger effort will be made to push cypress during the coming year and there is likely to be a continued good sale for birch.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.
THE WEST.

The Northwestern Lumberman as follows:

The year closes with a meagre supply of lumber of all kinds in the hands of retail dealers and consumers. There are, of course, exceptions to this general statement, but it is believed that in the majority of instances the facts will substantiate the assumption. Retail dealers and consumers have bought lumber sparingly throughout the year, and only for immediate necessities. The surplus is at the mills and in the hands of wholesale dealers. Any revival of demand will draw heavily on these reserves, and soon cause an urgent inquiry in all parts of the country.

In white pine stock it has developed within a few weeks that there is a short supply of the common and better lumber, especially of that thicker than one-inch stuff which is used in the sash, door and interior finish factories. This condition of stock prevails from Lake Erie markets and Saginaw Valley to the Northwestern Wisconsin. Consequently there should be an early revival of demand and rising prices before the new year has far advanced. In fact, prices have already been marked up on blocks of stock in Wisconsin.

R. H. McElwee, secretary of the cargo market dock committee, of which R. K. Bickford is chairman, furnishes the Lumberman with the figures showing the total amount of lumber that has been sold through the commission houses at the market during the season just closed. The exhibit is as follows, offset by the totals of last year by way of comparison:

1894.	1893.
Lumber.....135,491,374	Lumber..... 69,745,380
Lath..... 22,039,052	Lath..... 10,187,000
Shingles.... 94,336,000	Shingles.... 57,956,000

It will be seen that 65,755,194 feet of lumber in excess of the total last year was sold through the market this year. There was also a large excess of lath and shingles.

Demand for all grades of poplar lumber is steadily increasing, and prices are firmer, although not much of an advance is anticipated until after the meeting of the Poplar Manufacturers' Association in January. At that time the situation will be carefully canvassed, and it is believed that the information brought out regarding shortage of stocks will immediately result in forcing prices well up toward the association list, which simply represents what mill men believe the stock is really worth.

Limited quantities of logs have come out of some of the streams, and a few of the mills are running, but stock now will hardly be ready for the market before April 1st.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman as follows:

Logging operations in the vicinity of Ashland appear to be more than usually active this winter, owing to the large amount of burned over timber that has got to be disposed of. Lumbermen of that district are planning on a good eastern trade next season.

The light fall of snow the past week in the logging districts was not sufficient to make good roads for hauling and loggers are still waiting for more of the "beautiful." They have had plenty of time to skid and are now desirous of hauling, but the weather prophet has not yet so decreed.

The lower house of congress has at last passed a bill regulating and protecting forest reservations. The measure has been the bone of contention for a long time, and charges of rascality have been made on all sides connected with it. Just before the bill passed Congressman Wells, of Wisconsin, intimated that there was crookedness behind it, but it went through just the same. It provides that no forest reservations shall be established except to improve and protect the forest within the reservation or for the purpose of securing favorable conditions of water flow. It gives the secretary of the interior authority to make regulations for protection against fire and depredation, and to prescribe regulations under which dead timber can be cut. Under such authority he is empowered to sell dead timber in limited quantities to cash purchasers.

Reports received at this office from the various lumber distributing points in the white pine region all speak of bright prospects for the future. Manufacturers are everywhere planning for an active season's work next year, believing that the worst is now over and that in the future the lumber trade as well as business in other lines will continue to improve. While retailers are not stocking up to any extent in anticipation of next year's demand, at the same time wholesalers are looking about for stock which they can buy up at nominal figures, and the number of buyers for eastern and Chicago houses that are to be found not only in this market but at the head of the lakes and in Wisconsin speaks well for the future of trade. The traveling salesmen have now come in from off the road for the holidays and the first holders of lumber are not pushing its sale. Buyers, however, are taking the place of the traveling men on the road and the mill men are being visited instead of the retail dealers.

Some grades are especially scarce and the close of the year sees an advance on these grades and lengths. Inch stuff, 12-foot lengths, is not plentiful in this market, while in Wisconsin there is an unusual scarcity of shop and select thick lumber. The scarcity that is noticed to-day will be much more marked with the increased requirements, after the first of the new year.

As has been stated, the mild weather is discouraging loggers. Snow and colder weather is needed in all sections of the pines. In some places a little snow fell the past week, but not sufficient to insure hauling, and loggers are still putting logs on skids and praying for colder weather and snow with the first of the year. Nevertheless, there is still time for sufficient logs to be put in this winter, and the open weather thus far may be more than made up for by favorable weather after the first of the new year.

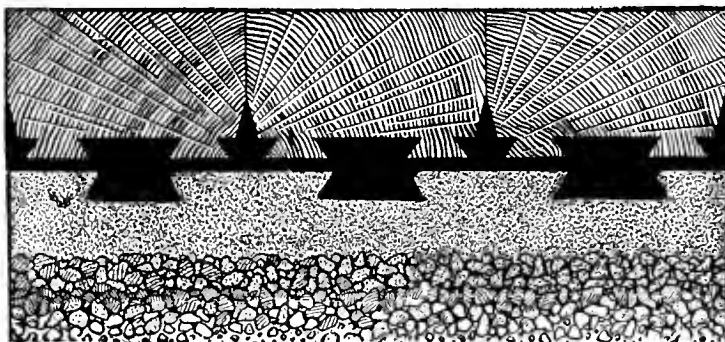

NAILS.—Business is not active, and has somewhat irregular development. There is a call, to moderate extent, for parrels to be delivered next year, wire nails getting most attention in that way, but as a rule buyers are unwilling to anticipate the future and many lines of custom have stopped purchases for the present. On general run of cost, about former figures are shown and they rule unusually steady. We quote Cut at 90c. a $1.00 per keg for car lots and $1.00 a 1.10 per keg for parrels from store for iron, and add 3c. per keg for steel; Wire, 90c. a $1.00 for car lots, and $1.10 a 1.20 from store.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC.—There is a great deal of irregularity all through the market as regards both demand and values, and very few operators are fully satisfied with conditions as they exist. The manufacturers and the jobbers are competing with each other in their respective lines, and the importer is expected to soon play a more important part upon the market, and buyers are just a trifle comprised over the outlook. Values generally appear low enough, and that serves to book a few contracts from time to time for next year's delivery of certain staple goods for which the productive capacity is small, yet there are no real fears of any important advances, and in many cases there appears an inclination to allow stock to remain in first hands and call for it in such parcels as may from time to time be required for running consumption. There is to be a more general effort among manufacturers to get prices upon some uniform basis, but it will probably prove a difficult matter until after the influence of competition from foreign goods has been tested. Linseed Oil just at the moment is a trifle slow of sale, but there is no reason to suppose that the business for the month will fall below the average, and operators entertain faith in ability to sustain steady rates on best quality of stock at least. We quote at 54 a 55c. for Western, 56 a 57c. for City from domestic seed and 56 a 57c. for do. from Calcutta seed. Spirits Turpentine has undergone no change in price worthy of notice, and business in general proved extremely dull with fair offerings of stock. Southern accounts unimportant. We quote at 27 1/2 a 28c. per gallon, according to quality, quantity, delivery, etc.

TAR AND PITCH.—A little irregularity in tone has been manifested. Here and there seems to be a holder feeling inclined to close out some odd lot of stock before end of year, in order to straighten accounts and that leads to modification of value, but on general range there is not much variation. We quote Tar at $2.00 a 2.15 in pine or Wilmington bbls., $2.75 a 3.00 in pork bbls., and $3.90 a 4.00 in oil bbls.; Pitch $1.50 a 1.70.

Appended quotations are based almost wholly upon prices obtained for goods from first hands.
Yard rates necessarily range much higher owing to the expenses attending sorting out and grading cargo and (even car lots), besides which must be added the cost of handling and carrying until consumers are ready to invest. Terms of sale also prove important factors, and altogether it is impossible to give a line of retail quotations thoroughly reliable in character.
